of the same Act it is prohibited to make re-assurance except in the cases therein mentioned: And whereas it is expedient to remove such restriction: BE IT ENACTED, That notwithstanding anything contained in the said Act, it shall be lawful to make re-assurance upon any ship or vessel, or upon any goods, merchandise or other property on board of any ship or vessel, or upon the freight of any ship or vessel, or upon any other interest in or relating to any ship or vessel which may lawfully be insured, and such re-assurances shall be deemed to be the insurance of interests which may lawfully be insured within the meaning of the Acts imposing stamp duties on policies of sea insurance: Provided always that if within three calendar months next after the termination of the risk on any policy of re-assurance application shall be made to the commissioners of inland revenue, and it shall be proved to their satisfaction that any such re-assurance as aforesaid has been made on the same property or interest and risk which shall have been previously assured to the same or some greater amount by one or more lawful and valid policy or policies existing at the time of making such re-assurance, and duly stamped for denoting the full and proper duties chargeable thereon, it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to make allowance for the stamp duty impressed on the policy of re-assurance in like manner as in the case of spoiled stamps on policies of insurance under the Act passed in the fifty-fourth year of the reign of king George the third, chapter one hundred and thirty-three (a); and the several provisions of the said Act, so far as they are applicable or can be applied, shall be observed and put in force with respect to the allowance of the stamps on the said policies of re-assurance.

27 & 28 Vict. c. 56.

Re-assurances of sea risks may lawfully be made.

On termination of risk and proof of prior assurance duly stamped, allowance to be made for stamp duty on policy of re-assurance.

2. Any bill of exchange payable on demand, which shall be endorsed out of the united kingdom, or purport to be so endorsed, wheresoever the same may have been drawn, shall for the purpose of charging the stamp duty thereon be deemed to be a foreign bill of exchange, but shall be chargeable with the same amount of stamp duty as an inland bill of exchange for the payment of money otherwise than on demand, according to the amount thereby made payable; and the provisions, regulations and penalties contained in the fifth section of the Act passed in the seventeenth and eighteenth years of her majesty's reign, chapter eighty-three, shall be deemed to apply to any such bill so endorsed or purporting to be endorsed as aforesaid as if the same were a bill drawn out of the united kingdom.

Bills of exchange payable on demand and endorsed abroad to be deemed foreign bills.

3. In lieu of the stamp duties now payable for or upon any letter or power of attorney for the receipt of dividends or interest of any of the government or parliamentary stocks or funds, or of the stocks or funds of the secretary of state in council of India, or of India promissory notes, or registered promissory notes, the interest of which is payable by bills of exchange, on the governments of India, Madras, and Bombay respectively, or of the stocks, funds, or shares of or in any joint stock company or other company or society whose stocks or funds are divided into shares and transferable, there shall be charged and paid for or upon such letter or power of attorney as aforesaid the following stamp duties; (that is to say,)

BE IT ENACTED, that the said stamp duties shall be charged and paid in respect of the value of any ship or any share of a ship belonging to any deceased person which shall be registered at any port in the united kingdom; notwithstanding such ship at the time of the death of the testator or intestate may have been at sea or elsewhere out of the united kingdom; and for the purpose of charging the said duties, such ship shall be deemed to have been at the time aforesaid in the port at which she may be registered.

5. No stamp duty shall be chargeable on any such probate, letters of administration, or inventory as aforesaid in any case where the whole estate and effects of the deceased person dying after the passing of this Act (exclusive of what he shall have been possessed of or entitled to as a trustee for any other person or persons, and not beneficially), shall be sworn not to exceed and shall not actually exceed in value the sum of one hundred pounds.

6. Whereas it is expedient that the duties now payable as stamp duties upon the licences hereinafter mentioned should for the future be and become payable as duties of excise: BE IT ENACTED, That on and from and after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, the duties now payable by law upon or in respect of the licences to be taken out in the united kingdom by persons carrying on the trades and businesses hereinafter mentioned, as described and defined by the several statutes relating to such licences and trades or businesses respectively; (that is to say,)

Extension to Ireland of certain provisions of Acts relating to brewers in Great Britain.

10. And whereas by the twenty-fifth section of an Act passed in the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh years of her majesty's reign, chapter thirty-three, it is enacted, that licences to be taken out for the sale of tobacco or snuff by innkeepers or persons licensed to sell beer to be consumed upon the premises after the fifth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, should expire on the 10th day of October next after the granting thereof, and it is expedient that such licences when granted to persons licensed to sell beer by retail not to be consumed on the premises, under an Act passed in the first year of the reign of king William the fourth, chapter sixty-four, and other Acts for the amendment thereof, should also expire on the said last-mentioned day: BE IT ENACTED, That all licences for the sale of tobacco or snuff, which after the passing of this Act shall be granted to persons licensed to sell beer as last aforesaid, shall expire on the tenth day of October next after the granting of the same.

27 & 28 Vict. c. 56.

Tobacco licences granted to persons who retail beer not to be consumed on premises to expire on 10th October in each year.

14. And whereas by the sixth section of the Act passed in the eighth year of her majesty's reign, chapter fifteen, it is enacted, that any auctioneer, having in force a licence on which the duty under the provisions of that Act has been paid, may sell by auction any property, goods or commodities mentioned in the said section without taking out any other licence in such respect: And whereas persons holding licences as auctioneers do under colour thereof carry on the business of dealers and traders in commodities for the dealing in and selling of which excise licences are by law required to be taken out, and it is expedient to alter and amend the law in this respect: BE IT ENACTED, That no licence taken out by any person to exercise or carry on the trade or business of an auctioneer shall authorise such person to deal in or sell, either on his own account or for his own benefit, or on account of or for the benefit of any other person, any commodities for the dealing in or selling of which an excise licence is required, except upon premises in respect of which the owner of such commodities shall have taken out and shall have in force at the time of the sale thereof the proper excise licence for the sale of such commodities: Provided that any such licensed auctioneer may sell by auction, by sample, in any town or place, any such commodities as aforesaid, if the owner thereof shall be duly licensed for the sale of such commodities in the same town or place; and provided also, that the commissioners of inland revenue may in their discretion authorise any licensed auctioneer to sell any such commodities by auction where they shall be satisfied that the said commodities are the property of a private person, and are not sold for profit or by way of trade; and if any person shall sell by auction any such commodities contrary to or otherwise than as allowed by this section, he shall incur the penalties imposed upon persons dealing in or selling such commodities without the excise licences required by law.

Auctioneers not to deal in or sell excisable commodities except upon licensed premises.

15. It shall be lawful for the lords commissioners of her majesty's treasury, if they shall see fit, and under such regulations, conditions, and limitations as they shall think proper, to authorise and direct the commissioners of inland revenue and their officers to receive postage stamps as and for payment of the respective taxes of Land Tax and Assessed Taxes and Income Tax, or any of them, which may become due or payable in Scotland or Ireland; and under such regulations as aforesaid, such postage stamps shall be delivered over to the postmaster-general or his officers, and the amount or value thereof be paid out of the revenue post office to the inland revenue, and accounted for as monies arising from the said taxes.

Postage stamps may be received in payment of taxes in Scotland and Ireland.

16. Whereas the stamp duty chargeable on the admission of any person to the degree of barrister-at-law in either of the inns of court in England is fifty pounds, and the stamp duty chargeable on the admission of any person to the like degree in the inns of court in Ireland is also fifty pounds, but of the latter sum ten pounds is payable to the treasurer of the society of King's Inns, to be applied as the society may direct: BE IT ENACTED, That where any person duly admitted to the said degree in Ireland, and having paid the full stamp duty chargeable thereon, shall be admitted as aforesaid in England, his latter admission shall be chargeable with the stamp duty of ten pounds only for the use of her majesty's revenue; and where any person duly admitted to the said degree in England, and having paid the full stamp duty chargeable thereon, shall be admitted as aforesaid in Ireland, his latter admission shall be chargeable with the stamp duty of ten pounds only for the use of the said society of King's Inns, to be paid over to the treasurer of the said society, and applied as directed or authorised by the statutes in that behalf.

Persons admitted barristers in England or in Ireland may be admitted in the other part of the united kingdom on payment of the stamp duty of 10*l.* only.

17. [Parts of certain stamp duties to be paid direct to the treasurer of King's Inns, Ireland, instead of into the Exchequer as heretofore.]

All the powers, provisions, clauses, regulations, forfeitures, pains, and penalties contained in or imposed by any Act or Acts relating to any duties of the same kind or description as the several rates or duties granted by this Act respectively, and in force at the time of the passing of this Act, and not hereby expressly repealed, shall respectively be in full force and effect with respect to the said rates and duties by this Act granted respectively, so far as the same are or shall be applicable, in all cases not hereby expressly provided for, and shall be observed, applied, enforced, and put in execution for and in the raising, levying, collecting, and securing of the said last-mentioned rates and duties, and otherwise in relation thereto, so far as the same shall not be superseded by and shall be consistent with the express provisions of this Act, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if the same had been herein repealed and specially enacted, mutatis mutandis, with reference to the rates and duties by this Act granted respectively.

Provisions of former Acts to apply to this Act.

19. [Taxes in Scotland may be paid by means of post office orders.]

ADDENDA ET CORRIGENDA.

Vol. 1, p. 23, ALEHOUSES, to 9 Geo. 4, c. 61, n. (c), add—Although justices have a discretion as to whether they will grant licences to persons keeping or about to keep inns, that discretion must be exercised in a reasonable manner; and therefore justices cannot by a general resolution determine not to renew the licences of all such persons who shall not consent to take out an excise licence for the sale of spirits in addition to the licence for the sale of beer (R. v. Sylvester; 2 Best & S. 322; 31 L. J. M. C. 93).

Vol. 1, p. 28, ——— to sect. 21, add—Upon a proceeding under this section, against an alehouse-keeper, for unlawfully and knowingly permitting divers persons of notoriously bad character to assemble and meet together in his house and premises against the tenour of his licence, such alehouse-keeper is not a competent witness, and cannot give evidence in his own behalf (Parker v. Green; 31 L. J. M. C. 133; 2 Best & S. 299).

Vol. 1, p. 34, ——— to schedule C. last line but 6, "Friday," add—See p. 387, n. (a), tit. "BEER."

Vol. 1, p. 62, AMENDMENT, to 15 & 16 Vict. c. 76, s. 222, n. (b), add—A judge at the trial has no power, under this section, to amend the proceedings by adding the wife as a defendant, in an action where the husband has been sued alone for a debt incurred by the wife dum sola (Garrard v. Giubilei, 31 L. J. C. P. 131; In error, Ib. 270; 10 C. B. N. S. 616).

This rule is extended to revenue causes (22 & 23 Vict. c. 21, s. 9).

Vol. 1, p. 63, ANIMALS, to 12 & 13 Vict. c. 92, sect. 2, add—A cock is an animal within the meaning of this section (Bridge v. Parsons, 2 B. & S. 382; 32 L. J. M. C. 95; Coyne v. Brady, 12 Ir. Law R. 577).

Vol. 1, p. 63, ——— to sect. 3, n. (d), add—It is no offence under this section to assist at a cockfight unless in a place kept or used for the purpose (Morley v. Greenhalgh, 32 L. J. M. C. 93; 3 B. & S. 374).

Vol. 1, p. 76, ANNUITIES, to 53 Geo. 3, c. 141, sect. 6, n. (a), add—See Foster v. Bonner, 8 L. T., N. S. 530).

Vol. 1, p. 77, ——— to sect. 10, n. (f), add—See Thompson v. Cartwright, 33 L. J. Ch. 234.

Vol. 1, p. 80, ARBITRATION, to 9 & 10 Will. 3, c. 15, n. (b), add—The enactments of the Bankruptcy and Common Law Procedure Acts providing in substance, that every submission to arbitration may, without agreement therein to that effect, be made a rule of court, have not the operation of bringing submissions which contain no such agreement within this Act, so as absolutely to exclude the jurisdiction of a court of equity (Smith v. Whitmore, 33 L. J. Ch. 218).

Vol. 1, p. 85, ARBITRATION, to 9 & 10 Will. 3, c. 15, s. 2, n. (b), add—The court of chancery has no jurisdiction to set aside an award made under a reference of an action, whether the same is or is not under this statute (Harding v. Wickham, 2 Johns. & H. 676).

Vol. 1, p. 90, ——— to 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 42, s. 39, n. (c), line 17, add—See In re Ward, 32 L. J. Q. B. 53.

Vol. 1, p. 108, ARREST, to 1 & 2 Vict. c. 110, s. 3, add—A defendant being about to leave this country, was arrested on a capias under this Act. The plaintiff had proved his debt in Scotland, under the Scotch Bankruptcy Act, and a warrant of protection had been granted to the defendant for a limited period, which had not elapsed when he was arrested:—it was held, that the defendant was not entitled to be discharged (Dutton v. Hally, 2 B. & S. 748; 9 Jur. N. S. 99).

Vol. 1, p. 113, ——— to 14 & 15 Vict. c. 52, s. 1, n. (b), add—The proceeding by warrant, under this Act is only auxiliary to that by capias, under 1 & 2 Vict. c. 110, and the validity of the capias is independent of the proceedings under the warrant. And where a defendant was arrested under a warrant, and discharged at the end of seven days, it was held, he might be arrested again on a capias issued under a judge's order made on a sufficient affidavit, although sworn before the lapse of the seven days (Masters v. Johnson expressly dissented from; Williams v. Gibbon, 33 L. J. Q. B. 33.)

Vol. 1, p. 113, ——— to sect. 1, add—Where a debtor is arrested on a warrant granted under this Act, and the last of the seven days after the date of such warrant is Good Friday, and the offices of the court are therefore closed until the following Wednesday, the creditor has such Wednesday to issue the writ of capias required by section 1 of the said Act (Hughes v. Griffith, 13 C. B. N. S. 324; 32 L. J. C. P. 47). Quære, whether a writ of capias issued after the time required by this Act, and upon the same materials as those on which the warrant had been obtained under that Act, can be supported as an independent writ, if the intention of the debtor to leave the country continues, ib.

A creditor who arrests his debtor under this Act, by virtue of a warrant obtained, but neglects to apply for a capias within seven days after the date of such warrant, does not thereby lose the right of causing a capias to be issued afterwards upon the same materials as those on which he obtained the warrant (Williams v. Gibbon, 12 W. R. 70; 9 L. T. N. S. 328—Q.B.).

Vol. 1, p. 137, ATTORNIES, to 6 & 7 Vict. c. 73, s. 6, add—The amount of stamp duty is to be determined by the place where the attorney or solicitor carries on his business (23 & 24 Vict. c. 127, s. 19).

Vol. 1, p. 146, ——— to sect. 26, add—The objection that the attorney is not duly qualified, and that a party to an action cannot, therefore, recover his costs, must be taken before the master on the taxation of costs, and, if not taken then, cannot afterwards be taken on a motion to set aside the taxation, unless the omission be satisfactorily explained (Fullalove v. Parker, 31 L. J. C. P. 239).

Vol. 1, p. 150, ——— to sect. 37, n. (e) add—A clerk to Improvement Commissioners under a local act, who is paid by a fixed salary, is not within this section (Bush v. Martin, 33 L. J. Ex. 17).

A solicitor delivered his bill of costs to his client, made out in double columns, one being the amount allowed on taxation, which he refused to accept when tendered. ; The client then paid the larger sum to obtain his papers, it was held, notwithstanding the payment, that he was entitled to an order to tax the bill, as he had been constrained to pay the larger sum by the refusal of the solicitor to accept what he himself had stated that he was legally entitled to (Ex parte Tosland, in re Letts, 31 Beav. 488; 32 L. J. Chanc. 100).

Vol. 1, p. 157, ATTORNIES, to 6 & 7 Vict. c. 73, n. (f), add—Monies specifically paid by a client to his solicitor for counsel's fees and stamps, are properly included in the solicitor's bill, in calculating the sixth on a taxation (In re Metcalfe, 30 Beav. 406).

Vol. 1, p. 183, ——— to sect. 28, add—The attorney for a successful litigant declared by the Court in which the action was brought to be entitled, pursuant to this sect., to a charge upon the property recovered through his instrumentality, for the amount of his taxed costs in the action, although the estate of his client (who had died since the action) was being administered in the Court of Chancery (Wilson v. Hood, In re Seaman, 33 L. J. Ex. 204; See Tardrew v. Howell, 3 Giff. 381).

Vol. 1, p. 235, BANKERS' DRAFTS, to 55 Geo. 3, c. 184, sect. 13, add—A draft payable to order is not rendered void by being post-dated; the provisions of this statute and 21 & 22 Vict. c. 20, being applicable only to drafts payable to bearer (Whistler v. Forster, 32 L. J. C. P. 161; 14 C. B. N. S. 248).

Vol. 1, p. 260, BANKRUPTCY, to 10 & 11 Vict. c. 102, add—This statute is repealed by 24 & 25 Vict. c. 134, schedule G.

Vol. 1, p. 262, ——— to 12 & 13 Vict. c. 106, s. 12, add—Under this sect. the time allowed for appealing must be calculated from the date of the decision or order, and not from the time of its being drawn up (Dudley and West Bromwich Banking Company, Ex parte, in re Hopkins, 9 Jur. N. S. 702; 32 L. J. Bank. 68).

Vol. 1, p. 264, ——— to sect. 27, n. (a), add—A registrar acting as the deputy of the commissioner under this sect., has power to grant orders of discharge in unopposed cases; and this power is not taken away by implication by sect. 52 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1861, nor by sect. 159 of the same Act. The order of discharge in such a case ought to be signed by the registrar, and not by the commissioner (Ex parte Lees, in re Emberton, 33 L. J. Bank. 25).

Vol. 1, p. 274, ——— to sect. 67, n. (c) 2, add—A trader, being pressed by two creditors, one of whom had a bill of sale on part of his property, and the other creditor an execution on the residue of his goods, applied to defendant to assist him, and in consideration of defendant agreeing to pay off the two creditors, assigned to defendant, by a bill of sale, all his estate and effects. Defendant paid off the creditors. It was held, the assignment was not an act of bankruptcy, as it was not an assignment in consideration of a past debt only, but an assignment in consideration of the assignee releasing the trader's property from a charge already laid upon it (Whitmore v. Claridge, 33 L. J. Q. B. 87).

Vol. 1, p. 276, ——— to sect. 67, n. add—An assignment, under pressure, by a trader to certain creditors, not of the whole of his property, but with a substantial exception, is not an act of bankruptcy (Smith v. Timms, 1 H. & C. 849; 32 L. J. Ex. 215; 7 L. T. N. S. 859.—Ex. Cham.).

A trader, by deed, after reciting that he was unable to pay his debts, conveyed real estate to a trustee, to pay all costs, charges, and expenses, already or hereafter to become due to his solicitor, and the professional charges of an accountant, and to apply the residue in payment of the debts of such of his creditors as should execute the deed rateably:—it was held, that it was an act of bankruptcy (Wensley, Ex parte, in re Wensley, 32 L. J. Bank. 23; 7 L. T. N. S. 548).

Vol. 1, p. 281, ——— to sect. 84, add—See Murray v. Arnold, 3 B. & S. 287; 9 Jur. N. S. 461.

Vol. 1, p. 284, ——— to sect. 98, n. (a), add—This section applies only where one member of a firm is bankrupt, and then another member of the firm is bankrupt, and not where there has been a dissolution of the partnership before any adjudication of bankruptcy has taken place, or where the fact of the partnership is a matter in dispute (Pearcey, Ex parte, in re Preston and Pearcey, 7 L. T. N. S. 758).

Vol. 1, p. 287, BANKRUPTCY, to 12 & 13 Vict. c. 106, s. 112, n. (h), add—The discretionary power given to the Court of Bankruptcy by this section, of releasing from prison a bankrupt who has been arrested for debt, is only to be exercised for the purpose of advancing the interests of the creditors under the bankruptcy, and is not given for the benefit of the bankrupt (Ex parte Stuart, re Waugh, 33 L. J. Bank. 4).

This section seems to apply to a bankrupt in custody under mesne process.

Vol 1, p. 307, ——— to sect. 133 add—See Bramwell v. Eglington, 33 L. J. Q. B. 130; post, n. to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 134, s. 103.

Vol. 1, p. 309, ——— to sect. 133, n. (c), add—Affirmed on appeal, 9 Jur. N. S. 201.

Vol. 1, p. 313, ——— to sect. 141, n. (d), add—Plaintiffs were assignees in bankruptcy of one K., who, at the time of the adjudication under which the plaintiffs were appointed, was already an uncertificated bankrupt. Plaintiffs sued defendant in trover for goods which K. had acquired after his first bankruptcy, and which he had fraudulently assigned to defendant. The assignees under the first bankruptcy did not in any manner interfere. It was held, the second bankruptcy was not void; that the title of the bankrupt to the property after acquired, which was good against every one except the assignees under the first bankruptcy, was transferred to the assignees under the second, and that the first assignees not having interfered, the second assignees were entitled to maintain this action (Morgan v. Knight, 33 L. J. C. P. 168).

The interest of a bankrupt in property given to him contingently on his obtaining his certificate passes to his assignees in like manner as any other contingent interest (Davidson v. Chalmers, Perry v. Chalmers, 33 L. J. Ch. 622, M. R.).

Vol. 1, p. 324, ——— to sect. 162, n. (e), add—The power to adjourn a bankrupt's last examination sine die, is not to be used for the purpose of indirectly defeating the bankrupt's right to an order of discharge in cases where the order could not be directly refused under section 159 of the Act of 1861 (Ex parte Grummitt, in re Grummitt, 33 L. J. Bank. 43).

Vol. 1, p. 336, ——— to sect. 181, n. (a), add—The defendants' costs, where, although the verdict be given before, the judgment is not obtained until after the plaintiff has become bankrupt, are not proveable under such bankruptcy (Oxlade v. North-Eastern Rail. Co., 33 L. J. C. P. 171).

Vol. 1, p. 338, ——— to sect. 184, n. (a), add—A judgment creditor suing out a writ of sequestration is not within this definition (Hopkins v. Clarke, 33 L. J. Q. B. 93).

Vol. 1, p. 338, ——— to sect. 184, n. (e), add—An execution against the goods of a debtor who afterwards becomes bankrupt, must, in order to be available against his assignees, be levied by seizure and sale of the goods before the date of the fiat or filing the petition for adjudication under this section and sect. 133 (Young v. Roebuck, 32 L. J. Exch. 260; 8 L. T. N. S. 453, Exch.).

Vol. 1, p. 344, BANKRUPTCY, to 12 & 13 Vict. c. 106, sect. 211, add—An order for the protection of the property of a trader under this section does not operate to disentitle a judgment creditor to the benefit of a fi. fa. levied by seizure of the goods of the trader before the presentation of his petition (Bottomley v. Heyward, 7 H. & N. 562; 31 L. J. Exch. 500).

Vol. 1, 346, ——————— to sect. 233, add—This section applies to civil matters only, and in criminal prosecutions against a bankrupt, formal proof of the trading and other requisites must be given (Reg. v. Lyons, 9 Cox, C. C. 299, Martin B.).

Vol. 1, 368*d*, ——————— to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 134, sect. 74, add—A sheriff is not entitled to deduct the expenses of advertising a sale by public auction of an execution debtor's effects, seized under a fi. fa., although the debt or damages exceed 50*l*., and this section renders it imperative on the sheriff in such case to advertise and sell by auction (Braithwaite v. Marriott, 1 H. & C. 591; 7 L. T. N. S. 363; 32 L. J. Exch. 24).

Vol. 1, p. 368*k*, ——————— to sect. 90, n. (a), add—Where a company has been ordered to be wound up, the relation of debtor and creditor is, as a general rule, not constituted between a contributory and the official manager until a call is made; and consequently a call made after the passing of this Act, is, in the absence of special enactments as to its legal effect, a sufficient petitioning creditor's debt to support an adjudication in bankruptcy against a contributory who is a non-trader. Secus, where the winding-up is under the Companies' Act, 1862, in which case having regard to sect. 75 of the Act, the call will be held to be a debt accrued due at the time when the contributory executed the deed of settlement, and therefore not to constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt, if in fact a deed of settlement was executed by the contributory previously to the passing of this Act (Ex parte Harding, in re Williams, and Ex parte Canwell, in re Vaughan, 33 L. J. Bank. 26).

Vol. 1, p. 368*m*, ——————— to sect. 103, add—This section has reference to sections 98 and 99, and therefore where a debtor was arrested under a ca. sa. and lodged in prison, and he afterwards petitioned in formâ pauperis and was brought before the county court and adjudicated a bankrupt under sections 98 and 99, the adjudication relates back to the date of the committal to prison, and goods which were then in the order and disposition of the bankrupt, with the consent of the true owner, though taken possession of by him before the adjudication, passed to the bankrupt's assignees (Bramwell v. Eglington, 33 L. J. Q. B. 130).

This section makes the adjudication relate back to the commitment or detention absolutely, and not merely as an Act of Bankruptcy. Sect. 133 of 12 & 13 Vict. c. 106, affords no protection in such case (Ib.).

Vol. 1, p. 368*n*, ——————— to sect. 110, n. (a), add—It is the duty of the commissioner when applied to by a bankrupt for his discharge under the circumstances mentioned in this section, to be judicially satisfied, before granting it, that the bankrupt has made full discovery of his estate (Ex parte Jones, re Wilson, 33 L. J. Bank. 11).

Vol. 1, p. 368*g*, ——————— to sect. 136, add—A trustee under a deed of trust stands in the same relation to the creditors that an assignee does, under an adjucation, to creditors who have proved under a bankruptcy, and he is bound to submit to the examination required by this sect. (Beale, In re, ex parte Lawrence, 9 Jur. N. S. 835; 32 L. J. Bank. 61).

Vol. 1, p. 368*g*, ——————— to sect. 137, add—This section does not authorise the sale of the books of a solicitor who has become bankrupt (Ex parte Roberts, re Holden, 33 L. J. Bank. 8).

Book debts in this section are such debts accruing in the ordinary course of a man's trade as are usually entered in the trade books (Shipley v. Marshall, 14 C. B. N. S. 566; 32 L. J. C. P. 258).

Vol. 1, p. 368*s*, ——————— to sect. 152, n. (a), add—See Ex parte Elmes, in re Hughes, 33 L. J. Bank. 23.

Vol. 1, p. 368*s*, ——————— to sect. 153, n. (b), add—This section, authorising proof in respect of a claim for unliquidated damages, applies only where there has been a breach of contract previously to adjudication (Ex parte Mendel, re Moor, 33 L. J. Bank. 14).

The date of a trust deed in the form set out in Schedule D is that of the supposed adjudication to which S. 197 refers (S. C., 1 De G. J. & S. 330).

Vol. 1, p. 368*t*, ——————— to sect. 159, n. (a), add—This section is not retrospective, and an offence created by this clause must, in order to justify the refusal or suspension of the order of discharge, have been committed subsequently to the passing of the act (Ex parte White, in re White, 33 L. J. Bank. 22).

Vol. 1, p. 368*t*, ——————— to sect. 159, add—The primary consideration of the Court of Bankruptcy should be for the benefit and satisfaction of the civil rights of the creditors, and not the satisfaction of any personal injury; and no moral consideration not belonging to the jurisdiction of the judge ought to influence the nature or amount of a sentence passed by him on the bankrupt. Though the bankrupt may have committed acts for which he is liable to imprisonment, yet if they are not acts for which the Court is in the habit of awarding imprisonment, no amount of moral misconduct not coming within that section can be called in aid to justify such a sentence. Semble—where a debt originates in special circumstances, and is contracted with a view to a special emergency, and is not attributable to the ordinary expenditure and style of living of the bankrupt (as where the bankrupt has borrowed money for his defence to a suit in the Divorce Court), it ought not to be taken into account in estimating whether he has contracted debts without reasonable ground of expectation of being able to pay the same. Nor can damages recovered against the bankrupt in the Divorce Court be considered as a debt so contracted (Ex parte Griffiths, in re Griffiths, 33 L. J. Bank. 44).

Vol. 1, p. 368*u*, BANKRUPTCY, to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 106, s. 159, n. (c), add—A bankrupt accepted accommodation bills without consideration, to an amount far beyond his means or expectations, for a firm in large business, to whom he was under considerable obligations, and whom he believed to be perfectly solvent; and it was held, affirming the decision of the commissioner, that his conduct amounted to a contracting of debts without reasonable or probable ground of expectation of being able to pay the same within this section (Ex parte Barker, re Barker, 33 L. J. Bank. 13).

Vol. 1, p. 368*v*, ———— to sect. 159, (3), n. (d), add—Where a bankrupt had entered into contracts from which he was to derive pecuniary advantages, on the formation of a company of which he was the promoter, but which company became defunct, by reason of the necessary capital not having been subscribed, it was held that he had not been guilty of embarking in a rash and hazardous speculation, within the meaning of this section (Dowman, ex parte, in re Dowman, 9 Jur. N. S. 811; 32 L. J. Bank. 49).

Vol. 1, p. 368*v*, ———— to sect. 159, (3), add—An action founded on tort is not an action to recover money due within the meaning of this Act, and a vexatious defence to such an action is therefore no ground for refusing the order of discharge (In re Mew and Thorne, adhered to; Ex parte Crabtree, 33 L. J. Bank. 38).

Vol. 1, p. 368*aa*, ———— to sect. 192, n. (a), add—A. and B. after trading as copartners, dissolve partnership, and subsequently execute separate deeds of composition, joint creditors of the partnership cannot (in the absence of proof of the existence of joint estate), object to the deeds as not binding on them, on the ground of their not being executed by a proper majority of joint creditors. An assignment or surrender of the debtor's estate is not necessary for the validity of a deed of composition or release, but to render such a deed binding on the minority of creditors, who have not executed or assented to or approved of it, it is necessary that they should stand under the deed in the same situation and with the same advantages as the creditors forming the majority (Ex parte Cockburn, in re Smith, 33 L. J. Bank. 17).

A composition-deed contained a clause "that no creditor who should have executed or otherwise acceded thereto, should negotiate any bills of exchange or other negotiable instruments on which the debtor was liable, without having first indorsed thereon a memorandum of the execution of or other accession to the deed by such creditor." It was also agreed and declared by the deed, "that each of the creditors who should have executed or otherwise acceded to or be bound by it, should not, nor should their respective heirs, executors, or administrators, or partners or assigns, at any time commence or prosecute any action or suit, or obtain any adjudication of bankruptcy against the debtor." This deed was held void as against non-executing creditors, the above conditions being unreasonable. And it was also held that the deed was not helped by a general clause, that "the deed was intended to operate as a composition-deed under section 192 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1861, and that if there was anything therein not authorised by the Act to be introduced into a composition deed, such unauthorised thing should be obligatory upon those persons only who should have executed the deed," for the effect of such a clause would be to put assenting and dissenting creditors on a different footing (Hidson v. Barclay, 33 L. J. Ex. 273).

A deed of inspectorship is not bad merely because it contains such provisions as the following, no one of which is unreasonable: (1.) That the proceeds of the debtor's estate be first applied to the payment of all costs, &c. incurred, or to be incurred, in or relating to his suspension of payment, &c., the costs of the deed, and of carrying the same into effect. (2.) That every creditor, before being entitled to a dividend, shall, if required by the inspectors, deliver a statement in writing of his claim, with all the particulars usual in a proof of bankruptcy. (3.) That when any dividends shall be made before all the creditors have executed or assented to the deed, a sufficient sum shall be set apart for paying the dividends of such creditors, and also the dividends of creditors whose debts have not been ascertained; and that, if no such sum be set apart, then such creditors shall receive dividends out of the first monies applicable thereto, not disturbing former dividends. (4.) That the deed shall be binding on creditors executing, assenting to, or approving of it, though it cannot operate as a deed of inspectorship under the statute. (5.) That the estate and effects of the debtor shall be administered on the principles of the Bankruptcy Laws, and the rights of the creditors dealt with and regulated on the same principles; and that anything in the deed to the contrary may be treated as expunged (Strick v. De Mattos, ib. 276; see also Dewhurst v. Jones, ib. 294).

By a composition deed between a debtor of the first part, his surety of the second part, and the several persons, creditors, whose names and seals were set and affixed to the schedule, and all other the creditors of the debtor, of the third part—reciting that the creditors, parties to the deed of the third part, did approve of the debtor's proposal to pay his creditors a composition of 7*s.* 6*d.* in the pound, by two instalments, secured by the surety, and that bills of exchange drawn by the surety upon and accepted by the debtor had been delivered to the creditors—it was witnessed that the creditors, parties thereto of the third part, covenanted with the debtor that unless and until default should be made in meeting the said bills the creditors would not sue or molest the debtor; and further that if any of them the said creditors should break or contravene the said covenant, then the debtor and his estate and effects should be thenceforth absolutely released and discharged from all and singular the debts, claims, and demands of the creditor, and the deed should operate as a refeasance pleadable in bar, or might be otherwise set up as a defence to any action theretofore or thereafter brought by such creditor. It was held, the last-mentioned covenant vitiated the deed; and that it was no answer to an action by a non-executing creditor for the amount of his debt (Dell v. King, 33 L. J. Exch. 47. See Feltham v. Cudworth, 32 L. J. Bank. 37; Ilderton v. Castrigue, 14 C. B. N. S. 99; 32 L. J. C. P. 206; Berridge v. Abbott, 13 C. B. N. S. 507; S. P. Copeman v. Hart, 14 C. B. N. S. 91; Devehurst v. Kershaw, 1 H. & C. 726; Inglebach v. Nichols, 14 C. B. N. S. 85).

A plea by way of equitable defence, that after the accruing of plaintiff's claim he was indebted to plaintiff and divers other persons, and that a deed was made and entered into by and between defendant of the one part, and the several persons creditors of defendant who should execute the same of the other part, relating to the debts and liabilities of defendant and his release therefrom. The deed, after reciting that defendant, being unable to pay his debts in full, had applied to the undersigned creditors to receive a composition of 2*s.* 6*d.* in the pound, it went on: "Which we, the several creditors signing these presents, have agreed to do, and being a majority in number representing three-fourths in value of the creditors of the said (defendant) whose debts respectively amount to 10*l.* and upwards, have agreed to accept such composition as aforesaid, and in consideration thereof, and on payment thereof, or whenever thereafter called upon for the purpose, hereby severally undertake and agree to execute to the said (defendant) a good and sufficient release of our several and respective claims and demands upon him." The plea then averred that a majority representing three-fourths in value of the creditors of defendant, whose debts respectively amounted to 10*l.* and upwards, did in writing assent to and approve of the execution of the said deed; and that plaintiff was bound thereby as if he had been a party thereto, and had duly executed the same. It was held, in accordance with Hodgson v. Wightman, 32 L. J. Exch. 147, that the deeds sufficiently showed that it was intended to be an arrangement between the debtor and the whole body of his creditors, and that the remedy given to the creditors who executed the deed was not greater than that which was given to those who did not. Also, that the deed was good, although it did not contain any cessio bonorum (Clapham v. Atkinson, 33 L. J. Q. B. 81.

A composition-deed, expressed to be made between the debtor of the first part, and the several persons creditors of the said debtor, whose names and seals were thereto affixed of the second part, witnessed that the said several creditors parties of the second part covenanted that if the debtor paid to each of the said several creditors parties of the second part a composition of 2*s.* 6*d.* in the pound, the same should operate as a release and discharge in full from all debts due to the said creditors parties thereto. It was held in the Exchequer Chamber (Blackburn, J., dubitante) that the deed was not valid within this section, as it did not provide for all the liabilities of the debtor, or for paying a composition to all the creditors (Ilderton v. Jewell, 33 L. J. C. P. 148).

A deed of assignment of a debtor's property to a trustee for the benefit of creditors and which was registered under this Act, contained a clause empowering the trustees to require the amount of any debt to be verified by declaration, or in such other manner as to such trustee should seem expedient, and in the event of any creditor refusing or failing so to verify his debt, such creditor was to lose all benefit under the deed. It also contained a covenant by the creditors not to sue the debtor, and if any creditor should do so, that then the debtor should be discharged from all debts and demands of the creditor by whom he should be so sued, and that the deed might be pleaded in bar as a release for that purpose; and it further contained a proviso empowering the trustee to pay in full those creditors whose debts were under 10*l.*, or to make such arrangement with them as might be deemed expedient. It was held, the above clause and covenant were each unreasonable, and that the proviso provided for an unequal distribution of the property amongst all the creditors, and that these vitiated the whole deed as against a non-executing creditor (Leigh v. Pendlebury, 33 L.J. C.P. 172; Chapman v. Atkison, 33 L. J. Q. B. 81; Dingwell v. Edwards, 33 L. J. Q. B. 161; Ex parte Spyer, in re Josephs, 32 L. J. Bank. 63; S. C., 1 De G. J. & S. 318).

A deed, by which a debtor assigned all his estate to trustees for benefit of creditors, and otherwise satisfying the conditions of this section, contained a clause, "that all creditors to whom bills or other negotiable instruments might have been given by the debtor for debts due to such creditors, should indemnify the debtor and his estate against all claims or demands by other persons than themselves in respect of such bills or instruments, and all losses, damages, and costs by reason or in respect thereof; and should if any such bills had been indorsed or transferred to any other persons take the same up and retire the same before or when they should become due, and so as to prevent any claim or demand in respect thereof being made upon the debtor or his estate. It was held, this was an unreasonable clause, and not binding upon a non-assenting creditor; therefore that the deed was void and of no effect as a deed under this section (Baldwin v. Pell, 33 L. J. Q. B. 200).

As to pleading such deed, see Wells v. Hacon, 33 L. J. Q. B. 204.

A deed of arrangement under this Act, not on its face purporting to release the debts, cannot be pleaded in bar to an action, and defendant can only avail himself of such deed by an application to the Court of Bankruptcy, or, after judgment, to a court of law to stay execution (The Ipstones Park Iron Ore Co. Lim. v. Pattinson, 33 L. J. Ex. 193).

Vol. 1, p. 368*bb*, BANKRUPTCY, to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 134, s. 192, n. (a), add—Accord. Turquand v. Moss, 33 L. J. C. P. 355.

M., the alleged bankrupt, had contracted with H. & B. for the purchase of a quantity of wine, subject to a stipulation that they were not to be obliged to deliver it before payment of a bill of exchange held by them. M. afterwards executed a deed of composition; and in the schedule filed in pursuance of the General Order of May, 1862, the debt set opposite the names of H. & B., who were assenting creditors, included the price of the wine which was not yet delivered. It was held, H. & B. were entitled to sign the deed as unsecured creditors to the amount of the unpaid purchase-money, and that by so doing they released their right to insist upon the retention of the wine until the bill should be paid. In estimating whether the deed has been assented to by the proper majority in number and value of the creditors, all the creditors and debts returned in the schedule must be taken into consideration, whether such debts are disputed or not (Ex parte Middleton, in re Middleton, 33 L. J. Bank. 36; see King v. Randall, 14 C. B. N. S. 721).

Vol. 1, p. 368*bb*, ———————, to ss. 192-194, add—A trust deed in the form given in schedule D. of this Act, and registered, &c., according to section 192, though not assented to by the prescribed majority of creditors, is (by virtue of the 194th and 197th sections) subject to the jurisdiction of the Court of Bankruptcy (Symons v. George, 33 L. J. & S. 330).

After the execution and registration of a statutory composition-deed, all creditors, whether assenting or not, are placed in the same position as creditors who have proved under a bankruptcy, and they are entitled to examine the debtor, though the object of the examination may be to invalidate the deed. But, semble, where a creditor holds the debtor in prison, or seeks to withdraw property, or to withhold property that is claimed, from the influence of the trust deed, he ought not to be allowed to examine the debtor without submitting himself to the jurisdiction of the Court (Ex parte Brooks, in re Brooks, 33 L. J. Bank. 42).

Vol. 1, p. 368*hh*, ———————, to sect. 221, add—A count of an indictment, laid under this section, charged that defendant was adjudged bankrupt in the Liverpool District Court of Bankruptcy, and that, "upon his examination in the said Court, with intent to defraud his creditors, he did not fully and truly discover to the best of his knowledge and belief all his property, to wit, all his personal property in money and goods; and did not, as to part of his property, fully and truly discover, to the best of his knowledge and belief, how and to whom and for what consideration and when he had disposed of, assigned, or transferred such part thereof, to wit, 1,000*l.*, 1,000 sacks of corn, 10 horses," &c. The defendant having been found guilty on this count, and having brought a writ of error, it was held, that, at all events after verdict, the account was good; that the offence being charged in the words of the statute, any want of particularity was cured, after verdict, by 7 Geo. 4, c. 64, s. 21; and that if the count charged two offences, duplicity was not ground of error (Nash v. the Queen, 33 L. J. M. C. 94).

Vol. 1, p. 377, BEER, to 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 83, s. 7, line 2, "all houses," add—An alehouse keeper licensed under this Act to sell beer to be drunk in his house, and on the premises thereunto belonging, is liable to a penalty under this section, if he refuse to admit a police officer to an outhouse in the yard belonging to the house, though only used as a cellar. For a second offence of refusing to admit the police, a beerhouse keeper is liable only to the punishment of disqualification from selling beer for two years, and not to a fine as well as disqualification (R. v. Tott, 30 L. J. M. C. 177).

Vol. 1, p. 379, ——— to sect. 17, line 3, "or premises," add—Where it appeared before the justices that the beer sold was drunk by the customer whilst sitting on a bench placed outside the door of the alehouse. The bench touched the wall of the house, but there was no proof whether it was fixed or not; though there was evidence that it had been there for some time, and for the purpose of being used by the customers of the beershop-keeper to sit and drink beer on. It was held, upon this evidence, the justices were justified in considering that the bench was part of the premises of the beershop, and that, therefore, the conviction was right (Cross v. Watts, 13 C. B. N. S. 239; 32 L. J. M. C. 73).

Vol. 1, p. 386, BEER, to 11 & 12 Vict. c. 49, sect. 1, n. (a), add—It is an offence to open a public-house for the sale of beer before half-past twelve in the afternoon on Sunday to any person not being a traveller. The statute is not repealed (R. v. Senior, 33 L. J. M. C. 125).

Vol. 1, p. 417, BILLS OF LADING, to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 111, s. 1, add—The meaning of this section is that the assignee of the bill of lading who receives the cargo shall have all the rights and liabilities of the contracting party, but that if he assigns the bill of lading before the arrival of the cargo, he parts with all such liabilities (Somerthwaite v. Wilkins, 31 L. J. C. P. 214).

Vol. 1, p. 417, BILLS OF SALE, to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 36, s. 1, n. (d) add—In a bill of sale the grantor was described as "James Robert Veal, of No. 25, Bernard Street, Russell Square, in the county of Middlesex, gentleman." The description of his residence was correct, but he was in reality at the time of giving the bill of sale in the employ of C. & Co., of Watling Street, in the city of London, as a buyer of silk. It was held, the bill of sale was invalid by reason of this description being incorrect (Adams v. Graham, 33 L. J. Q. B. 71; Banbury v. White, 32 L. J. Ex. 259).

The affidavit must contain a description of the residence and occupation of the maker at the time of making the bill, and not at the time of filing the affidavit. Where, however, the affidavit used the words, "is a gentleman," which was a correct description at the time of making the bill of sale, but not at the time of filing the affidavit, the court held, that the word "is" related back to the time of making the bill (The London and Westminster Loan and Discount Company v. Chace, 12 C. B. N. S. 730; 31 L. J. C. P. 314; see Gray v. Jones, 14 C. B. N. S. 743).

Vol. 1, p. 418, BILLS OF SALE, to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 36, s. 1, n. (g), add—A bill of sale is not invalid in consequence of not having been filed within twenty-one days, if the goods referred to in it are seized within the twenty-one days (Banbury v. White, 32 L. J. Exch. 258).

Vol. 1, p. 419, ——— to sect. 7, add—It seems that to come within this proviso the bill of sale must be for the benefit of ALL creditors (The General Furnishing Co. v. Venn, 32 L. J. Ex. 220).

Assignment for the benefit of creditors held on the face of it to be a deed for the benefit of all creditors; and therefore exempt from registration by this section as an assignment for the benefit of the creditors (Ib.).

Vol. 1, p. 420, ——— (STAMP), to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 91, sect. 34, add—The registration of a bill of sale is not avoided because the stamp is insufficient at the time of registration. The defect may be cured by having the proper stamp affixed afterwards (Bellamy v. Sault, 32 L. J. Q. B. 366).

Vol. 1, p. 435, BUILDING ACTS, to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 122, s. 3, n. (c), add—Although a tenant in the occupation of premises under an agreement, not under seal, for a longer period than three years, is at law only a tenant from year to year, yet the agreement being enforceable in equity as an agreement for a lease, he is entitled, as an adjoining owner, to be served with a proper notice of the works intended to be executed by the building owner (Cowen v. Phillips, 9 Jur. N. S. 657; 11 W. R. 706; 8 L. T. N. S. 622—R.).

Vol. 1, p. 437, ——— to sect. 9, add—Before this Act a communication had been made between two old houses, Nos. 66 and 67, in the same occupation, by openings in the party-wall. After the Act came into operation, it was sought to make a communication between No. 66 and the house adjoining on the other side, by openings in the wall separating the two. These two houses taken together contained less than 216,000 cubic feet, but if Nos. 66 and 67 were to be considered as one building within sect. 28, then such building and the third house, taken together, contained more than 216,000 cubic feet:—Held, that Nos. 66 and 67 were to be considered as one building for the purpose, and that the making the communication was an alteration of an old building within this section (Ashby v. Woodthorp, 12 W. R. 209; 9 L. T. N. S. 409—Q. B.).

Held, secondly, that evidence was admissible to show whether the wall separating No. 66 and the house with which the communication was to be made, was a party-wall or a cross-wall (Ib.).

Held, thirdly, that in making such communication the rules in sect. 28 were obligatory (Ib.).

Vol. 1, p. 441, ——— to sect. 30, add—The rules contained in this Act, for the construction of buildings, do not apply to public buildings such as churches; but such public buildings are to be constructed in such manner as may be approved of by the district surveyor, subject, in the event of disagreement, to the determination of the Metropolitan Board of Works (R. v. Carruthers, 33 L. J. M. C. 107).

Vol. 1, p. 450, BUILDING ACTS, to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 122, s. 97 (5) add—A tenant who has been compelled by the building owner to pay the proportion of the expenses of a party wall or structure, the adjoining owner may maintain an action against his landlord to recover the sum so paid, and is not bound (though entitled) to deduct it from rent due or accruing due (Earle v. Maughan, 14 C. B. N. S. 626; 11 W. R. 911; 8 L. T. N. S. 637).

Vol. 1, p. 461, CANALS, to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 28, s. 1, add—Defendants, a canal company, were incorporated by a local and personal Act, which provided that the rates charged by the company of proprietors for the carriage of coal and other merchandise should be equal throughout the whole length of the canal. Defendants having imposed a charge of a penny a ton per mile for all coal conveyed upon their canal, together with an additional rate of one halfpenny a ton for all coal conveyed a less distance than five miles, it was held, defendants might lawfully impose such charges on plaintiffs, and at the same time charge only three farthings a ton per mile for coals conveyed by them for others over a distance less than five miles, such persons having agreed to secure to the defendants a fixed minimum of tolls (Strick v. the Swansea Canal Co., 33 L. J. C. P. 240).

Vol. 1, p. 468, CARRIERS, to 11 Geo. 4 & 1 Will. 4, c. 68, s. 1, n. (d), add—The question whether an article is of the description mentioned in this Act is a question of fact for a jury. Elastic silk webbing, which is a woven fabric composed of one-third silk and two-thirds of india-rubber and cotton, the silk being the most valuable of the materials, and which is called in the trade "silk web," as distinguished from cotton web, is within the definition in the Act of "silks wrought up with other materials" (Brunt v. The Midland Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Exch. 187).

Vol. 1, p. 469, ——— to sect. 2, n. (c), add—affirmed in error (31 L. J. Exch. 299).

Vol. 1, p. 487, CHARITABLE USES, to 9 Geo. 2, c. 36, n. (a), last line, add—See Graham v. Paternoster, 31 L. J. Ch. 444; Re Beaumont's Trust, 32 Beav. 191.

Vol. 1, p. 488, ——————— to sect. 1, n. (a), add—A bequest to print, publish, and propagate the works of a particular author is within the 43 Eliz. c. 4; but so far as it is out of real estate it is void under this statute (Thornton v. How, 31 L. J. Ch. 767; Graham v. Paternoster, Ib. 444).

Vol. 1, p. 489, ——————— to sect. 1, n. (c), add—A small piece of land was granted by deed (duly executed and enrolled), for a charitable purpose, which could only be carried into effect by funds being provided for the purpose. The deed itself was allowed to remain in the possession of the grantor, whose managing bailiff manured and mowed the land (as he did other land of the same kind belonging to the grantor, and either rented by himself or managed by him as bailiff), and the hay obtained from it was carried to the grantor's stables and there consumed. The funds necessary for carrying into effect the purpose of the deed were provided by the will of the grantor:—Held, that these circumstances did not show the existence of a reservation or condition for the benefit of the grantor such as would avoid the deed (Fisher v. Brierley, 10 H. L. Cas. 159; 9 Jur., N. S. 313; 32 L. J. Ch. 281; 11 W. R. 404; 8 L. T. N. S. 37).

There was no provision in the deed for appropriating in any way the produce of the land or the rent it might fetch during the interval between the date of the deed and the time when its provisions might be carried into effect:—Held, that this did not constitute a resulting trust, as to avoid the deed (Ib.).

Vol. 1, p. 490, CHARITABLE USES, to 9 Geo. 2, c. 36, s. 2, n. (a), add—See Burnaby v. Barsby, 4 Hurl. & N. 690.

The interest which a testator has in the proceeds of the sale of land directed by a former testator to be sold for the purposes of distribution is not an interest in land within this sect. A bequest to a charity upon trust to be applied for certain specified purposes will not fail if the object of the gift can be effected, though the charity itself may have ceased to exist (Marsh v. The Attorney-General, 30 L. J. Ch. 233).

Vol. 1, p. 511, ——————— to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 134, s. 1, add—The trust of a fund was to pay the income to Roman Catholic priests for ever, upon condition of their saying masses for the repose of the soul of the founder:—Held void, and the fund was ordered to be paid to the representative of the founder (In re Blundell, 30 Beav. 360).

Vol. 1, p. 622, COLONIES, to 6 & 7 Vict. c. 94, sect. 1, add—Where, in pursuance of this sect., the Ottoman government had acquiesced in allowing to the British government a jurisdiction between British subjects and the subjects of other Christian states. By an order in council the consular court may determine suits between an English subject and a foreigner, who voluntarily submits to its jurisdiction, but there is no compulsory power over any but English subjects (The Laconia—The Colchide, 33 L. J. Adm. 11).

Vol. 1, p. 651, COMPANIES (JOINT-STOCK), 7 & 8 Vict. c. 110, sect. 4, n (a), add—On an indictment against F., as servant to A. and others, for embezzlement, proof was given that F. was servant to a trading company, calling itself the R. Coal Company, Limited; that this name was over the office door of the company; that there were eighty shareholders, of whom A. was one; that its affairs were managed by directors; that its shares were transferable by certificate, without the consent of the other shareholders; and that a minute book of resolutions was kept. No certificate of incorporation was put in evidence, it was held, that there was no evidence for the jury that the company was incorporated, and that F. was properly alleged in the indictment to be the servant of A. and others (Reg. v. Frankland, 32 L. J. M. C. 69).

Vol. 1, p. 654, COMPANIES (JOINT-STOCK) to 7 & 8 Vict. c. 110, sect. 13, add—The non-return of a transfer to the registrar, though leaving the transferor liable for the debts of the company as between himself and the creditors of the company, does not leave him so liable as between himself and the other shareholders; and, consequently, the omission to make such return affords no ground for placing him on the list of contributories (In re British Provident Life and Fire Assurance Society, re Orpen, 9 Jur. N. S. 615; 32 L. J. Ch. 633; 11 W. R. 741; 8 L. T. N. S. 596—V. C. K.).

Vol. 1, p. 660, ——————— to sect. 29, n. (c), add—The promoters of an assurance company, provisionally registered, agreed with the provisional trustees to assign to them a lease of a house, and a Treatise on Life Assurance, in consideration of £750, and a per-centage on the policy-premiums received. By the deed of settlement, executed shortly afterwards, the promoters were made directors. The company was afterwards completely registered, and the directors passed a resolution adopting the transaction, but it was never sanctioned by any general meeting of shareholders. It was held, the promoters not being actually directors at the time of the transaction, this section did not apply, and that the sanction of a general meeting of shareholders was not requisite to give the contract validity. The promoters afterwards agreed with their co-directors to surrender the per-centage secured to them under the first contract, in consideration of receiving fixed annuities, and this new arrangement was never submitted to a general meeting of shareholders. It was held, it was invalid, for want of the sanction of a general meeting (Ex parte Paul, in re the Waterloo Life Assurance Society, 33 L. J. Ch. 545).

Vol. 1, p. 661, ——————— to sect. 29, n. (d), add—Directors of a company mortgaged monies belonging to the company, to secure advances made by one of their number, and a financial statement of assets and liabilities of the company, without specific mention of the mortgage, was made at the next (and last) general meeting, as appeared from a minute found in the company's books:—Held, that this was not sufficient evidence on which to presume subsequent sanction, and that the mortgage was therefore void (British Provident Society v. Norton, 9 Jur. N. S. 1308—V. C. K.).

Vol. 1, p. 664, ——————— to sect. 45, line 7, "two of the directors," add—It seems that a joint-stock company cannot by its deed of settlement declare that deeds given by them shall not be valid unless signed by three directors (Agar v. Athenæum Life Assurance Society, 3 C. B. N. S. 725).

Vol. 1, p. 666, COMPANIES (JOINT-STOCK), to 7 & 8 Vict. c. 110, s. 54, add—A transfer of shares is valid, if everything due and payable up to the execution of the transfer has been paid by the transferor; accordingly a transfer of shares on which a call was due, but not payable, at the date of the transfer, is valid, though it would not have been valid under 8 & 9 Vict. c. 16, s. 16 (British Provident Life and Fire Insurance Society, In re, ex parte Orpen, 9 Jur. N. S. 615; 32 L. J. Chanc. 633; 11 W. R. 741; 8 L. T. N. S. 596—V. C. K.). Afterwards, on appeal against this decision, a compromise was effected (9 Jur. N. S. 1097; 33 L. J. Chanc. 67; 9 L. T. N. S. 277—L. L.).

Vol. 1, p. 706, ——————— to Table B., No. 2, add—A company, on the memorandum of association being duly signed, may make calls upon the shareholders, although all the capital has not been subscribed for, nor all the shares taken up (Ornamental Pyrographic Woodwork Company v. Brown, 9 Jur. N. S. 578; 32 L. J. Exch. 190; 11 W. R. 600; 8 L. T. N. S. 506).

Vol. 1, p. 720, ——————— to 20 & 21 Vict. c. 14, sect. 27, n. (d), add—An insurance company registered under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 110 (vol. i. p. 649), which professed to be established for the following purposes: "The granting of policies of insurance upon lives or survivorships, the granting of endowments to children and adults, the granting of annuities to commence either immediately or prospectively, and to continue either for a definite time or until death. The assurance to persons of both sexes a weekly sum or payment during sickness, and to married women a certain weekly sum during the period of accouchement, either with or without medical attendance and medicine, and the granting loans and making advances upon personal or other security, so as the interest made payable upon any such loan or advance shall not exceed 7½ per cent; and the doing of all acts incident thereto," was not disqualified, by reason of the enactments contained in these sections, from suing either at law or in equity, unless registered under the 19 & 20 Vict. c. 47 (vol. i. p. 681), and this Act (vol. i. p. 717) (London and Provincial Provident Society v. Ashton, 12 C. B. N. S. 709, 723, Exch. Cham.).

Vol. 1, p. 724, ——————— to 21 & 22 Vict. c. 60, sect. 17, add—In an action for calls by liquidators of a company, registered with limited liability, a contributory may plead by way of set-off, a debt due from him to the company (Garnett and Mossley Gold Mining Company of America v. Sutton, 3 B. & S. 321; 9 Jur. Vol. 1, p. 725*m*, COMPANIES (JOINT-STOCK), to 25 & 26 Vict. c. 89, s. 74, n. (c), add—Upon a verbal application for shares in a company, the secretary required a deposit, which was paid by the applicant upon a promise of its return if the shares were not given to him; shares were allotted to him, and entered in his name in a book described as a "Register of the Allotment of Shares." Notice of the allotment was never sent to him, and his name was not entered in the register of members. Under an order to wind up the company, it was held, that the allottee must be put on the list as a contributory (Ex parte Bloxam, in re New Theatre, 33 L. J. Ch. 510).

Vol. 1, p. 739, COMPANIES (CLAUSES), to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 16, sect. 36, n. (c), add—The court will not grant a rule for a scire facias against a party as a shareholder in a company, upon a judgment obtained against the company, unless the affidavits disclose reasonable grounds for believing that the party sought to be charged is a shareholder. The fact of his having applied for and received an allotment of shares, and paid a deposit thereon, is not enough (Edwards v. Kilkenny and Great Southern and Western Railway Company, 14 C. B. N. S. 526).

Vol. 1, p. 758, COMPANIES (WINDING-UP ACTS), to 7 & 8 Vict. c. 111, n. (a), add—A company of unlimited liability, registered under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 110, after carrying on business, was registered as a limited company, under 19 & 20 Vict. c. 47, and was afterwards ordered to be wound-up: Held, that the same must be done under the jurisdiction in bankruptcy, both as to matters before as well as after registration, under 19 & 20 Vict. c. 47 (Stevenson, Ex parte, in re Liverpool Tradesman's Loan Company, 32 L. J. Chanc. 96—L. J.).

A company was, in 1852, registered as one of unlimited liability, under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 110. After 19 & 20 Vict. c. 47, it was re-registered as one of limited liability. In 1858, Kindersley, V. C., made an order for winding-up the company, and appointed an official manager, who proceeded in the winding-up. On appeal, the court discharged the order for winding-up, and subsequently a commissioner in bankruptcy made an order for winding-up, and appointed an official liquidator. The official manager paid over all the assets in his hands to such official liquidator, and presented a petition to the commissioner for payment of his costs and expenses, as official manager, out of the estate of the company, but the petition was dismissed on the ground that there was no jurisdiction to make the order (Harding, Ex parte, in re Plumstead, Woolwich, and Charlton Water Company, 32 L. J. Chanc. 145; 7 L. T. N. S. 550—L. J.).

Vol. 1, p. 773, ——————— to 11 & 12 Vict. c. 45, sect. 1, n. J. Ch. 520).

Vol. 1, p. 811, COMPANIES (WINDING-UP ACTS), to 12 & 13 Vict. c. 108, add—This statute is repealed by 25 & 26 Vict. c. 80. This section, excepting companies formed for working mines on the cost-book principle from the operation of the Winding-up Acts, except on the petition of one-tenth in value of the shareholders, does not apply to a mine in Devonshire, notwithstanding 18 & 19 Vict. c. 32, extending the jurisdiction of the Stannaries Court to the latter county (South Lady Bertha Copper Mining Company, In re, 32 L. J. Chanc. 92).

Vol. 1, p. 816, ——————— to sect. 33, add—This section applies to the time at which the order was pronounced by the judge, and not to the time at which the order was drawn up (In re the Risca Coal and Iron Company, 31 L. J. Ch. 429).

J. Chanc. 191).

Vol. 1, p. 893, COPYRIGHT (BOOKS, &c.), to 5 & 6 Vict. c. 45, s. 13, n. (a), add—An assignment of copyright made after the 54 Geo. 3, c. 156, and before this Act, need not be attested (Cumberland v. Copeland, 1 H. & C. 194; 9 Jur. N. S. 253).

Vol. 1, p. 896, ——————— to sect. 18, add—By the effect of this section the proprietor of a periodical is precluded from re-publishing without the consent of the author articles written by the latter for and published in such periodical in any other form than as reprints of the entire numbers of the periodical in which those articles appeared. And a republication in supplemental numbers of a selection of tales formerly published in a periodical, is a separate publication within the section (Smith v. Johnson, 33 L. J. Ch. 137).

Vol. 1, 898, ——————— to sect. 22, n. (a), add—Where by the same deed the administrator of the author assigned to plaintiff, after this Act, the copyright and acting-right in a dramatic piece first published after the 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 15. The plaintiff can maintain an action for penalties under the latter Act against defendant for performing the piece without his licence, within twenty-eight years of its publication, although the deed has not been registered; as the plaintiff's right is under the 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 15, and there is nothing in this Act which renders registration necessary in the case of an assignment of such a right of representation (Lacy v. Rhys, 33 L. J. Q. B. 157). Quære—Whether registration would have been necessary if the piece had been published more than twenty-eight years?

Vol. 1, p. 903, COPYRIGHT (ENGRAVINGS, &c.) to 17 Geo. 3, c. 57, n. (b), add—If a print, the copyright of which is conferred on the engraver or publisher by the Engraving Copyright Acts, 8 Geo. 2, c. 13, and 7 Geo. 3, c. 38, be copied by the process of photography, this is a copying for which an action may be maintained under this statute (Gambart v. Ball, 32 L. Vol. 1, p. 909, ———— (DESIGNS, &c.), to 5 & 6 Vict. c. 100, sect. 4, add—In a bill to restrain the infringement of a design, registered under this Act, compliance with the Act is sufficiently pleaded by alleging that the design and proprietorship have been duly registered (See Sarazin v. Hamel, 32 Beav. 145; 32 L. J. Ch. 378).

A proprietor of a design duly registered under this Act, and 24 & 25 Vict. c. 73, whether he is a British subject or a foreigner, forfeits the benefit of the Acts unless the proper registration marks are attached to all articles and substances to which the design is applied, whether the same are sold abroad or in the British dominions (Sarazin v. Hamel, 33 Beav. 151; 32 L. J. Chanc. 380).

Vol. 1, p. 915. ———————— to 6 & 7 Vict. c. 65, s. 2, add—This statute applies only to new designs having reference to some purpose of utility; and in order to obtain the benefit of the Act, the purpose must be specified in the description supplied for registration. And where a coachmaker caused to be registered, under this Act, a design for a dog-cart, specifying as the purpose of utility that "higher front wheels could be used or closer coupling effected," and the design consisted of parts 1, 2, 3, 4, of which 1, 2, and 3 had nothing to do with front wheels or closer coupling, and No. 4 was not new; it was held, that no exclusive privilege was gained by registration (Windover v. Smith, 32 Beav. 200, 32 L. J. Ch. 38).

Vol. 1, p. 963, CORPORATIONS, to sect. 9 of 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 76, add—An attorney, in conjunction with his partner, occupied a house within the limits of a borough for which he was elected town councillor, such occupation being for the purposes of business only, he residing out of the borough. This was held a sufficient qualification for the office (Oreeke, In re, 9 Jur. N. S. 646; 32 L. J. Q. B. 89; 11 W.R. 234; 7 L. T. N. S. 596).

Vol. 1, p. 973, ———————— to ss. 32-35, add—The mayor of a borough not divided into wards, who, with the two assessors, presides at, and declares the result of, an election of town councillors for the borough, is precluded from being a candidate for election as town councillor, inasmuch as acting as returning officer he cannot return himself (Reg. v. Owens, 2 El. & El. 86).

Vol. 1, p. 984, ———————— to sect. 57 n. (a), add—A mayor of a borough, who is a justice of the peace by virtue of his office, is not a justice of the quorum. Per Cockburn, C. J.; Semble, by Blackburn, J., that he is (Reg. v. Llangian, 32 L. J. M. C. 225).

Vol. 1, p. 1010, ———————— to ss. 103 & 105, add—The power of removal of the clerk of the peace of a borough for misbehaviour is vested in the recorder, and not in the town council (Reg. v. Hayward, 2 B. & S. 585; 9 Jur. N. S. 45).

Vol. 1, p. 1065, ———————— to 7 Will. 4 & 1 Vict. c. 78, s. 49, n. N. S. 1117; on appeal, 9 L. Times, N. S. 187).

Vol. 1, p. 1096, ———————— to 22 Vict. c 35, sect. 9, add—The offence of "personation," under this section, is complete when a person, not the voter, hands in a nomination paper to the polling officer; and it is immaterial that he does not persist, but answers "No," when questioned whether he is the voter. A conviction under this section, that the defendant "induced J. F., to personate" a voter, is good without setting out the means of inducement (Reg. v. Hague, 33 L. J. M. C. 81).

Vol. 1, p. 1171, COURTS (ADMIRALTY), to 3 & 4 Vict. c. 65, sect. 6, add—No jurisdiction is conferred on the Court of Admiralty by this section to entertain a claim for necessaries supplied to a ship in a foreign port (The India, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 185).

The words "claim in the nature of towage," do not include a claim by a towed vessel against her tug for misconduct. The damage referred to by this section and by 24 Vict. c. 10, s. 7, p. 1177, is that which results from a collision (The Robert Pow, 9 L. T. N. S. 237; 32 L. J. Adm. 164).

This section is not superseded by sect. 5 of the 24 Vict. c. 10, p. 1176, which applies to British and Colonial ships exclusively (The Ella A. Clark, 9 Jur. N. S. 312; 32

L. J. Adm. 211; 11 W. R. 534; 8 L. T. N. S. 119).

Vol. 1, p. 1176, COURTS (ADMIRALTY), to 24 Vict. c. 10, ss. 4 & 5, add—These sections apply only to British ships (The India, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 185).

Vol. 1, p. 1176, ——————— to sect. 5, add—The word "owner" means "owner at the time of supply," not "owner at the time of the institution of the cause" (The Ella A. Clark, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 211).

Vol. 1, p. 1177, ——————— to sect. 6, add—This section and section 35 taken together, give a remedy in rem to the owner of imported goods for breach of contract by the foreign shipowner, are remedial, and, subject to equitable considerations applying to proceedings in rem, confer jurisdiction over causes of action which accrued in personam before the date of the Act coming into operation. But the remedy conferred is not against any other ship than that in which the goods are carried into England or Wales (The Ironsides, 1 Lushington, 458).

The refusal by the master of a ship to deliver goods under a claim to stop in transitu is a breach of duty, which gives the Court of Admiralty jurisdiction (The Tigress, 9 Jur. N. S. 361; 32 L. J. Adm. 97; 11 W. R. 538; 8 L. T. N. S. 117).

A right of action is given to a consignee in all cases in which there is a non-delivery of goods, subject only to the condition of the arrival of the vessel upon which the goods were to be shipped within an English port (The Danzig, 32 L. J. Adm. 164; 9 L. T. N. S. 236).

A foreign vessel was chartered to carry coals on the charterers' account to a foreign port, and bring home to England a return cargo of timber; the charterers sued the ship, claiming damages for non-delivery of coals on the outward voyage, and for improper delivery of the timber on the return voyage:—Held, that they were not entitled to sue in respect of the non-delivery of the coals abroad, as the statute did not give the court such jurisdiction (The Kasan, 9 Jur. N. S. 234; 32 L. J. Adm. 97).

Vol. 1, p. 1177, ——————— to sect. 7, add—The Court of Admiralty has jurisdiction over a cause of damage done by a sea-going vessel to a barge within the body of a county (The Malvina, 1 Lushington, 493; 9 Jur. Where the evidence showed that a wife had reasonable ground for apprehending personal violence if she returned to live with her husband,—Held (affirming the judgment of the judge ordinary, 3 S. & T. 126; 9 Jur., N. S. 309; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 81; 11 W. R. 589; 8 L. T. N. S. 26), that she was warranted in presenting her suit, though one object might have been, that she might have access to her children (Cooke v. Cooke, 9 Jur. N. S. 754; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 154; 11 W. R. 957; 8 L. T. N. S. 644).

A wife in consequence of her husband's cruelty left his house. She afterwards came back, but refused to return to his bed except upon condition that he would restore her to her position in the household as his wife, with which he refused to comply. In consequence of his ill-treatment, she again left and never returned. After the final separation, in consideration of the wife's agreement to apply part of her settled income for the benefit of the children of the marriage, the husband promised to allow them to visit her from time to time. This promise he failed to perform, and in consequence of the breach of his agreement, and not from fear of personal violence, the wife six years after the separation instituted a suit for judicial separation:—Held, that the wife was entitled to a decree of judicial separation (Ib.).

Condonation, to be perfect, must be voluntary and unconditional. A forced return to cohabitation is no proof of condonation (Ib.).

Much less is sufficient to destroy condonation than to found an original suit (Ib.).

Mere lapse of time is not of itself a bar to a suit for judicial separation on the ground of cruelty, but taken in connexion with other circumstances, such as pecuniary motives for instituting the suit, may be a sufficient reason for dismissing a petition (Ib.).

Vol. 1, p. 1276, COURTS (DIVORCE), to 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, s. 16, n. (e), add—A husband and wife executed a deed of separation, but none of its provisions were ever carried into effect, and the cohabitation was continued after its execution. The husband having subsequently deserted the wife, it was held, she was entitled to relief on the ground of that desertion, notwithstanding the deed (Cock v. Cock, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 157).

A wife reproached her husband with his connexion with another woman, upon which he said that he wished to go from her, and would rather be with the other woman. She said, "go if you like, and when you are sick of her, come back to me;" but she made him swear that he would return to her. He never did return:—Held, guilty of desertion (Haviland v. Haviland, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 65; 11 W. R. 373).

A husband charged with desertion traversed the charge. On his examination he admitted that he had insisted that his wife should leave his house, but said that he did so for a good cause, which he stated :—Held, guilty of desertion (Baker v. Baker, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 145 ; 11 W. R. 502).

Vol. 1, p. 1281, ———————— to sect. 30, n. (a), add—A husband agreed to withdraw a suit for dissolution of marriage in consideration of a sum of money to be paid him by the co-respondent, in lieu of costs and damages, but made no stipulation as to his wife's future conduct. The co-respondent did not fulfil his part of the agreement, and the husband filed a second petition. At the hearing, the adultery was proved :—Held, that the husband's conduct amounted to connivance or consent to his wife's intercourse with the co-respondent, and the petition was dismissed (Gipps v. Gipps and Hume, 3 S. & T. 116 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 233 ; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 78 ; 11 W. R. 402 ; 7 L. T. N. S. 861).

Vol. 1, p. 1282, ———————— to sect. 31, n. (f), add—A ward in chancery who had no means of his own, at sixteen, married clandestinely a prostitute of about the age of thirty-five. The Master of the Rolls a month after the marriage, ordered that the husband should be delivered into the custody of his guardian, with liberty for the guardian to send him abroad, and that the wife should be restrained from holding any communication with him. In pursuance of this order, he was sent abroad against his will. The wife being left without means of support, she applied to her husband's guardian for money, but it was refused. For some months after the marriage she conducted herself properly, and then relapsed into her former course of life. In a suit by the husband for dissolution of marriage,—Held, that as the separation was on the husband's part, involuntarily, and he had no means wherewith to contribute to his wife's support, he had not wilfully separated himself from her, nor been guilty of such neglect or misconduct as had conduced to the adultery so as to give the court a discretionary power to refuse to dissolve the marriage (Beavan v. Beavan, 2 S. & T. 652 ; 8 Jur. N. S. 1110 ; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 36 ; 11 W. R. 155).

Vol. 1, p. 1283, ———————— to sect. 31, n. (a), add—Where in a suit by a husband the adultery of the wife is proved, the court will not refuse to decree a divorce, unless some act of misconduct specified in that section is established ; it will not act on mere suspicions (Davies v. Davies and Hughes, 9 Jur. N. S. 828 ; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 111 ; 11 W. R. 402 ; 8 L. T. N. S. 703).

Vol. 1, p. 1283, COURTS (DIVORCE), to 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, s. 32, n. (b), add— The court has no jurisdiction to order that a husband who obtains a decree of judicial separation by reason of his wife's cruelty, should make any provision for her maintenance (Dart v. Dart, 9 Jur. N. S. 474 ; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 125 ; 11 W. R. 551 ; 9 L. T. N. S. 23).

Vol. 1, p. 1286, ———————— to sect. 35, n. (a), add—The court refused to order that a wife who had obtained a decree of judicial separation, should have the custody of an idiot child who was properly taken care of by the husband, where the custody was asked for, in order that the child might be placed in an asylum for its own benefit, and not in order that the wife might have the solace of its society (Cooke v. Cooke, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 180 ; 11 W. R. 957).

Semble, that an application for the custody of a child upon such a ground should be made to the Court of Chancery (Ib.).

Vol. 1, p. 1287, ———————— to sect. 36, n. (a), add—Although in a suit for judicial separation the court may in its discretion refuse to direct that questions of fact be tried by a jury, it will generally, at the request of either of the parties, allow a jury. The circumstance that cruelty is in issue is no ground for refusing a jury (Taylor v. Taylor, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 126 ; 9 L. T. N. S. 24).

Vol. 1, p. 1288, ———————— to sect. 40, add—Where an issue is ordered to be tried at the assizes, it should be framed as an issue sent by the Court of Chancery (Hogg v. Hogg, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 209).

Vol. 1, p. 1289, ———————— to sect. 43, add—The court has only power to order that the petitioner attend on the hearing of the petition. It cannot order his attendance at the hearing of the case of the Queen's proctor, if the intervention was after a decree nisi had been pronounced (Pollack v. Pollack, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 28).

Semble, however, that though the court has no power in such a case to order the attendance of the petitioner, it may stay proceedings in the suit until he appears (Ib.).

Where, at the hearing of a suit for dissolution of marriage, the petitioner is present, if the court allows the counsel of the respondent to call him, he must be treated as the witness of the respondent ; he cannot be cross-examined by the respondent ; and before he is sworn, the respondent's case must be opened (Giles v. Giles and Quartley, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 209 ; 12 W. R. 20).

Vol. 1, p. 1289, ———————— to sect. 43, n. (a), add—In a suit by a husband for dissolution of marriage, the only evidence of the wife's adultery was a confession by her and proof of some slight familiarities between her and the co-respondent. The court deemed this evidence insufficient, and examined the petitioner, who was the sole witness of an act of impropriety conclusively proving adultery, and upon his evidence pronounced a decree nisi, but refused to condemn the co-respondent, who had not been personally served, in costs (Tatham v. Tatham and Nutt, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 140).

Vol. 1, p. 1289, COURTS (DIVORCE), to 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, s. 45 add—Under the marriage settlement of her father, a wife, upon the ground of whose adultery a divorce had been granted, was entitled to a sum of money after the death of her father in the event of his not otherwise disposing of it; but it was held that this was not property to which the wife was entitled in reversion, and that the Court had no power under this section to order a settlement of it (Stone v. Stone, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 95).

Vol. 1, p. 1290, ——————— to sect. 51, add—The court which hears the suit has absolute authority over costs, and no appeal as to costs only lies (Glennie v. Glennie and Bowles, 3 S. & T. 109; 7 L. T. N. S. 696).

Vol. 1, p. 1291, ——————— to sect. 57, add—Where, after a decree of dissolution of marriage, one of the parties to such marriage was married in fact within the time limited by this section, and during the lifetime of the other party to the marriage, the latter de facto marriage is null and void in law (Chichester v. Mure (f. c. Chichester), 9 Jur. N. S. 779; 11 W. R. 990; 8 L. T. N. S. 676—Div.).

Vol. 1, p. 1297, ——————— to 22 & 23 Vict. c. 61, s. 5, add—A husband, with monies received by him in right of his wife, purchased railway stock, which was transferred into their joint names. By a deed of separation, this stock was vested in trustees upon trust for the husband for life, then for the wife for life, and afterwards for the children of the marriage, subject to the proviso that in the event of the marriage being dissolved the trusts should become null and void. The marriage was dissolved on the ground of the wife's adultery, and the trustees thereupon sold the railway stock and paid the proceeds to the wife; and it was held, that assuming the deed of separation to be a post-nuptial settlement within the meaning of this section, the trusts of the deed having determined, the Court had no power to deal with the property comprised in it (Stone v. Stone, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 95).

Vol. 1, p. 1298, ——————— to sect. 6, add—In a suit by a wife for judicial separation on the ground of adultery coupled with cruelty, the evidence of the parties is inadmissible; but if the husband has appeared and has filed an answer, the court will at the hearing, upon the wife abandoning the charge of adultery, allow it to be struck out of the petition, in order that such evidence may be admitted (Hudson v. Hudson, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 5).

Vol. 1, p. 1298, ——————— to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 144, s. 2, add—The court has no power to extend the time (fourteen days) limited by this section, for appealing against a decision of the Judge Ordinary granting or refusing a rule for a new trial (Boulting v. Boulting, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 81).

Vol. 1, p. 1306, COURTS (PROBATE), to 20 & 21 Vict. c. 77, s. 35, n. (a), add—The court has a discretion as to the ordering issues of fact to be tried by a jury, except where an heir-at-law, party to the proceedings, asks for a jury. In other cases the court will not direct a trial by jury, though one of the parties asks for a jury, if the case is more fit to be tried by the court itself (Quick v. Quick, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 108).

Vol. 1, p. 1310, ——————— to sect. 61, n. (b), add—A testamentary suit was commenced by caveat, and after warning of the caveat and entry of appearance by the next-of-kin, the executrix, under an alleged will, filed a declaration propounding the will; and it was held leave to cite the heir-at-law of testator under this section, could not be granted until a plea had been filed denying the validity of the will (Coplestone v. Nicholes, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 57).

Vol. 1, p. 1311, ——————— to sect. 64, add—Probate of a will is admissible without being stamped with the seal of the court. The stamp of the seal of the court is required for a copy only (Rippon v. Priest, 3 F. & F. 644—Keating J.).

Vol. 1, p. 1312, ——————— to sect. 71, add—Upon motion for appointment of a receiver, under this section, it must appear upon affidavit that the heir-at-law has been cited (Purdey v. Field, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 73).

Where A. was entitled to administration of the effects of B., who was a pauper lunatic, and as such was confined in a county lunatic asylum, and no committee of her person or effects had been appointed. A.'s next-of-kin having been cited and not having appeared, the court, under this section, granted administration of the effects of B. to the guardians of the poor at whose expense A. was maintained, for A.'s use and benefit, limited to the period of her lunacy (Southwell v. Findlay, 33 L. J. P. M. & A. 21).

Vol. 1, p. 1313, ——————— to sect. 73, n. (d), add—When a foreigner dies intestate in this country in itinere, without any relative or agent here resident, the custody of his property belongs to the Crown; but under special circumstances the court will, without a formal notice to the Queen's proctor, grant administration to a responsible person limited ad collegendum bona defuncti (Wyckoff, In goods of, 3 S. & T. 20; 9 Jur. N. S. 84; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 214; 11 W. R. 218; 7 L. T. N. S. 565).

A. died intestate, leaving four children, of whom one was of age, but was abroad, and the other three were minors. An immediate grant of administration being necessary, the court granted administration to the duly elected guardian of the minors for their use and benefit, limited until one of the children should apply for a grant (Burgess, In goods of, 9 Jur. N. S. 553; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 158; 11 W. R. 687; 9 L. T. N. S. 86).

His personal estate was of the value of about 55*l.*, and it seemed that he had no debts. B. being unable, through poverty, to obtain sureties to the amount of 200*l.*, the penalty of the requisite bond, the court, under this section, reduced the penalty to 60*l.* (Harrigan, In goods of, 32 L. Vol. 1, p. 1315, ——————— to sect. 83, add—Upon affidavits showing a breach of the condition of an administration bond, the court allowed a citation to issue, calling upon one of the sureties to show cause why it should not be assigned, in order that it might be put in suit against him (Marshman v. Brookes—Jones, In Goods of, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 25).

A creditor of an intestate to whom an admission bond has been assigned, under this section although thereby empowered to sue in his own name, is in all other respects in the same position as the ordinary was, and may, therefore, maintain an action thereon for the general benefit of all parties interested in the estate, but not for his own or the benefit of any one in particular (Saundrey v. Mitchell, 3 B. & S. 405; 9 Jur. The warrant recited that an information had been laid on oath respecting the offence:—Held, the information ought to have been proved, and that the warrant alone was no evidence of the commencement of the prosecution (R. v. Parker, 33 L. J. M. C. 135).

Vol. 2, p. (179), ———— to 5 Geo. 4, c. 83, s. 4, n. (f), add—A husband and wife separated by mutual consent, the latter being left in possession of sufficient means for her support. The facts were, that the appellants had been admitted into the house of the respondent by night, and without his knowledge, by his servants, and there entertained by them with the provisions in question. The justices convicted the appellants of the offence charged, upon the ground that they were, under the circumstances proved on the hearing, in the house for an unlawful purpose, within the meaning of the act:—Held, that the conviction was bad, as not amounting to a conviction for felony, the offence charged in the information (Kirkin v. Jenkins, 9 Cox, C. C. 311; 9 Jur. N. S. 1013; 32 L. J. M. C. 140; 11 W. R. 618; 8 L. T. N. S. 243—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. (192), CRIMINAL LAW, to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 96, s. 5, add—It is no objection in point of law that an indictment charges several distinct felonies in different counts; the statute does not alter the law in this respect. But the ordinary course of charging two or three distinct acts of stealing against the same person to have been committed within six months, ought not to be departed from (R. v. Heywood, 33 L. J. M. C. 133).

Vol. 2, p. (195), ——————— to sect. 23, add—This section does not apply where the killing, though unlawful, was done by the party for the protection of his own property, and under the bonâ fide belief that he was acting in the exercise of a legal right (Taylor v. Newman, 9 Cox, C. C. 314; 32 L. J. M. C. 186.)

Vol. 2, p. (195), ——————— to sect. 24, add—A person charged with unlawfully and wilfully destroying fish in a non-navigable river, set up a bonâ fide claim of right to fish in that river on the ground that the public had fished there without interruption for sixty years:—Held, first, that the mere assertion of such a claim, being a claim of right impossible at law, did not oust the jurisdiction of the justices (Hudson v. M'Rae, 12 W. R. 80—Q. B.).

Upon the hearing of an information against a defendant for fishing with a net in a tidal river in which the prosecutor claimed a private right of fishing, evidence was given to show that he had such right by reason of his being lord of the manor and otherwise. The defendant denied his right to the fishing, and contended that himself and the public had a right of fishing in the river, and called witnesses to show that they had fished it for many years without interruption. No prosecution had been instituted against any one for doing so. The justices were called upon to hold their hands, and not to adjudicate upon the question raised. They nevertheless convicted the defendant:—Held, that they ought not to have done so, as there was reasonable evidence to show that the question of title raised by the defendant was bonâ fide, and that, therefore, their jurisdiction was at an end (Reg. v. Stimpson and Reg. v. Peek, 32 L. J. M. C. 208; 8 L. T. N. S. 536—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. (202), ——————— to sect. 45, n. (a), add—To constitute the offence of demanding money with menaces under this section, the menace or threat must be of a character to produce in a reasonable man some degree of alarm or bodily fear, and such alarm must be of a nature and extent to unsettle the mind upon which it operates, and take away that free voluntary action which constitutes consent (Reg. v. Walton, 9 Cox, C. C. 268; 1 L. & C. C. C. 288; 9 Jur. N. S. 259; 32 L. J. M. C. 79).

Vol. 2, p. (204), ——————— to sect. 58, add—Where persons are charged under this Act with being found by night armed with an offensive weapon, with intent to break and enter into a dwelling-house or other building, and to commit a felony therein, the particular house or building must be specified in the indictment, and proof given of their intent to break and enter such house or building (Reg. v. Jarrald, 9 Cox, C. C. 307; 1 L. & C. C. C. 301; 9 Jur. N. S. 629; 32 L. J. M. C. 258).

It is necessary to support a conviction under this section, that the prisoner should be proved to have the particular intent, and proof of a general intent to break into houses is not sufficient (R. v. Jarrald, 32 L. J. M. C. 258).

Vol. 2, p. (219), CRIMINAL LAW, to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 96, s. 113, add—That is, whether the defendant honestly believed in the existence of such a state of facts as would, if it had existed, have afforded a justification for the arrest (Roberts v. Orchard, 33 L. J. Ex. 65; Hermann v. Seneschall, 32 L. J. C. P. 43; 13 C. B. N. S. 392).

Vol. 2, p. (251), ——————— to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 97, s. 25, add—On a charge for maliciously damaging a fence, it appeared that the defendant had been fishing in a canal, and had passed over a field of growing wheat in the occupation of the prosecutor, and was going away when (whether wilfully or not was disputed) he damaged the fence, which he alleged was not upon land of the prosecutor's, and he produced a letter from a person who claimed to be the owner, and had given him leave to fish in the canal:—Held, that this was evidence of a bonâ fide claim of title, and reasonable colour of right, which ousted the jurisdiction of the magistrates, and that they were wrong in proceeding to convict (Reg. v. Snape, 11 W. R. 434—Q. B. See Clapham v. Atkinson, 9 L. T. N. S. 679—Q. B.).

Where, in order to oust the jurisdiction of justices to adjudicate upon an information for trespassing in pursuit of game, a claim of title is set up, the justices are not conclusively the judges of the bona fides of the claim (Reg. v. Derbyshire (Justices), 11 W. R. 780—B. C.—Mellor, J.).

Vol. 2, p. (264), ——————— to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 98, s. 19, n. (b), add—Making on a glass plate a positive impression of an undertaking of a foreign state for the payment of money by means of photography, without lawful authority or excuse, is a felony within this section (Reg. v. Rinaldi, 1 L. & C. C. C. 330; 33 L. J. M. C. 28).

Vol. 2, p. (267), ——————— to sect. 23, n. (c), add—A turnpike toll-gate ticket is a receipt for money within this section (Reg. v. Fitch, 1 L. & C. C. C. 159).

Vol. 2, p. (280), ——————— to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 100, s. 6, line 1, "indictment," add—This comprehends inquisitions taken before coroner (R. v. Ingham, 33 L. J. Q. B. 183; 6 & 7 Vict. c. 83, s. 2).

Vol. 2, p. (282), ——————— to sect. 11, n. (b), add—An attempt to commit suicide is not an attempt to commit murder within the meaning of this section, and is not merged in any of the felonious attempts to commit murder made punishable by that act, but remains a misdemeanor at common law triable by the court of quarter sessions (Reg. v. Burgess, 1 L. & C. C. C. 258; 9 Cox, C. C. 247).

Vol. 2, p. (289), CRIMINAL LAW, to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 100, s. 53, add—A. was indicted for fraudulently alluring C. out of the possession of her mother and stepfather, the latter having the lawful care of her; and B. with being an accessory before the fact. C. was sent by her mother to live with her grandmother. Instead of going there, she went to B.'s house, and did not return home when desired to do so by her mother. After remaining with B. a month, she left with A., her paternal uncle, and was married to him without her mother's knowledge:—Held, that the averments that the girl was in the possession and under the care of her stepfather might be rejected as surplusage (Reg. v. Burrell, 1 L. & C. C. C. 354; 12 W. R. 149; 9 L. T. N. S. 426).

Held, also, that the facts did not support the indictment (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. (291), ——— to sect. 59, add—Upon an indictment, under this section, for supplying a certain noxious thing, knowing that the same is intended to be used with intent to procure miscarriage, it is necessary to prove that the thing supplied is noxious. The supplying an innoxious drug, whatever may be the intent of the person supplying it, is not an offence against that enactment (Reg. v. Isaacs, 1 L. & C. C. C. 220; 9 Cox, C. C. 228; 32 L. J. M. C. 52).

In order to constitute the offence of supplying a noxious substance, with the intention that it shall be employed in procuring abortion within the meaning of this Act, it is not necessary that the intention of employing it should exist in the mind of any other person than the person supplying it (Reg. v. Hillman, 1 L. & C. C. C. 343; 12 W. R. 111; 9 L. T. N. S. 518).

Vol. 2, p. 23, FACTORIES, to 7 & 8 Vict. c. 15, s. 73, add—A child under thirteen was employed in a room in a building, within the precincts of which there was a quantity of machinery moved by steam, and devoted to the manufacture of an article composed of wool and cotton mixed, but the child was not employed in any respect upon, or in attendance to the machinery, nor was there any machinery in the room in which he was employed in pricking pieces of leather with an awl, to fit them for adaptation to form parts of the thing manufactured in the building:—Held, not to be a case within the exception (Taylor v. Hickes, 12 C. B. N. S. 152; 9 Jur. N. S. 21—C. P.)

T. was owner of premises in M., in which he carried on the manufacture of cotton sewing thread. He also had premises in L., to which he was in the habit of sending the thread in hanks, and where it was wound by machinery, moved by steam power, firstly, on to cops, and, secondly, on to spools. No other process except this particular winding was carried on at L.:—Held, 'that these latter premises were a mill or factory within 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 103, s. 1, and also within this section and section 27, and that T. was liable to the penalty imposed by the latter Act for the offence of not keeping such a register (Haydon v. Taylor, 33 L. J. M. C. 30; 12 W. R. 103; 9 L. T. N. S. 382—Q.B.).

Vol. 2, p. 31, FACTORIES, to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 22, s. 2, add—A child employed in finishing goods in a shed, in which finishing alone is carried on, but which communicates internally with other buildings in which printing is carried on, is employed in a print work within the meaning of this section, whether the particular finishing be incidental to the process of printing or not; and a surgeon's certificate of its health is therefore necessary under section 20 (Hardcastle v. Jones, 3 B. & S. 153; 9 Jur. N. S. 19; 32 L. J. M. C. 49; 11 W. R. 36; 7 L. T. N. S. 322—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 57, FACTORS, to 6 Geo. 4, c. 94, s. 4, add—Where the plaintiffs, who were cloth manufacturers, were informed by E., who was a factor and commission agent, that he could get them a customer for some of their goods, giving the name of Sykes as that of the intended purchaser. It is a common practice for manufacturers to send their goods to agents, who warehouse them, and sell them in their own names. The plaintiffs, believing the representations of E., sent parcels of goods from time to time to his warehouse, where he was to see them "perched," and was then to transmit them to Sykes. The statements made by E. with reference to Sykes were untrue, and he sold the goods to defendants, who purchased them bonâ fide. It was held by Wightman, J. and Crompton, J., that E. was an agent intrusted with the goods within the meaning of this section, and that therefore the purchase by the defendants was protected. And by Blackburn, J., that at any rate the question ought to be left to the jury to say whether or not the facts showed that he was such an agent, and whether it was in the ordinary course of business that the sale had taken place (Baines v. Swainson, 32 L. J. Q. B. 281).

Vol. 2, p. 59, ——— to 5 & 6 Vict. c. 39, s. 1, n. (a), add—Certificates of railway stock are not goods within this section (Freeman v. Appleyard, 32 L. J. Ex. 175).

Vol. 2, p. (59), ——— to sect. 1, n. (b), add—A clerk to a wine merchant, who is authorised by his employer to sign delivery orders per procuration, and who by doing so obtains possession of dock warrants relating to goods belonging to his master, and afterwards obtains an advance of money upon the security of such dock warrants, is not an agent entrusted with the possession of documents of title to goods within the meaning of this Act, so as to give validity to the contract, and his employer may recover possession of such dock warrants from the person with whom they are pledged, though the advance was made bonâ fide (Lamb v. Attenborough, 31 L. J. Q. B. 41).

A., who transacted business on commission, but whose ordinary business was not to sell on commission, was entrusted by defendant with some pictures. Either at that time or afterwards defendant directed A. to sell the pictures. Subsequently, A., in fraud of defendant, pledged the pictures with plaintiff. It was held plaintiff was entitled to retain the pictures as against defendant till his advance was repaid, for that A was an "agent" within the meaning of this Act (Hayman v. Flewker, 32 L. J. C. P. 132; 13 C. B. N. S. 519).

Vol. 2, p. 116, ——————— to sect. 85, n. (f), add—With respect to acknowledgments of deeds by married women taken in any colony or foreign possession being part of the dominions of the crown, it is ordered that affidavits verifying the same made before any court or judge, magistrate, commissioner, notary public, or other person authorised to administer an oath, and containing in the jurat a statement by such court or judge, magistrate, commissioner, notary public, or other person, of the name or title of the office or authority which he or they respectively hold and execute, shall be received as sufficient (Reg. Gen. C. P. Jan. 13, 1863; 13 C. B. N. S. 406).

Vol. 2, p. 119, ——————— to sect. 91, n. (c), add—The court will not permit a married woman to execute a conveyance without the concurrence of her husband (he having refused to concur), upon an affidavit merely stating that the wife had left her husband in consequence of his violence, and was living apart from him (Price, in re, 13 C. B. N. S. 286; 7 L. T. N. S. 327).

Vol. 2, p. 123, ——————— to Reg. Gen. H. T. 4 W. 4, add—From and after the first day of Easter Term (1863), inclusive, every affidavit of the verification of certificates of acknowledgments of deeds of married women, except as hereinafter provided, shall be drawn up in the first person, and shall be divided into paragraphs, and every paragraph shall be numbered consecutively, and as nearly as may be shall be confined to a distinct portion of the subject. Provided that this rule shall not be applicable to any such affidavits, where the acknowledgments have been taken out of England and Wales, under special commissions issued prior to the said first day of Easter Term next (Reg. Gen. C. P. M. T. 1862; 13 C. B. N. S. 2).

The officer with whom all such certificates are filed is empowered, in the interval between the date of this rule and the said first day of Easter Term next, to receive and file any affidavits of verification, whether drawn up in the first or third person (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 138, FISH, to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 109, s. 11, add—This section prohibits the catching of salmon by any means, within fifty yards below any dam, except by rod and line, unless the dam has a fish-pass attached thereto; and therefore any ancient right or mode of fishing by means of a fixed engine or otherwise, by virtue of any grant or charter or immemorial usage, although reserved by the Act in certain cases, does not exempt the possessor of such right of fishing from the penalties imposed by this section (Moulton v. Wilby, 32 L. J. M. C. 164).

The right to take possession of or to destroy such engines extends to all persons, and is not confined to conservators or overseers appointed under sect. 33, for the preservation of salmon and enforcing the provisions of the Act (Williams v. Blackwall, 32 L. J. Ex. 174).

Vol. 2, p. 139, —— to sect. 15, add—Where an information charging A. with having in his possession the young of salmon, to wit, samlets, the justices dismissed the information, on the ground that A., though he had taken the samlets, and had them in his possession, did not know that they were samlets. It was held, that the information was rightly dismissed (Hopton v. Thirlwall, 12 W. R. 72; 9 L. T. N. S. 327—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 140, —— to sect. 20, add—A fishing mill-dam is a fishery within the meaning of this section (Hodgson v. Little, 14 C. B. N. S. 111; 32 L. J. M. C. 220).

A proprietor or an occupier of a fishing mill-dam on a salmon river is bound by this Act, during the close season, to remove all obstructions to the free passage of fish up the stream, even though he had ceased to use the dam for the purpose of fishing (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 142, —— to sect. 35, add—A prosecution under this Act having been conducted by the agents of an association for the preservation of salmon, and a conviction obtained before justices who were active members of the association was quashed, on the ground of the justices' interest (R. v. Allen, 33 L. J. M. C. 98).

Vol. 2, p. 150, FRAUDS (STATUTE OF), to 29 Car. 2, c. 3, s. 4, "debt or default of another," add—A promise to indemnify another, if he will become bail for the appearance of the third party to answer for a criminal charge, is not within this statute (Cripps v. Hartnoll, 32 L. J. Q. B. 381).

Vol. 2, p. 150, FRAUDS (STATUTE OF), to 29 Car. 2, c. 3, s. 4, n. (a), add—Agreement to cash bills given on account of the price of goods to be supplied by a third person, must be in writing (Mallett v. Bateman, 33 L. J. C. P. 243).

Vol. 2, p. 153, ——————— to n. on sect. 4, add—At the request of a defendant the plaintiff became bound in a recognisance of bail for the appearance of the defendant's daughter at the Central Criminal Court, to which court she had been committed for trial; the defendant having verbally promised the plaintiff to indemnify him against all liability. The defendant's daughter did not appear, and the recognisance was estreated and the plaintiff was obliged to pay the amount, and was put to other expenses:—It was held, that this was not a promise to answer for the debt or default of another person (Cripps v. Hartnoll, 32 L. J., Q. B. 381—Exch. Cham.).

Vol. 2, p. 160, ——————— to sect. 4, n. (b), add—A promise in writing, signed, to pay any one unnamed, who shall furnish goods to the writer, or to a third person making default, will become a binding contract with any one, whosoever he may be, who shall accept the promise in writing and furnish the goods (Williams v. Byrnes, 1 Moore, P. C. C. N. S. 154; 9 Jur. N. S. 363; 11 W. R. 487; 8 L. T. N. S. 69).

Upon a contract of guarantie for the purchase of a steam-engine, not addressed to any one, and in which the name of the person by whom the steam-engine was to be furnished did not appear, though he was known to the party by whom the memorandum was made, the contract being in these words:—"I will furnish H. with funds for the purchase of a steam-engine and machinery for a flour-mill, on his suiting himself with the same, and notifying the purchase to me:"—Held, in action upon such contract, that there being no acceptance of the contract in writing, it was not a sufficient note or memorandum in writing (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 166, ——————— to sect. 17, n. (a), add—The judge at the trial, is to decide whether the evidence of a constructive delivery of goods bargained and sold, is sufficient to satisfy the statute (Kealy v. Tenant, 13 Ir. Com. Law. Rep. 394—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 167, ——————— to sect. 17, n. (a), add—A plaintiff by parol agreed to buy of the defendant all the potatoes in a certain field of the defendant's, at so much a ton, and to dig and remove them at his own expense. He employed and paid labourers to dig them, and sent his own sacks to the field, in which sacks the potatoes, as they were dug, were placed by his men, and the sacks were then carried to another part of the field, and the potatoes there emptied out of them in heaps, or clamped on the ground. During the digging one sackful of the potatoes was, by the plaintiff's authority, taken by one of the men employed, and consumed by him for food. Before the whole were dug, the defendant refused to complete his contract, or to permit the residue of the potatoes to be dug, or those which had been dug to be removed from his field:—Held that there was evidence of a part delivery and acceptance of the goods (Smith v. Hudson, 8 L. T. N. S. 253—Exch.).

Vol. 2, p. 170, FRAUDS (STATUTE OF), to 29 Car. 2, c. 3, s. 17, n. (a), add—Hops were sold by sample, and before prompt day, the buyer's foreman attended at the workhouse of the seller's factors to see them weighed, compared each pocket with the sample, and adjusted allowances on some which he objected to:—Held, that this was a sufficient acceptance (Simmonds v. Humble, 13 C. B. N. S. 258; 9 L. T. N. S. 168).

Vol. 2, p. 173, ——————— to sect. 17, n. (b), add—A broker having bought for the defendant part of a cargo of fruit lying at a wharf, belonging to one owner, was desired by the defendant to buy some more, and bought on the same day another part of the same cargo, lying at the same wharf, but belonging to the plaintiff, and he sent sold notes of each lot to each owner, but one bought note of the whole to the defendant, all three notes being signed by himself as broker. The defendant having refused to accept the fruit:—Held, in an action for not accepting the parcel bought of the plaintiff, that even if evidence of a custom, in such cases, to send one bought note was admissible, yet, as the bought and sold notes varied, there was no contract with the plaintiff within the statute (Fisenden v. Levy, 11 W. R. 258—Q. B.; S. C. at Nisi Prius, 3 F. & F. 477).

The plaintiff wrote to the defendants, offering to sell them seed of growing turnips, to which the defendants replied asking what turnips he had in growth, their quantities and prices. The plaintiff answered that all that he could offer them at present was the produce of five acres of white globe seed at 18*s.* per bushel. The defendants offered to take two or three acres at 16*s.* 6*d.* per bushel. The plaintiff replied that he could not accept less than 18*s.* The defendants then wrote to him as follows:—"In reply to your favour of this morning, we beg to say as our neighbours are giving you 18*s.* per bushel for white globe turnips, we, as a beginning with you, will take the produce of three acres at that price, to be delivered, as soon as harvested, 1861, free of carriage to London station; waiting your reply." The plaintiff wrote no answer to this letter, but subsequently saw one of the defendants at their warehouse, on which occasion it was found by the jury that the plaintiff verbally assented to the terms contained in that letter:—Held, that there was a sufficient memorandum or note in writing of the contract (Watts v. Ainsworth, 1 H. & C. 83).

Vol. 2, p. 175, ——————— to sect. 17, n. (c), add—D., a hop-grower, having sent samples of his hops to his factor, E. went to the factor and offered to buy some at 16*l.* 16*s.* a cwt. After some negotiation between E., the factor, and D., the latter agreed to sell the hops at that price, and the factor wrote in his book, in the presence of D. and E., a memorandum of the bargain in duplicate, one part of which he headed with the name of E., and the other part with the name of D. E. requested that the date might be altered, so that by the custom of the hop trade he would have a week's more time for payment. D. consented, and the alteration was made by the factor, who tore from his book the part of the memorandum headed with the name of E., and delivered it to him, and kept the counterfoil in his possession:—Held, that there was evidence for the jury that the factor was the agent of both parties for the purpose of drawing a record of the contract binding on them; and that, if he were, the name of E., at the head of that part of the memorandum delivered to him, was a sufficient signature by his agent (Durrell v. Evans, 1 H. & C. 174; 9 Jur. N. S. 104—Exch. Cham.).

Vol. 2, p. 204, FRIENDLY SOCIETIES, to 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 32, s. 1, n. (a), add—Hughes v. Layton, 33 L. J. M. C. 89.

Vol. 2, p. 208, ——————— to 3 & 4 Vict. c. 110, s. 16, add—An order for payment by a justice of the peace, must be for immediate payment; he has no jurisdiction to order payment in a certain time from making the order (Parker v. Boughey, 3 B. & S. 43; 9 Jur. N. S. 118).

Vol. 2, p. 222, ——————— to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 63, s. 23, after "upon demand in writing," add—A bill filed to recover the amount is a sufficient demand (Absolom v. Gething, 32 Beav. 322; 32 L. J. Ch. 786).

Vol. 2, p. 226, ——————— to sect. 40, n. (b), add—Semble, that where a dispute has arisen between a member and the trustees of a friendly society, for the decision of which a specific tribunal is provided by the rules of the society, the jurisdiction of the county court is ousted (Denton v. Marshall, 1 H. & C. 654; 7 L. T. N. S. 689).

Vol. 2, p. 237, GAME, to 1 & 2 Will. 4, c. 32, s. 10, n. (a), add—If wild rabbits be both started and killed on the same estate, they are the absolute property of the landowner, and not of the captor (Bludes v. Higgs, 32 L. J. C. P. 182—Exch. Cham.).

Vol. 2, p. 243, —— to sect. 30, n. (b), add—Firing at game from a highway is a trespass in pursuit of game within this Act (Mayhew v. Wardley, 14 C. B. N. S. 550; 8 L. T. N. S. 504).

Vol. 2, p. 243, —— to sect. 30, n. (d), add—See also Reg. v. Stipmson and Reg. v. Peck, 32 L. J. M. C. 208.

Vol. 2, p. 251, —— after 24 Vict. c. 8, add—25 & 26 Vict. c. 114.

Vol. 2, p. 276, GAMING, to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 109, s. 18, add—If a broker be employed to make wagering contracts, illegal under this section, and at the request of his principal pays the amount due under such contract, he can recover the amount so paid from his principal; and the illegal nature of the contract with reference to which the money is paid is no defence to an action founded on such a claim (Rosewarne v. Billing, 33 L. J. C. P. 55).

Vol. 2, p. 317, GAS, to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 125, s. 4, add—A gas company, by sect. 24 of a private gas Act, passed in 1851, was precluded from charging more than 4*s.* for every 1000 cubic feet of common gas supplied by them of a certain quality:—Held, that the provisions of this Act were so inconsistent with those of the private Act as to price, that sect. 24 of the private Act was repealed; and that the company was entitled to charge 4*s.* 6*d.* per 1000 feet for common gas (Great Central Gas Consumers' Company v. Clarke, 13 C. B. N. S. 838; 32 L. J. C. P. 41—Exch. Cham.).

Vol. 2, p. 334, GUNPOWDER, to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 139, s. 7, add—Upon an information charging L. with making and keeping fireworks, explosive preparations, and compositions in a building wherein it was not lawful to make and keep them, it appeared that fog signals were manufactured and kept upon his premises, that he had not obtained a licence for their manufacture, and that his premises were within the specified distance from other buildings. Fog signals are concave pieces of tin filled with gunpowder and fitted with nipples and percussion caps, and then firmly attached to each other, in order to secure the greatest amount of explosive power. The only process carried on in his premises was mechanical. Fog signals were made for and used by railway companies. When the fog is so thick that the ordinary signals cannot easily be seen, one of them is placed on the rails, and is exploded by the pressure upon the copper caps of the wheels of an engine passing over it, making a report which is heard at a considerable distance. The construction of them is attended with some degree of danger to the persons employed in the manufacture:—Held, by Wightman, Blackburn, and Mellor, JJ., Cockburn, C. J. dubitante, that L. was liable to a penalty (Bliss v. Lilley, 3 B. & S. 128; 9 Jur. N. S. 410; 32 L. J. M. C. 3; 7 L. T. N. S. 319).

Semble, per Wightman, J., that fog signals are fireworks, and therefore L. was liable for making and keeping them contrary to this section; and per Blackburn and Mellor, JJ., L. was liable for making them in a place not licensed, contrary to sect. 6 (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 337, ——————— to sect. 25, add—By 25 & 26 Vict. c. 98, s. 1, it is enacted that the twenty-fifth and twenty-seventh sections of the principal Act shall be construed and applied as if the word gunpowder therein-mentioned included loaded percussion caps, ammunition, fireworks, fulminating mercury, or any other preparation or composition of an explosive nature.

Vol. 2, p. 340, HABEAS CORPUS, add—By 25 Vict. c. 20, post, Vol. IV. p. 967, writ not to issue out of England into any colony, &c. having a court with authority to grant such writ.

Vol. 2, p. 375, HACKNEY CARRIAGES, to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 127, s. 14, add—If two children under ten years of age are carried in excess of two persons, they shall be counted and paid for as one adult; but that if one child only be so conveyed in excess, he shall still be considered as an extra person within the meaning of the Act, and paid for accordingly (Norton v. Jones, 11 W. R. 573; 8 L. T. N. S. 241—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 382, HARBOURS, DOCKS AND PIERS, to 10 Vict. c. 27, s. 45, add—A dock company had power by a special Act to detain until payment any goods, on which the owner, consignor, or consignee should not have paid the charges for wharfage, warehouse-room, or rent, allowed by the Act; and if the goods should have been removed without payment, to distrain and detain and sell any goods of the owner, consignor, or consignee. By a subsequent Act, certain parts of this Act, including this section, were incorporated. The company, having received timber, entered or transferred into the names of C. M. & Co., who were merely agents and not the true owners, refused to deliver it to the real owners until the rates due on other goods entered or transferred into the names of C. M. & Co., in the company's books, had been paid:—Held, first, that assuming the charges to be for wharfage, the company, having dealt under the special and general Acts of parliament, had not any general lien which might have belonged to them as wharfingers at common law (Dresser v. Bosanquet, 9 Jur. N. S. 458; 32 L. J. Q. B. 57. Affirmed on appeal, 32 L. J. Q. B. 374; 11 W. R. 840—Exch. Cham.).

Vol. 2, p. 422, ———————— to sect. 2, add—Held that the word "justice" in a county, means a justice acting within the petty sessional division in which the matter arises; and therefore that justices of the county, not acting within the petty sessional division of it in which the offence under sect. 148 had been committed, had no jurisdiction to convict under sect. 129 (Reg. v. Brodhurst, 32 L. J. M. C. 168; 11 W. R. 425—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 441, ———————— to sect. 54, add—Held, that the power to determine the nature and extent of the works required to be done, is vested in the local board; and that when proceedings are taken before justices to recover penalties for non-compliance with the notices, such justices have no power to review the determination of the board (Hargreaves v. Taylor, 9 Jur. N. S. 1053; 32 L. J. M. C. 111; 11 W. R. 562; 8 L. T. N. S. 149—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 444, ———————— to sect. 64, add—Brick-making is not necessarily a noxious or offensive business, trade or manufacture (Wansteed Board of Health v. Hill, 13 C. B. N. S. 479; 9 Jur. N. S. 972; 32 L. J. M. C. 135; 11 W. R. 368; 7 L. T. N. S. 744).

Vol. 2, p. 446, ———————— to sect. 69, add—The expense of each owner should be apportioned according to the frontage of the premises, irrespective of the width of the street (Reg. v. Newport Local Board of Health, 3 B. & S. 341; 9 Jur. N. S. 746; 32 L. J. M. C. 97; 11 W. R. 263).

A railway and canal company, whose premises abut on a street, but with a fence between them and the street, is liable to be charged (Ib.).

This only authorizes an arbitration in respect of the proportion to be borne by defaulting owners, and not in respect of any question as to the expenses being reasonable or properly incurred by the board. A notice to pave, given under this section, which did not specify any particulars necessary to enable the party to do the work required, but contained a statement at the foot of it that particulars of the necessary works might be obtained from the borough surveyor's office, and it appeared that plans and specifications were lodged at that office and were seen there by the party on whom the notice had been served—was, in the absence of evidence that such plans and specifications did not give ample information of the work to be done, held sufficient (Bayley v. Wilkinson, 33 L. J. M. C. 161; see 26 & 27 Vict. c. 70, s. 10).

Vol. 2, p. 446, HEALTH (PUBLIC), to 11 & 12 Vict. c. 63, s. 69, n. (b), add—See R. v. Dukinfield Township, 32 L. J. M. C. 230.

Vol. 2. p. 446, ———————— to sect. 69, n. (c), add—The service of a notice under this section on a person de facto receiving the rent, is a service on the "owner" within the meaning of the 2nd section of this Act (Peck v. The Waterloo and Seaforth Local Board of Health, 33 L. J. M. C. 11).

Service of a notice under this section at the owner's place of business by delivering and reading it to his clerk, is a good service even under the 150th section (Mason v. Bibby 33 L. J. M. C. 105).

Vol. 2, p. 453, ———————— to sect. 89, n. (a), add—See Ringland v. Lowndes, 33 L. J. C. P. 25.

A local board of health having erroneously made a special rate, B. paid his quota before the error was discovered; five years afterwards he commenced an action against the board to recover the money back, and obtained a judgment, and afterwards sued them on the judgment demanding in his declaration a mandamus to them to make and levy a rate for the purpose of satisfying the judgment:—Held, that assuming the debt so contracted by the board was a charge within the 89th section, B. was not entitled to a mandamus to levy a rate, as the original action was not commenced within six months after the charge was incurred (Burland v. Kingston-upon-Hull Local Board of Health, 3 B. & S. 271; 9 Jur. N. S. 275; 32 L. J. Q. B. 17).

Vol. 2, p. 463, ———————— to sect. 124, add—See the circumstances under which a party attending a referee and taking part in the proceedings is precluded from saying that the arbitrator had no jurisdiction to proceed with the reference, on the ground that the time limited for making the award had expired (Ringland v. Lowndes, 33 L. J. C. P. 25).

Vol. 2, p. 463, HEALTH (PUBLIC), to 11 & 12 Vict. c. 63, s. 125, add—If arbitrators appointed under this Act allow twenty-one days from the last of their appointments to expire without entering upon the reference or making an award, they may nevertheless, if called upon by the parties afterwards, make a valid appointment of an umpire at any time before the end of three months from the date of the last appointment. Where an umpire, on a reference under the before-mentioned statute, orders one party to pay the costs of the reference, not fixing the amount, the award is perfectly valid, and the successful party may commence an action for the costs, without first having had the amount of the costs settled by the Master on taxation (Holdsworth v. Wilson, 32 L. J. Q. B. 289, Ex. Ch.; 31 L. J. Q. B. 145).

Vol. 2, p. 469, ——————— to sect. 150, add—Service of a notice under section 69, at the owner's place of business by delivering and reading it to his clerk, was held a good service even under this section. Per Pollock, C.B.—This section is in aid of the service of notices, and applies where the name of the owner or occupier is unknown, in which case it prescribes a particutar mode of delivery (Mason v. Bibby, 33 L. J. M. C. 105).

Vol. 2, p. 477, ——————— to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 121, s. 2, add—A person to whom an owner of premises resident abroad sent a power of attorney, authorising him to receive the rents, is not thereby constituted owner, so as to render him personally liable for the costs and expenses of the abatement of a nuisance on the premises previously to the receipt of his authority (Blything Union (Guardians) v. Warton, 3 B. & S. 352; 9 Jur. N. S. 867; 32 L. J. M. C. 132; 11 W. R. 306; 7 L. T. N. S. 672).

Vol. 2, p. 482, ——————— to sect. 22, add—Held, that the expression repair does not mean the reconstruction of a sewer which has been originally defectively made; but the keeping the original sewer in proper repair (Reg. v. Epsom Union, 11 W. R. 593; 8 L. T. N. S. 383—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 494, ——————— to sect. 15, add—By 26 Vict. c. 17, s. 7, the power of adopting any part or parts of "The Local Government Act, 1858," given by this act and the acts amending the same, shall not be exhausted by one adoption, but may be exercised from time to time.

26 & 27 Vict. c. 70, s. 8, enacts, where any local authority acquires under this Act any powers by virtue of section fifteen of "The Local Government Act, 1858," which are repugnant to or inconsistent with those of the local Act, the local authority shall proceed under the powers and provisions of "The Local Government Act, 1858," and wherever in any such case the last-mentioned Act and the local Act contain provisions for effecting the same or a similar object, but in different modes, the local authority may proceed under "The Local Government Act, 1858," or under the local Act.

Vol. 2, p. 494, HEALTH (PUBLIC), to 21 & 22 Vict. c. 98, s. 16, add—A district not having any ascertained or defined boundary, and a portion of a parish obtained from the Secretary of State for the Home Department an order under this sect. settling its boundaries for the purposes of this Act, and subsequently adopted this Act within the district. Afterwards the parish adopted the Act. The court refused a mandamus to the Secretary of State to publish the notice of the adoption of the Act by the district, under sect. 19, holding that sect. 14 applied to places the boundaries of which were settled by an order of the Secretary of State, and therefore that the district could not adopt the Act unless the parish had refused to do so (In re Matlock Bath District, 2 B. & S. 543).

Vol. 2, p. 495, ——————— to ss. 17 & 18, add—By 26 Vict. c. 17, s. 3, it is enacted that petitions appealing against the resolution of adoption, and praying for exclusion from the operation of the Local Government Act, under the seventeenth section of that Act, and appeals from owners and ratepayers who dispute the validity of the vote for adoption under the eighteenth section of the same Act, may be presented and had at any time before the expiration of six weeks from the date of any resolution adopting the Act. But this section is not to apply to appeals against resolutions of adoption in cases coming within 26 & 27 Vict. c. 70, s. 7.

Vol. 2, p. 499, ——————— to sect. 34, add—A local board made a bye-law, which provided, that "if any owner or person should construct, or cause to be constructed, any works, or do any act, or omit to do any act, or comply with any requirements of the local board, or should make any alterations in any works after they have been completed, whether in new or existing buildings, contrary to the provisions therein contained, the local board might cause such works to be removed, altered, or pulled down:"—Held, that the bye-law was invalid as exceeding the powers conferred by this section (Brown v. Holyhead Local Board of Health, 1 H. & C. 601).

This section applies only to buildings that have been taken down "without any previous approval of a plan, &c., for their re-election," &c. (Slee v. (Mayor, &c.) Bradford, 9 Jur. N. S. 815; 8 L. T. N. S. 491—V. C. S.).

Vol. 2, p. 499, HEALTH (PUBLIC), to 21 & 22 Vict. c. 98, s. 34, n. (a), add—The defendants, some time before the coming into operation of this Act, proposing to lay out a new street, gave the necessary notices required by the 11 & 12 Vict. c. 63, to the local board, but did not proceed to lay the street out till May, 1862. In the meantime, the local board had made a bye-law requiring notices to be given of a more detailed character than required by 11 & 12 Vict. c. 63, and they contended that the street had not been begun within the meaning of that Act, and that therefore the defendants ought to have given fresh notices so as to satisfy the new bye-law, and that they were liable to a penalty for proceeding to lay out the street without having done so. The local board thereupon summoned the defendants before justices, who dismissed the complaint:—Held, that the decision of the justices was right (Felkin v. Berridge, 9 L. T. N. S. 333—C. P.).

Vol. 2, p. 500, ——————— to sect. 38, add—See 26 & 27 Vict. c. 70, s. 10.

Vol. 2, p. 505, ——————— to sect. 55, add—Held, that a dock came under the description of "land covered by water," and that a railway constructed, under an Act of parliament for the transportation of traffic, and as accessory to the dock, but free to the public upon payment of certain rates and tolls, was a railway within the meaning of the proviso, although neither used nor intended for the conveyance of passengers (Reg. v. Newport Dock Company, 9 Jur. N. S. 73—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 507, ——————— to sect. 62, add—Notice to one who receives the rent of land de facto, without right thereto, satisfies the provision requiring notice to the owner (Peek v. Waterloo-with-Seaforth Local Board of Health, 9 Jur. N. S. 1344; 33 L. J. M. C. 11—Exch.).

Vol. 2, p. 507, ——————— to sect. 63, add—Held, that the six months limited by 11 & 12 Vict. c. 43, sect. 11, for making or laying complaint or information, must be taken to run, not from the date of the apportionment, but from the expiration of the three months within which the owner may dispute his liability (Jacomb v. Dodgson, 9 Jur. N. S. 848; 32 L. J. M. C. 113; 11 W. R. 308—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 509, ——————— to sect. 73, add—T., the lessee of a mill upon the river Skerne, enjoyed, as the representative of an ordinary riparian proprietor, the benefit and advantage of the waters of the river for the working of the mill. For the purpose of flushing sewers made by the board, some of the water was taken away from the river, and the working of the mill was stopped. During the construction of one of the sewers, some of the water of the river, and also some underground springs, which would otherwise have percolated into the river, oozed into the sewer, and thus T. lost the enjoyment of such quantity of water. By reason also of the making of the sewers, T. lost the use of certain surface drainage water, which had before been accustomed to flow into the river. No consent in writing had been obtained from T. It was held, that assuming T. had sustained injuries by the construction and continuance of these sewers, the board had injuriously affected the river and the supply of water therein, and that having acted illegally in doing so, they were not liable under the compensation clause, sect. 144 of 11 & 12 Vict. c. 63, ante 468 (R. v. The Darlington Local Board of Health, 33 L. J. Q. B. 305).

Vol. 2, p. 524, HEALTH (PUBLIC), to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 61, s. 28, add—In order to constitute a street which is a question of fact for the jury, there must be a row of houses sufficiently continuous and sufficiently proximate to one another. Semble—that a set of detached houses not being in a continuous line, but some facing one way and some another, and having no appearance of uniformity, is not a street within the above-mentioned Act of parliament (R. v. Fulford, 33 L. J. M. C. 122).

Vol. 2, p. 529, HIGHWAYS IN GENERAL, to 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 50, s. 18, add—The majority of two-thirds of the vestrymen present at a vestry meeting of a parish having voted for the appointment of such a board, a poll was demanded by the minority, which the chairman refused, and a board was then nominated and appointed. It was held, that a poll was demandable of common right; that the right was not excluded by the words of the statute; and the board were therefore not duly elected (R. v. How, 33 L. J. M. C. 53).

Vol. 2, p. 544, ——————— to sect. 70, add—This section applies to the case of a portable steam-engine upon wheels and drawn by horses, and used to drive a thrashing machine within a barn, although such steam-engine was not in any way fixed in the soil (Smith v. Stokes, 32 L. J. M. C. 199; 11 W. R. 753; 8 L. T. N. S. 425—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 547, ——————— to sect. 82, add—Where a highway, which was situate locally within the boundaries of a parish, was also within the limits of a local improvement Act, and the commissioners appointed by that Act were liable to repair, and entitled to the control and management of the highway, but no provision was made by the local Act for its diversion, the inhabitants of the parish in which the road was situate, in vestry assembled, have no authority under this Act to direct their surveyors to make an application to the justices to view the same in order to its being stopped up or diverted, and a certificate of two justices grounded on such an application is void (Wright v. Frant, 32 L. J. M. C. 204; 11 W. R. 883; 8 L. T. N. S. 455—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 550, ——————— to sect. 85, n. (d), add—Quære—The certificate seems not to be bad by reason of its not stating that the proposed new highway is nearer and more commodious to the public (Wright v. Frant, 32 L. J. M. C. 204).

Justices can only certify the diversion of a highway with reference to the existing state of circumstances, and they cannot certify on the ground that the new road will be shorter than the existing road when the latter shall have been altered pursuant to the powers given by a local Act (Reg. v. Local Board of Midgley, 33 L. J. M. C. 188).

Vol. 2, p. 551, HIGHWAYS IN GENERAL, to 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 50, s. 87, add—On an appeal against a certificate ordering the diversion of a highway and the stopping up of several others, the Quarter Sessions may quash it as to the diversion, and confirm it as to the stopping up; although this section, giving this power of partial confirmation, is confined in terms to an appeal against a certificate for diverting more highways than one (R. v. The Local Board of Midgley, 33 L. J. M. C. 188).

Vol. 2, p. 553, ——————— to sect. 90, line 1, "required," add—This is imperative (R. v. Yorkshire, W. R., 31 L. J. M. C. 271; 2 B. & S. 811).

Notice of appeal to sessions against stopping a highway having been given, the respondent gave notice of abandonment. The appeal was nevertheless entered, and was called on, when, no one appearing in support of it, it was struck out. An application was made later in the day for the appellant to reinstate the appeal, and order the appellant's costs, which was refused:—It was held, that the appellant was entitled to have the appeal reinstated, and an order made for costs under this section (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 556, ——————— to sect. 95, n. (d), add — Under this section an indictment having been directed by justices to be preferred, a bill was found at the spring assizes, and at the following summer assizes the defendants pleaded guilty, having some days before given notice to the prosecutor of their intention to do so:—Held, overruling the previous cases, that the judge had power to direct the costs of the prosecution to be paid out of the highway rate (Reg. v. Haslemere, 3 B. & S. 313; 9 Jur. N. S. 573).

An indictment for non-repair of a highway came on to be tried at the assizes, when the jury were discharged without a verdict, they being unable to agree:—Held, that the judge could not direct the costs of such trial to be paid out of the highway rate (Reg. v. Heytesbury, 8 L. T. N. S. 315—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 556, ——————— to sect. 95, add—See R. v. James, 32 L. J. M. C. 211; 23 & 24 Vict. c. 68, s. 40.

Vol. 2, p. 589, ——— (SOUTH WALES), to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 68, s. 40, add—Where, on the hearing of a summons, under this sect. against the district surveyor of highways for the non-repair of a highway in a parish, the liability to repair is disputed on behalf of the parish, the justices have power to direct an indictment to be preferred under sect. 95 of the General Highway Act, 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 50 (R. v. James, 32 L. J. M. C. 211).

Vol. 2, p. 590b, HIGHWAYS IN GENERAL, to 25 & 26 Vict. c. 61, s. 7, add—A parish claimed to be exempted from being included in a highway district, under this section, by reason of its highways being under the superintendence of a board established under 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 50, s. 18. The highway board under 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 50, s. 18, was constituted at a vestry meeting in November, 1862, by a majority of two-thirds of the vestrymen present, the chairman having refused to grant a poll which was demanded at the meeting:—Held, that a poll ought to have been granted, and that therefore the highway board, under sect. 18 of 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 50, was not properly created, and so the parish was not exempt from being included in the highway district (Reg. v. How, 9 L. T. N. S. 385—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 591 ——————— to sect. 9, add—For removing doubts as to highway boards established under this act being liable to contribute to repair of turnpike roads, in pursuance of 4 & 5 Vict. c. 59, &c., see 26 & 27 Vict. c. 94.

Vol. 2, p. 591, ——————— to sect. 10, n. (c), add—As to the penalty on highwardens being concerned in contracts within their own districts, see 26 & 27 Vict. c. 61.

Vol. 2, p. 596, ——— (TURNPIKE), to 3 Geo. 4, c. 126, s. 28, n. (a), add—R. went through a turnpike with a cart laden with garden produce, packed in baskets, paid the toll, and returned next day with the cart laden with manure, upon the top of which were placed the empty baskets. The toll-keeper demanded toll in respect of the baskets, which R. refused to pay:—Held, that he was exempt from payment of toll, by this section, which is unrepealed by 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 18, s. 1 (Richens v. Wiggens, 9 Jur. N. S. 1055; 32 L. J. M. C. 144; 11 W. R. 617; 8 L. T. N. S. 384—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 598, ——————— to sect. 32, n. (b), add—A carriage and horses belonging to the queen, driven by her coachman, and used by a member of her household, or his family, with the queen's permission, though not upon her service, are exempt from turnpike tolls (Westover v. Perkins, 2 El. & El. 57).

Vol. 2, p. 606, ——————— to sect. 55, n. (e), add—A lessee of turnpike tolls compounded with a person using the road for tolls for three years:—Held, that such an agreement was not prohibited by this sect. (Stott v. Clegg, 13 C. B. N. S. 619; 9 Jur. N. S. 945; 32 L. J. C. P. 102; 11 W. R. 366; 7 L. T. N. S. 714).

Vol. 2, p. 607, ——————— to sect. 57, add—Held, that an agreement for the letting of tolls, signed by the clerk of trustees, and by the lessee or farmer of the tolls, was valid, and therefore could be enforced by the trustees notwithstanding it had not been signed by the sureties; their execution of the agreement being a formality for the benefit of the trustees, which they might waive without prejudice to their rights against the lessee or farmer of the tolls (Markham v. Stanford, 14 C. B. N. S. 376; 8 L. T. N. S. 277).

Vol. 2, p. 625, HIGHWAYS (TURNPIKE), to 3 Geo. 4, c. 126, s. 121, add—A vehicle composed of a rough skeleton of woodwork, fifteen feet long, having two wheels placed behind the centre, the forepart being shod with iron, which in going down hill comes in contact with the ground, retarding its descent, is not a wheel carriage, within this section (Radnorshire County Roads Board v. Evans, 3 B. & S. 400; 9 Jur. N. S. 890; 32 L. J. M. C. 100; 7 L. T. N. S. 677).

A person using such a vehicle for the carriage of straw, cannot be convicted, straw not being of ejusdem generis with timber or stone (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 668, ——— to 1 & 2 Will. 4, c. 25, s. 1, add—The exemption from toll on a turnpike-road, contained in this section, in respect of sheep or cattle going to pasture, is not confined to farmers occupying farms in the locality of a toll-gate. And a person who was a cattle-dealer as well as farmer, and who, occupying two pasture-fields between which was a turnpike-road and toll-gate, removed sheep from one field to the other to pasture, in order to send them the next day fresher to market, and in so removing them passed them on the turnpike road and through the said toll-gate, was held entitled to such exemption (Warnby v. Deakin, 32 L. J. M. C. 201).

Vol. 2, p. 685, ——— to 24 & 25 Vict. c. 126, n. (a), add—Volunteers in uniform, going to attend a mere voluntary rifle match at a duly appointed place of rifle practice, but open to all the world, are not entitled to exemption from toll under this Act (Teather v. Turner, 11 W. R. 425; 7 L. T. N. S. 785—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 826, INDIA, to 21 & 22 Vict. c. 106, add—A pension awarded by the secretary of state for India, subsequently to this Act, to an officer in her majesty's Indian army upon his retirement from service, and also an annuity granted by the secretary of state for India to the same officer, in addition to his retiring pension, held to be assignable (Carew v. Cooper, 33 L. J. Ch. 289).

Vol. 2, p. 845, INSURANCE, to 14 Geo. 3, c. 48, s. 1, n. (a), and s. 3, add—A promise by a creditor to a debtor that the payment of the debt shall not be enforced during his (the creditor's) lifetime, is not sufficient (without any consideration or circumstance to make such promise binding) to confer upon the debtor an insurable interest in the life of the creditor (Hebden v. West, 9 Jur. N. S. 747; 32 L. J. Q. B. 85; 11 W. R. 422; 7 L. T. N. S. 854).

A contract between a master and servant for seven years' service, at a fixed salary, is sufficient to create such an interest, but to the extent only of so much of the period of seven years as remained at the time of the effecting of the policy (Ib.).

Where a person, having an insurable interest in the life of another, insured such life to the full extent of his interest in more than one company, from one of which, at the falling of the life insured, he received payment of the amount for which the policy was effected:—Held, that he was precluded from recovering or receiving more from the others (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 858, INTERMENT, to 15 & 16 Vict. c. 85, s. 32, add—See Hornby v. The Toxteth Park Board, 31 Beav. 53.

Vol. 2, p. 862, ——— to sect. 52, n. (a), add—Mandamus to the overseers of a parish, reciting that a burial board had been appointed for the parish, commanded them to pay out of the poor rates of the parish the expenses incurred by that board. Return, that, in 1840, before the constitution of the burial board for the parish, that parish had been, under 58 Geo. 3, c. 45, divided into three separate parishes for all ecclesiastical purposes; but did not show that either of the new parishes had appointed a burial board under 20 & 21 Vict. c. 81, s. 5:—Held, no answer (Reg. v. Walcot (Overseers), 2 B. & S. 555).

Vol. 2, p. 869, ——— to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 128, s. 4, add—It was held that a vacancy having occurred, the vestry might fill it up after the month had expired, the burial board not having done so (R. v. the Overseers of South Weald, 33 L. J. M. C. 193).

Vol. 2, p. 869, ——— to sect. 11, add—Where two parishes or places, each maintaining its own poor, are united together for ecclesiastical purposes, a burial board for the whole district, appointed by the vote of the vestry, or meeting in the nature of a vestry, is properly constituted (Reg. v. Coleshill (Overseers), 2 B. & S. 825; 9 Jur. N. S. 226).

Vol. 2, p. 870, ——— to sects. 12 & 13, add—Prior to this statute, the parish of T. included T. W., an ecclesiastical district formed under 58 Geo. 3, c. 45, and S., a hamlet containing a church, to which a district had been assigned under 1 & 2 Will. 4, c. 38. Neither T. W. nor S. separately maintained their own poor (there being a common poor-rate for the entire parish of T.), but each had its separate burial ground. A vestry meeting "of the inhabitants of the parish of T." was called by notice affixed to the doors of all the churches in the parish, including that at S., but excluding those in T. W., to consider whether a burial ground should be provided for such part of the parish of T. as was not included in T. W., and, if so, to appoint a burial board for such part of the parish. A burial board for T., excluding T. W., was appointed at this meeting:—Held, that the board was well appointed; that a poor-rate made on that part of T. for which such board was appointed, for defraying the expenses of the board, was good; and that occupiers of property in S. were properly assessed to the rate; for that though T. W. was entitled to a separate burial board, S was not (Viner v. Tonbridge (Overseers), 2 El. & El. 9).

Vol. 2, p. 873, ——— to 20 & 21 Vict. c.

81, s. 5, add—A mandamus, reciting that the parish of W. had been divided into three parishes for ecclesiastical purposes, and that the vestry of the parish of St. S., being one of them, had appointed a burial board, and resolved that a burial ground should be provided, and that the burial board should be authorised to incur expenses for that purpose, and that the burial board has certified that 49*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* was required for defraying expenses incurred, and directed the overseers of the parish of W. to pay such sum to the clerk of the burial board; commanded the overseers to pay or raise the said sum according to the certificate. Return, that, before the meeting of the vestry of St. S. for determining whether a burial ground should be provided for that parish, a burial board was appointed for the original parish of W.:—Held, no answer; as the appointment of a burial board for the original parish did not prevent the ecclesiastical parish of St. S. from appointing a separate burial board (Reg. v. Walcot, St. Swithin (Overseers), 2 B. & S. 571).

Vol. 2, p. 880, INTERPLEADER, to 1 & 2 Will. 4, c. 58, s. 1, n. (a), add—An equitable claim is not the subject of an interpleader summons (Hurst v. Sheldon, 13 C. B. N. S. 750).

A court of law is not bound by the principles which govern courts of equity upon a bill of interpleader, and may give relief although one of the parties has incurred to another a personal obligation independently of the question of property, and the claims are not identical (Best v. Hayes, 1 H. & C. 718; 32 L. J. Exch. 129).

The defendant, an auctioneer, sold for the plaintiff some furniture, and paid him a part of the proceeds; but whilst the balance was in his hands, G. gave him notice that the furniture belonged to her. The plaintiff having brought an action against the defendant for the balance, he sought to deduct his charges for commission, and applied for an interpleader order between the plaintiff and G. as to the residue, G. being willing to allow the defendant his charges:—Held, that a judge has power to make the interpleader order, if not under this section, under the 12th section of the 23 & 24 Vict. c. 126 (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 888, JUDGMENTS, to 43 Geo. 3, c. 46, s. 4, n. (d), add—In an action upon a judgment, the court in which the action is brought, or a judge, has a discretion vested in them, by this statute, as to whether the plaintiff shall have his costs of the action or not; and that discretion is not taken away by 7 & 8 Vict. c. 96, s. 57, by reason of the sum recovered in the original action not exceeding 20*l.* (Dickinson v. Angell, 32 L. J. Q. B. 183; Adams v. Rad, 6 H. & N. 261 disproved. Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 893, ——————— to 1 & 2 Vict. c. 110, s. 13, n. (a), add—See Eyre v. M'Dowell, 9 H. L. Cas. 620.

Vol. 2, p. 895, ——————— to sect. 18, add—An order of the Probate Court for the payment of money is not a charge on land within the meaning of this section (Pratt v. Bull, 4 Giff. 117: 9 Jur. N. S. 40. Affirmed on appeal, 9 Jur. N. S. 239; 32 L. J. Ch. 144; 11 W. R. 294; 7 L. T. N. S. 702—C.).

Vol. 2, p. 895, JUDGMENTS, to 1 & 2 Vict. c. 110, s. 18, n. (f), add—A decree for payment of what shall be found due to the plaintiff upon an account directed by the decree, does not entitle him to a charging order under this section (Chadwick v. Holt, 8 De G. Mac. & G. 584).

Vol. 2, p. 909, ——————— to 23 & 24 Vict. c. 38, s. 3, add—This section does not apply to judgments obtained against a personal representative; and consequently such judgments, if obtained before decree, must, though not registered until after decree, be paid in perference to simple contract debts, and in order of priority according to the dates of their being entered up (In re Rigby, and Jennings v. Rigby, 33 L. J. Ch. 149).

This section is not restricted in its operation to the protection of heirs, executors, and administrators against claims by unregistered judgment creditors, but absolutely deprives unregistered judgment debts of all priority in the administration of assets; and the Act applies equally to judgments of County Courts as to other judgments (In re Turner, and Walter v. Turner, 33 L. J. Ch. 232).

Vol. 2, p. 964, JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, to 11 & 12 Vict. c. 43, s. 5, add—See Wilson v. Stuart or Stewart, 32 L. J. M. C. 198—Q. B.

Vol. 2, p. 965, ——————— to sect. 10, n. (a), add—The using several oaths on one and the same occasion is one offence only (R. v. Scott, 33 L. J. M. C. 15).

Vol. 2, p. 965, ——————— to sect. 11, n. (b), add—To constitute an offence under 5 Geo. 4, c. 83, s. 4, there must be a running away and deserting a wife or child, and a chargeability to a parish by reason of it. Therefore it is sufficient, if the information is laid within six months of the chargeability, although the running away took place more than six months before the information was laid (Reeve v. Yeates, 1 H. & C. 435).

Vol. 2, p. 967, ——————— to sect. 14, add—It is the duty of justices summarily convicting to cause the conviction to be lodged with the clerk of the peace pursuant to this section, and on proof of neglect to do so on the part of the justices in any particular instance, proceedings may be had against them; but the clerk to the justices being only their servant, a mandamus cannot be granted to compel him to lodge all the convictions which have been made by the justices during a certain period (Hayward, Ex parte, 9 Jur. N. S. 820; 32 L. J. M. C. 89; 11 W. R. 258; 7 L. T. N. S. 622—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 970, ——————— to sect. 27, n. (a), add—On an appeal against a poor-rate, the Court of Quarter Sessions awarded 21*l.* 15*s.* 2*d.* to be paid to the respondents for their costs, and further directed the appellant to pay the same to the clerk of the peace for the use of the parties entitled to the same:—This was held a proper form of order (Gay v. Matthews, 33 L. J. M. C. 14).

Vol. 2, p. 973, JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, to 11 & 12 Vict. c. 43, s. 35, add—By 26 & 27 Vict. c. 77, it is enacted, That "the thirty-fifth section of the principal Act shall not apply to or control the sixth section of the same Act, and such last-mentioned section shall be construed as if the thirty-fifth section were not and never had been contained in the principal Act; and any Acts done or orders made by justices previously to the passing of this Act which would have been valid if this Act had been passed at the respective dates of such Acts being done or orders made, shall be and are hereby declared to be valid accordingly."

Vol. 2, p. 995, ——————— to 20 & 21 Vict. c. 43, s. 2, n. (c), add—A case was sent to the appellant's attorney, and by him forwarded by the next post to his London agent, with instructions to lodge it at the office of the court. The London agent, under the impression that it would be in time if lodged previously to the commencement of the ensuing term, detained it for eight days before doing so:—Held, that this was not a compliance with this section, the transmission being incomplete until actual lodgment of the case in the office of the court (Banks v. Goodwin, 9 Jur. N. S. 891; 32 L. J. M. C. 87; 11 W. R. 309; 7 L. T. N. S. 740—Q. B.).

After a case has been stated and signed by the justices, and delivered to the appellant, it becomes wholly inoperative, and no appeal can be had upon it, unless the appellant transmit it to the court within three days after he has received it from the justices. If after the expiration of the three days the case remains in the appellant's hands, and he takes it back to the justices, the justices have no power of amending it; and if they do so in fact, the appellant does not gain a further period of three days from the date of the amendment for transmitting the case to the court (Gloucester Board of Health) v. Chandler, 32 L. J. M. C. 66—Q. B.).

Vol. 2, p. 996, ——————— to sect. 6, n. (h), add—The duty of the court is simply to answer the question of law put to them by the magistrates (Buckmaster v. Reynolds, 13 C. B. N. S. 63).

Vol. 2, p. 997, ——————— to sect. 6. n. (b), add—A respondent, though he do not appear, may be liable to the costs of an appeal (The Wednesbury Local Board of Health v. Stephenson, 33 L. J. M. C. 111).

Where a case had been lodged with the officer of the court, but due notice had not been given by the appellant to the respondent, the court has no jurisdiction over it, and therefore cannot give costs to the respondent (Conway v. Richardson, 9 L. T. N. S. 549—Q. B. Ir.).

Vol. 2, p. 998, ——————— to schedule A, add—On an appeal from justices, the case was sent back to be re-stated, and ultimately judgment was given for the appellant, with costs. On the taxation, the master allowed to the appellant the costs of preparing the case beyond the fees allowed to the clerk of the justices by sect. 3, and schedule A., and also the costs of amending the case:—Held, that the taxation was right (Glover v. Booth, 2 B. & S. 807; 9 Jur. N. S. 76).

Vol 2, p. 1088, LANDLORD AND TENANT, to 52 Hen. 3, c. 4, s. 1, n. (a), add—Where a landlord distrains goods of his tenant for rent in such a manner as to render himself a trespasser ab initio, the measure of damages is the full value of the goods seized (Attack v. Bramwell, 9 Jur. N. S. 892; 32 L. J. Q. B. 146).

Vol. 2, p. 1102, ——————— to 2 Will. & M. sess. 1, c. 5, s. 2, add—Upon the equity of this statute a tender by the tenant of the rent due, and costs, to the person distraining, within five days after the distress is taken, and before sale, though after the distress has been impounded, in accordance with 11 Geo. 2, c. 19, s. 10, is a good tender (Johnson v. Upham, 2 El. & El. 250).

Vol. 2, p. 1109, ——————— to 8 Ann. c. 14, s. 7, n. (c), add—The distress must be made during the possession of the tenant from whom the rent becomes due (Turner v. Barnes, 2 B. & S. 435).

Vol. 2, p. 1109, ——————— to sects. 6 & 7, add—Quære—Where, in a lease for years, &c., there is a proviso for re-entry on non-payment of rent, and rent being in arrear, the lessor distrains within six months after the forfeiture had accrued—whether, since this Act the distress, without more, would be a waiver of the forfeiture (Ward v. Day, 33 L. J. Q. B. 3).

Vol. 2, p. 1119, ——————— to 11 Geo. 2, c. 19, s. 10, n. (a), add—Semble, that a distress is sufficiently impounded, in accordance with this section, where, with the consent of the tenant, the person distraining makes an inventory of part of the goods distrained, serves it, together with notice of the distress, on the tenant, and leaves a man in possession on the premises, but does not disturb, lock-up, or remove any of the goods (Johnson v. Upham, 2 El. & El. 250, supra).

Vol. 2, p. 1138, ——————— to 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 22, s. 2, n. (e), add—If a company is so constituted that its dividends are to be declared, and therefore become due at fixed periods, such dividends are within this Act and apportionable (In re Maxwell, 9 Jur. N. S. 350; 32 L. J. Ch. 333).

Secus, as to the dividends of companies; as railway companies governed by the Companies' Clauses Act, which have no fixed period for declaring a dividend, and are under no obligation to declare a dividend at all (Ib.).

When a dividend is apportionable, it is with reference to the last payment, not to the period during which the profits were earned, that the proportions are to be calculated (Ib.).

Where stocks are sold between dividend days, the court of chancery will not apportion the proceeds of sale, so as to give a tenant for life the value of the current dividend included in the proceeds (Scholefield v. Redfern, 32 L. J. Ch. 627).

The rule is the same, though the subject matter sold may consist of debentures or securities carrying interest de die in diem (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 1148, LANDS CLAUSES, to 8 Vict. c. 18, n. (a), add—The provisions of this Act with respect to costs of sales and conveyances of lands taken for an undertaking, held to be applicable to sales and conveyances under an Act of later date, which authorised taking of lands, but made no provision for such costs, notwithstanding the later Act in no way referred to this Act (Re Cherry's Estate, 31 L. Vol. 2, p. 1152, ——————— to sects. 16 & 17, add—These sections were intended to prevent bubble schemes from being set on foot, and to provide an ample security to the public that their land should not be taken and persons disturbed without a reasonable certainty of the undertaking being carried into effect. The reason, therefore, for the enactment does not apply to the case of an old-established company, and one which has ample funds for the purpose (Weld v. *The South-Western Rail. Vol. 2, p. 1158, ——————— to sect. 38, add—This section does not apply to inquiries taken under sect. 68, as to lands injuriously affected. The promoters of the undertaking may make fresh offers of compensation so long as they make them before giving the requisite notice of the time and place of inquiry (In re Heywood v. *The Metropolitan Rail. Vol. 2, p. 1162, ——————— to sect. 51, add—This section applies to inquiries taken under sect. 68, as to lands injuriously affected (In re Hayward v. The Metropolitan Rail. Co., 33, L. J. Q. B. 73).

Vol. 2, p. 1164, ——————— to sect. 63, add—The plaintiffs, who were brewers, were the owners in fee of a public-house which was let for an unexpired term of seven years, and there was in the lease a covenant by the tenant not to sell on the premises any beer other than that purchased of plaintiffs; defendants were empowered, by their special Act, to take the premises:—It was held, that in ascertaining, under sects. 18 and this section the amount of purchase-money and compensation to be paid by defendants to plaintiffs, the additional value of the premises by reason of the covenant to sell plaintiffs' beer only was to be taken into consideration (Bourne v. the Mayor, &c., of Liverpool, 33 L. J. Q. B. 15).

Vol. 2, p. 1164, ——————— to sect. 68, n. (b) add—After compensation awarded by a sheriff's jury, the party against whom such compensation has been adjudged, may, nevertheless, in an action against him for the amount and costs, plead that the lands in respect of which the compensation was allotted were not injuriously affected (Read v. The Victoria & Pimlico Rail. Co., 7 H. & C. 826; 9 Jur. N. S. 1061; 32 L. J. Ex. 167).

Vol. 2, p. 1164, ——————— to sect. 68, n. (d) add—Where a railway company took land of L. under their Act, and proposed to make their railway on it so close to a cotton-mill belonging to L. that by reason of the proximity of the railway and the danger of fire from the trains using the line the building was less suitable for a cotton-mill, could only be insured at an increased premium, and was rendered of less saleable value:—It was held, that L. was entitled to compensation in respect of the mill being so injuriously affected, and that the rule that compensation could only be given for that which unless sanctioned by the private statute would otherwise have been an actionable wrong, had no application to cases where the act complained of was done on claimant's own land, taken from him by the company by force of their statute (In re the Stockport, Timperley & Altringham Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Q. B. 251).

Loss of trade is an injurious affecting (Senior v. The Metropolitan Rail. Co., 32 L. J. Ex. 235; Chamberlain v. West End Rail. Co., 31 L. J. Q. B. 201).

On an inquisition under this section the only question that can be inquired into is the amount of compensation for the damage actually done, and there is no jurisdiction to inquire into the legal rights of the claimant (R. v. The Metropolitan Rail. Co., 32 L. J. Q. B. 367; R. v. London & North-Western Rail. Co., 3 E. & B. 443).

Where the claimant, under this section, claims one sum as compensation for premises having been injuriously affected, and another in respect of loss of business, it is not necessary in the offer to mention one lump sum, but the promoters may offer one sum as compensation in respect of the premises having been injuriously affected, and another as compensation in respect of loss of business, and if the jury give the same sum in the aggregate as the sum offered, although they reverse the position of the two sums, the claimant cannot get the costs of the inquiry (In re Hayward v. The Metropolitan Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Q. B. 73).

Vol. 2, p. 1166, LANDS CLAUSES, to 8 Vict. c. 18, s. 68, add—If the inquiry takes place before a jury and the costs are settled by one of the Masters of the Queen's Bench under sect. 52, his decision, if subject to review at all, is only subject to the review of the Court of Queen's Bench (The Metropolitan Rail. Co. v. Turnham, 32 L. J. M. C. 249).

Vol. 2, p. 1166, ——————— to sect. 68, n. (a) add—An offer of compensation in respect of lands injuriously affected by the execution of works coming within this Act, may be made at any time before the notice of the time and place of inquiry is given to the person claiming compensation under this section, such notice being given as required by section 46, not less than ten days before the inquiry is to take place (In re Hayward v. The Metropolitan Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Q. B. 73).

Vol. 2, p. 1166, ——————— to sect. 68, n. (b) add—See Knapp v. London, Chatham, &c., Rail. Co., 32 L. J. Ex. 236.

Vol. 2, p. 1173, ——————— to sect. 82 add—The H. Rail. Co. agreed to pay for certain lands which they required a sum equal to thirty-five years' purchase on the ground-rents. The lands required were held in lease with other lands, and an apportionment became necessary, in the course of which considerable expenses were incurred:—It was held that the costs of apportioning the ground-rents must be regarded as incurred in ascertaining the price, and not as incidental to the conveyance or deduction of title, and that the company was otherwise not liable to pay the same under this section (In re the Hampstead Junction Rail. Co., ex parte Buck, 33 L. J. Ch. 79).

Vol. 2, p. 1173, ——————— to sect. 84, add—The Thames Embankment Act incorporates this Act, with the additional provision, that the word "lands" shall include easements and interests in land. M., the owner of a wharf on the Thames, had a right of free access from the river, and also the right of loading and unloading barges at his wharf. There was no campshed or hard, but at low water the barges rested on the mud of the foreshore. The Metropolitan Board of Works were proceeding, under the Thames Embankment Act, to fill up the river in front of M.'s wharf. Thereupon M. filed a bill to restrain them from doing so without first making a deposit and entering into a bond under this Act:—It was held, that the Metropolitan Board was not taking and using for the purposes of the undertaking any easement or interest in lands belonging to the plaintiff, but was only injuriously affecting his rights (Macey v. The Metropolitan Board of Works, 33 L. J. Ch. 377).

Whether the machinery for ascertaining compensation prescribed by the Lands Clauses Act, or that prescribed by the Metropolitan Local Management Act, 18 & 19 Vict. c. 120 s. 225, is primarily applicable to the Thames Embankment Act—quære (Ib.).

Vol. 2, p. 1176, LANDS CLAUSES, to 8 Vict. c. 18, s. 92, n. (b) add—It seems doubtful whether a strip of meadow land is a "part of a house," within the meaning of this section. On appeal, Lord Justice Turner held that the strip of land being held for pleasure only, and not of necessity for the enjoyment and occupation of the residence, it would not have passed by a conveyance of the "house" simply. Dissentiente Lord Justice Knight Bruce (Fergusson v. the London, Brighton, &c., Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Ch. 29).

Vol. 2, p. 1176, ——————— to sect. 92, n. (c) add—Where the plaintiffs had erected and covered in three new houses; but while they were in an unfinished state, a railway company required a portion of the land intended to be attached to them as gardens, it was held under this section that the company was bound to purchase the whole of the property; although the houses had never been completed, and had fallen into a state of great dilapidation (Alexander v. the Crystal Palace Rail. Co., 30 Beav. 556. See Gardner v. The Charing Cross Rail. Co., 2 John. & Hem. 248; 31 L. J. Ch. 181).

Vol. 2, p. 1176, ——————— to sect. 92, n. (d), add—A landowner, part of whose house within the meaning of this Act is taken by a railway company, cannot, under this section, compel the company to take any portion, beyond what it requires, less than the whole (per Turner, L. J., semble, agreeing with the Master of the Rolls). A field, separated from the garden of a house by a ha-ha, traversed by a gravel walk leading to a coachman's house at the further end thereof, and used occasionally for purposes of pleasure (as archery and dancing), though chiefly as pasture for cows, was held, by Turner, L. J. (dubitante Knight Bruce, L. J.) not to be part of the house within this section. This section is applicable, although the landowner may have only a leasehold interest—semble (Pulling v. London, Chatham, &c., Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Ch. 505).

VOL. III.

Vol. 3, p. 3, LIMITATION OF ACTIONS, to 21 Jac. 1, c. 16, s. 3, n. (a), add—A. was owner of houses standing on land which was surrounded by the lands of B., C., and D. E. was owner of mines running underneath the lands of all these persons. He worked the mines in such a manner (without actual negligence) that the lands of B., C., and D. sank in; and after more than six years' interval the sinking occasioned an injury to the houses of A. :—Held, that a right of action accrued to A. when this injury actually occurred, and that his right was not barred by the Statute of Limitations (Backhouse v. Bonomi, 9 H. L. Cas. 503).

Vol. 3, p. 4, ——————— to sect. 3, n. (a), add—A note being given by A. and a surety, to a banker, and a contemporaneous memorandum of agreement, showing the note to be given as security for the banking account to be kept by A. with the bank :—Held, that the Statute of Limitations did not run from the time when A. became indebted to the bank, but from the time when the balance was struck (Hartland v. Jukes, 1 H. & C. 667; 9 Jur. N. S. 180; 32 L. J. Ex. 162; 11 W. R. 519; 7 L. T. N. S. 792).

Vol. 3, p. 14, ——————— to 9 Geo. 4, c. 14, s. 1, n. (a), add—In 1853, H., as principal, and the defendant as surety, gave to the plaintiff their joint and several promissory note for payment of 200*l.* on demand. In 1861, H. assigned all his property for the benefit of his creditors, and the defendant signed and gave to the plaintiff the following letter :—"I hereby consent to your receiving the dividend under H.'s assignment, and agree that your so doing shall not prejudice your claim upon me for the same debt." The plaintiff accordingly received the dividend, and in 1862 sued the defendant for the balance of the note :—Held, first, that the letter was not an acknowledgment of the debt, so as to take the case out of the Statute of Limitations (Cockrill v. Sparke, 1 H. & C. 699; 9 Jur. N. S. 307; 32 L. J. Ex. 118; 11 W. R. 428; 7 L. T. N. S. 752).

An agreement to refer certain accounts between the parties hereto, after reciting that disputes had arisen between them in respect of them, empowered the arbitrators by their award to ascertain what was due and of right payable, and to order any sum which might be found due to be paid at such times and in such proportions as they should seem fit. The arbitration having proved abortive:—Held, that the agreement amounted to a conditional recognition of the debt only on the part of the debtor, and that the condition being unfulfilled, it did not amount to a sufficient acknowledgment of the debt to take it out of the operation of the statute (Hales v. Stevenson, 9 Jur. N. S. 300—Q. B.—Affirmed on appeal, 11 W. R. 952; 8 L. T. N. S. 798—Exch. Cham.).

Commissioners under a local improvement Act, which required the attendance of five at least to form a quorum at their meetings, appointed a sub-committee of three to examine into the state of their finances. The sub-committee made a report, showing certain sums to be due from the commissioners; and at a regular meeting of the commissioners, resolutions were passed, thanking the sub-committee, and ordering the report to be printed, and certain additional rates, recommended by the report, to be levied :—Held, that this did not amount to a sufficient acknowledgment of the debt to defeat the operation of the statute (Bush v. Martin, 9 Jur. N. S. 851; 11 W. R. 1078; 8 L. T. N. S. 509—Exch.).

Vol. 3, p. 18, LIMITATION OF ACTIONS, to 9 Geo. 4, c. 14, s. 1, n. (a), add—A defendant, in order to take a debt, pleaded as a set-off, out of the operation of the Statute of Limitations, gave in evidence a letter written by the plaintiff to Q., a third person, stating an account showing the existence of the debt from the plaintiff to the defendant, but also that a balance was due from the defendant to the plaintiff; and proposing to settle the matter upon payment by the defendant to the plaintiff of a sum named. The defendant had not acceded to the proposal :—Held, that the letter was not a sufficient acknowledgment of the debt, to defeat the operation of the statute (Francis v. Hawkesley, 1 El. & El. 1052).

Vol. 3, p. 19, ——————— to sect. 1, n. (a), add—After an administration decree, an executor has no right, as against parties interested in the estate, to give an acknowledgment to take a debt out of the operation of this statute (Phillips v. Beale, 32 Beav. 26).

Vol. 3, p. 33, ——————— to 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 27, s. 7, n. (a), add—In 1830, A. enclosed about six acres of waste land, and built a cottage thereon, and was allowed to remain in possession, without acknowledgment or payment of rent, to 1845, when the steward of the owner of the fee served him with a declaration and notice in ejectment; whereupon A. consented to give up four acres of the land, on his being allowed to continue in possession of the cottage and the other two acres until his death. A. died in 1861 :—Held, that that which took place in 1845 amounted to an actual entry, and operated as a determination of the original tenancy at will, and the creation of a new tenancy; and consequently that the period of limitation was to be reckoned from that time (Locke v. Matthews, 13 C. B. N. S. 753; 9 Jur. N. S. 874; 32 L. J. C. P. 98; 11 W. R. 343; 7 L. T. N. S. 824).

Vol. 3, p. 43, LIMITATION OF ACTIONS, to 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 27, s. 24, n. (b), add—A testator, by will, charged all his real estate with payment of his debts, if his personal estate was insufficient to pay them, and directed his executors to raise sufficient for their payment by mortgage or otherwise :—Held (affirming the decision of Romilly, M. R., 31 Beav. 511 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 60), that this did not create an express trust within the exception contained in this Act (Dickenson v. Teasdale, 1 De G. J. & Sm. 52 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 237 ; 32 L. J. Ch. 37 ; 7 L. T. N. S. 655).

Vol. 3, p. 46, ——————— to sect. 25, n. (a), add—A devise of real estate subject and charged with legacies does not create an express trust in favour of the legatees (Proud v. Proud, 32 Beav. 234 ; 32 L. J. Ch. 125).

Vol. 3, p. 50, ——————— to sect. 28, n. (b), add—A first mortgagee in possession for more than twenty years was applied to by the solicitor of a subsequent incumbrancer for an account of the rents and profits. He replied as follows:—"In answer to your letter, I beg to say that I deny the claim of your client. I need only add, that if he were entitled to the account it would be of no use, as the rents and profits of the estate have never been sufficient to pay the interest of the first charge :"—Held, not to be an acknowledgment of the second incumbrancer's right to redeem (Thompson v. Bowyer, 9 Jur. N. S. 863 ; 11 W. R. 975—R.).

Vol. 3, p. 60, ——————— to sect. 42, n. (a), add—By a mortgage of freeholds, in 1848, to secure money advanced by twelve persons, the property was conveyed to a trustee, with a proviso for redemption and a power of sale, and a declaration that out of the proceeds of sale he should pay the principal "and all interest thereon from the day of the date thereof." The mortgagor having died insolvent, and the trustee having, in 1862, sold the property :—Held, that the case was not taken out of this section by the declaration of trust of the proceeds of sale, and therefore that only six years' arrears of interest could be retained (Mason v. Broadbent, 12 W. R. 1118 ; 9 L. T. N. S. 565—R.).

Vol. 3, p. 60, ——————— to sect. 42, n. (b), add—An acknowledgment by a mortgagor of more than six years' arrears of interest being due upon a first mortgage does not preclude a puisne mortgagee from relying on the Statute of Limitations (Bolding v. Lane, 1 De G. J. & Sm. 122 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 506).

Therefore where a mortgagor was, but a second mortgagee was not, a party to a transfer of a first mortgage, the interest on which was, and was in the transfer recited to be, upwards of six years in arrear :—Held, that notwithstanding this recital, the second mortgagee was entitled to redeem the first mortgagee, on payment of principal and six years' arrears only of interest (Ib.).

Vol. 3, p. 64, ——————— to 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 42, s. 5, n. (c), add—In 1833, trustees of a marriage settlement lent to the husband, at interest, some of the money settled to the separate use of his wife, on security of the joint bond of the husband and the defendant. No interest was paid ; but on the 31st October, 1847, it was arranged between the trustees and the husband and wife that she should give the trustees her receipt for the interest up to that date, which she accordingly did. She afterwards from time to time gave receipts for each half-year's interest up to November, 1860. No money ever passed :—Held, that the transaction amounted to a payment or satisfaction of the interest (Amos v. Smith, 1 H. & C. 238).

Vol. 3, p. 69, LIMITATION OF ACTIONS, to 19 & 20 Vict. c. 97, s. 14, add—An acknowledgment by one of several drawers of a joint and several promissory note, does not (since this Act) take it out of the statute as against the others (Cockrill v. Sparke, 32 L. J. Ex. 118 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 307).

Vol. 3, p. 87, LONDON SMALL DEBTS ACTS, to 15 Vict. c. 77, s. 122, line 5, "for which no plaint could have been entered," add—These words apply to those cases for which no plaint can be legally entered, and not to actions which although legally brought, cannot be successfully maintained in the inferior courts (Noble v. The Bank of England, 33 L. J. Ex. 81 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 778).

Vol. 3, p. 99, LUNATICS, to 3 & 4 Vict. c. 54, s. 5, add—On an appeal against an order made on a board of guardians for the maintenance of a criminal lunatic, under this section, the practice follows the procedure in use in appeals against orders of removal, and when application is made within the twenty-one days from the service of the order for a copy of the depositions, the board have, as in the case of poor-law appeals, fourteen days from the time the copy is sent in which to give their notice of appeal. The clerk of the board, an attorney, signed the notice of appeal, "H. H., clerk to the aforesaid guardians :"—This was held a sufficient notice of appeal on the part of the guardians (R. v. Newport Poor-Law Union, 32 L. J. M. C. 155).

Vol. 3, p. 143, ——————— to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 70, s. 137, add—The court has power to make an order for the appointment of new trustees, where the power of appointment was vested in a tenant for life, a lunatic, but it declined to do so in the absence of the committee of the lunatic (In re Parke, 9 Jur. N. S. 998 ; 11 W. R. 655 ; 8 L. T. N. S. 378—R.).

Vol. 3, p. 144, ——————— to sect. 140, "stock," add—In re Ives, 32 L. J. Ch. 673).

Vol. 3, p. 149, ——————— to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 96, s. 9, n. (a), add—If a man voluntarily takes upon himself the care and charge of a lunatic brother, and keeps him in his private house, and wilfully neglects him, he is indictable for a misdemeanor under this sect. (R. v. Porter, 33 L. J. M. C. 126).

Vol. 3, p. 164, ——————— to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 97, s. 35, add—A house appropriated by the visitors to the use of the chaplain of a county lunatic asylum is not within this sect. As the chaplain, though required by the visitors, is not required by this statute to be resident; but a residence so appropriated to the medical superintendent is within this enactment, as he is required by sect. 55 to be "resident in the asylum;" and a separate house, but conveniently situate near the other buildings, with garden and reasonable accommodation for a man of his education and position, is assessable only at the lower value (Congreve v. Upton, 33 L. J. M. C. 83).

Vol. 3, p. 204, LUNATICS, to 25 & 26 Vict. c. 86, s. 11, add—See In re ———, 33 L. J. Ch. 333.

Vol. 3, p. 208, ——— to 25 & 26 Vict. c. 111, s. 8, add—By 26 & 27 Vict. c. 110, the words "chronic lunatics" in this section is to include chronic lunatics chargeable to other parishes or unions, as well as chronic lunatics chargeable to the parish or union into the workhouse of which they are proposed to be received.

Vol. 3, p. 224, MARKETS, to 10 Vict. c. 14, s. 42, add—See as to the validity of by-law made by a local board under the Public Health and the Markets and Fairs Clauses Acts, confining the sale of meat to a particular part of the market and imposing a penalty for exposing to sale elsewhere in the market, although by a local Act such sale would have been exempt from penalty (Savage v. Brook, 33 L. J. M. C. 42).

Vol. 3, p. 254, MARRIAGE, to 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 85, s. 20, add—Evidence in support of a plea of coverture that the defendant was married in a catholic chapel, according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church, to a person with whom she afterwards lived as wife, is primâ facie sufficient to show a valid marriage under this Act, as the law will presume that the chapel was registered and the registrar present as required by this Act (Sichel v. Lambert, 33 L. J. C. P. 137).

Vol. 3, p. 286, MASTER AND SERVANT, to 20 Geo. 2, c. 19, s. 1, n. (h), add—A master is entitled to a deduction in respect of bad workmanship; and the justices, upon satisfactory evidence, should order the payment of so much "as shall seem just and reasonable" (Sharp v. Hainsworth, 3 B. & S. 139; 9 Jur. N. S. 353; 7 L. T. N. S. 320—Q. B.).

Vol. 3, p. 296, ——— to 17 Geo. 3, c. 56, s. 10, n. (c), add—A warehouse occupied for business purposes only, and not within the curtilage of or connected with any dwelling-house, is a place within the meaning of this section (Reg. v. Edmundson, 2 El. & El. 77).

Vol. 3, p. 303, ——— to 4 Geo. 4, c. 34, s. 3, n. (c), add—An iron shipbuilder contracted in writing with six skilled handicraftsmen to plate a vessel, they agreeing exclusively to serve him subject to the rules and regulations of the yard, and to execute the whole of the skilled and unskilled labour requisite to complete the entire hull of the vessel, of the best workmanship and to the entire satisfaction of their employer (they employing and paying such skilled and unskilled assistants as might be requisite to complete the vessel with all dispatch), and to be paid 5*l.* per ton for the work so done by them:—Held, that the contracting parties were "handicraftsmen or artificers" (Lawrence v. Todd, 14 C. B. N. S. 554; 32 L. J. M. C. 238; 11 W. R. 835; 8 L. T. N. S. 505; see also Ex parte Gordon, 25 L. J. M. C. 12).

Vol. 3, p. 315, MASTER AND SERVANT, to 6 Geo. 4, c. 129, s. 3, n. (a), add—In order to be within this section a threat need not be a threat of actual violence, but it will be sufficient if it be a threat to follow out some unlawful purpose (O'Neil v. Longman, 11 W. R. 947; 8 L. T. N. S. 657—Q. B.).

Vol. 3, p. 319, ——— to 1 & 2 Will. 4. c. 37, s. 1, n. (a) add—Butty colliers working in partnership under a verbal contract with the colliery owner, by the day, by the ton, or by the yard, according to the nature of the work, and, though not allowed to underlet the work, employing others to assist them, for whose wages they were responsible, are according to Ingram v. Barnes, not "artificers" receiving wages, &c. (Sleeman v. Barrett, 33 L. J. Ex. 153).

Vol. 3, p. 320, ——— to sect. 9, add—To constitute an offence it is not necessary that the payment of wages in goods instead of money should be the result of any contract or understanding between the employer and the workman; the mere payment is enough (Wilson v. Cookson, 13 C. B. N. S. 496; 9 Jur. N. S. 177; 32 L. J. M. C. 177; 11 W. R. 426; 8 L. T. N. S. 53).

The offence is not purged by a subsequent payment in money, whether made voluntarily or compulsorily under an order of justices (Ib.).

Vol. 3, p. 340, MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS, to 21 & 22 Vict. c. 90, s. 29, add—The General Council of Medical Education and Registration are sole judges of whether a registered medical practitioner has been guilty of infamous conduct in a professional respect; and the council having after due inquiry so adjudged and ordered the name of the medical practitioner to be removed from the register accordingly, this Court cannot interfere (Ex parte La Mert, 33 L. J. Q. B. 69).

Vol. 3, p. 340, ——— to sect. 31, add—A physician, if registered, can recover reasonable charges for professional visits, without a special agreement, provided he is not prohibited from suing by any bye-law of his college (Gibbon v. Budd, 9 Jur. N. S. 525; 32 L. J. Ex. 182; 8 L. T. N. S. 321).

Vol. 3, p. 341, ——— to sect. 32, add—Defendant, the medical officer of a foreign ship of war lying in the Thames, agreed to pay plaintiff, who was a foreign medical man domiciled and practising in England, a certain monthly sum for the latter's medical attendance on the sick crew of the ship during defendant's temporary absence. The agreement was made on board the ship, but plaintiff was not registered:—It was held, that the Act applied though the agreement was made between two medical men, and that plaintiff's inability to prove his registration prevented him from recovering even if the ship where the agreement was made were considered as a foreign territory (Alverez de la Rosa v. Prieto, 33 L. J. C. P. 262).

Vol. 3, p. 341, MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS, to 21 & 22 Vict. c. 90, s. 32, n. (c) add—A medical practitioner is entitled to maintain an action for attendances and medicines, though not registered at the time of such attendance, it is enough if he appears to be duly registered at the time of the trial (Turner v. Reynall, 14 C. B. N. S. 328; 9 Jur. N. S. 1077; 32 L. J. C. P. 164; 11 W. R. 700; 8 L. T. N. S. 281).

Where a business is carried on by two partners, one of whom is registered as a surgeon and an apothecary, and the other as a surgeon only; this is no answer to a joint claim for attendances and medicines supplied in both capacities (Ib.).

Semble, that it would be enough if one member of the firm only had been registered (Ib.).

Vol. 3, p. 357, METROPOLITAN (MANAGEMENT), to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 120, s. 21, add—Held, that an intentional obstructing of the voting by actual violence, is an offence within this section (Buckmaster v. Reynolds, 13 C. B. N. S. 63).

Vol. 3, p. 366, ——————— to sect. 76, add—Held, that this does not empower them to demolish the building, without first giving the party guilty of the omission an opportunity of being heard; and that the 211th section, which gives an appeal to the Metropolitan Board of Works, does not prevent the builder or owner of the premises from suing them for so doing (Cooper v. Wandsworth Board of Works, 14 C. B. N. S. 180; 9 Jur. N. S. 1155; 8 L. T. N. S. 278).

Vol. 3, p. 368, ——————— to sect. 88, add—A vestry resolved to erect a urinal in a situation where the vestry deemed such accommodation was required by the public, but where B. and other occupiers of houses considered that it would be a private nuisance; and the court granted an injunction, on the grounds that the Act conferred no power to enable the vestry to erect that which would be a nuisance to any one; that the vestry had no power to suppress nuisances; and that the Act conferred no arbitrary power (which appeared to have been exercised) on the metropolitan vestries (Biddulph v. St. George's Hanover Square (Vestry), 9 Jur. N. S. 434; 11 W. R. 524; 8 L. T. N. S. 44—V. C. S. But the injunction was dissolved, upon appeal, by the Lords Justices. See 33 L. J. (Ch.) 411.

Vol. 3, p. 369, ——————— to sect. 90, n. (a), add—By a local Act for a parish, the vestrymen, governors, and directors of the poor, or any nine of them, or on their failure, the churchwardens, were to make a rate on the parish, called the composition rate, for raising a sum for payment of the rector's stipend, and for the repairs and expenses of the church:—Held, that the power of making this rate was transferred to the new vestry elected under those statutes; though it may be that if the new vestry fail to make any rate, the churchwardens may still make one under the powers of the local Act (Reg. v. Stretfield, 32 L. J. M. C. 236; 11 W. R. 736—B. C.—Wightman, J.; Reg. v. Lambeth (Vestry), 3 B. & S. 1; R. v. St. George, 32 L. J. Q. B. 160).

Vol. 3, p. 377, METROPOLITAN (MANAGEMENT), to 18 & 19 Vict. c. 120, s. 135, n. (a), add—No power is conferred on the Metropolitan Board of Works by this section of erecting any works in the soil or bed of the river Thames. That power is conferred by 21 & 22 Vict. c. 104, s. 2, subject, by section 27, to the assent of the Admiralty being previously obtained in respect of all works below high-water mark which may interfere with the navigation. Where, therefore, a contractor, by direction of the Metropolitan Board, had placed piles in the bed of the river to protect sewage works there, without having obtained the consent of the Admiralty, the Metropolitan Board and the contractor were held liable to damages in an action brought by the owner of a vessel, which had been injured by grounding on the piles (Brownlow v. the Metropolitan Board of Works, 33 L. J. C. P. 233—Ex. Ch.).

Vol. 3, p. 378, ——————— to sect. 140, add—See sect. 195.

Vol. 3, p. 382, ——————— to sect. 160, add—See sect. 195.

Vol. 3, p. 386, ——————— to sect. 180, add—By an Act of Parliament the whole area of Grosvenor Square was placed under the management of trustees, and they, in pursuance of powers contained in the Act, borrowed money, which, together with interest, was charged on the rates to be levied under the Act, such rates being payable one-half by the owner, and the other by the occupier of each house in the square:—Held, that though this Act left in the trustees the inclosed ground and footway round it, together with all duties and powers in relation to the future maintenance of such ground, and to levy rates for defraying the expenses incurred in the execution of such duties and powers, it transferred the debt charged on the rates under the special Act to the vestry of the parish; and the court granted a peremptory mandamus to the vestry to take the necessary steps for paying the principal and interest (Reg. v. St. George's, Hanover Square, 32 L. J. Q. B. 160; 11 W. R. 722).

Vol. 3, p. 387, ——————— to sect. 181, add—The parish of A., not being one of the parishes within the area of this Act, but being liable to a mortgage debt under the Metropolitan Sewers Act (11 & 12 Vict. c. 112), the Metropolitan Board of Works, intending to act under this section, issued their precept to the overseers of A. to pay a certain sum "for defraying the expenses of the board in the execution of the Act," and a rate was made accordingly "for levying the sum required by the Metropolitan Board of Works for the purposes of the said Act." It was held, the precept and rate were bad on the face of them, as purporting to be made for purposes for which A. was not liable to be rated; and that the rate therefore could not be enforced (R. v. Ingham, 32 L. J. M. C. 214).

Vol. 3, p. 390, ——————— to sect. 195, add—When an order of the Board of Works has been made, under sect. 140, that the whole of a street situate in more than one district should be under the exclusive management of one particular vestry, and that vestry makes an order, under sect. 160, upon one of the other districts for contribution towards the expenses, if the order is good on the face of it, the only mode of appeal open to the district is by contesting the propriety of the assessment at the audit, under this section; and the Court, on a return to a mandamus ordering the payment of the sum assessed, will not go into the matter, but grant a peremptory mandamus (R. v. the Board of Works of the Strand District, 33 L. J. M. C. 33).

Vol. 3, p. 405, METROPOLITAN (MANAGEMENT), to 19 & 20 Vict. c. 112, s. 3, n. (b), add—See R. v. Stretfield, 32 L. J. M. C. 136.

Vol. 3, p. 419, ——————— to 25 & 26 Vict. c. 102, s. 75, add—In a proceeding before a magistrate, under this section, for erecting an "erection" beyond the general line of buildings in a street, the certificate of the superintending architect of the Metropolitan Board of Works as to what line is "the general line of buildings," does not preclude the magistrate from questioning and determining whether such line be the true general line of buildings in that street or not. A small conservatory having been erected over a projecting shop-front in a street, and the magistrate having decided that it was not an erection within the meaning of the above section, the Court refused to review his decision (St. George, Hanover Square v. Sparrow, 33 L. J. M. C. 118).

Vol. 3, p. 443, MORTGAGES, to 17 & 18, Vict. c. 113, s. 1, n. (a), add—This Act does not apply to leaseholds (Solomon v. Solomon, 33 L. J. Ch. 473).

Vol. 3, p. 451, NOTICE OF ACTION, to 5 & 6 Vict. c. 97, s. 4, add—Notice of action (Freeman v. Read, 32 L. J. M. C. 226).

Vol. 3, p. 501, PARLIAMENT, to 2 Will. 4, c. 45, s. 27, n. (b), add—The claimant was tenant of the whole of the upper floor of a building; his holding consisted of two rooms, opening on to the common staircase. The staircase was approached from the street by a passage, at the end of which, next to the street, was a door, which could be closed, but had no lock or fastening of any kind. The other floors were occupied by other tenants in a similar way. The claimant had exclusive control of the door leading to his own two rooms, which were completely severed from the rest of the building:—Held, that he was tenant of a house and entitled to the borough franchise (Henrette v. Booth, 33 L. J. C. P. 61).

Vol. 3, p. 504, ——————— to sect. 30, "assistant overseer," add—See Caunter v. Adams, 33 L. J. C. P. 68.

Vol. 3, p. 507, ——————— to sect. 36, n. (b), "alms," add—See Smith v. Hall, 33 L. J. C. P. 59.

Vol. 3, p. 524, ——————— to 6 Vict. c. 18, s. 17, n. (b), add—At a vestry meeting of the ratepayers of a parish, held in April, 1859, Y. was elected assistant overseer of the parish, and his election was confirmed by the justices in petty sessions, pursuant to 59 Geo. 3, c. 12. In March, 1861, Y. gave a notice to the board of guardians of the parish of his intention to resign the office of assistant overseer, but he did not give notice of such intention to the justices in petty session, nor was his resignation accepted by the board of guardians. The vestry then increased Y.'s salary, and he continued to perform the duties of assistant overseer until September, 1863; but after the increase of his salary, Y. never received any fresh confirmation in his office by two justices. In November 1862, A. served a notice of claim to be placed on the list of voters, and he was placed on the list:—Held, that at the time the notice was served on Y., he was assistant overseer; that he held that office until his resignation was actually accepted; and that the notice by A. to Y. was a valid notice (Caunter App., Addams, Resp., 9 Jur. N. S. 1295; 9 L. T. N. S. 391—C. P).

Vol. 3, p. 539, PARLIAMENT, to 6 Vict. c. 18, s. 74, add—Where a member of a building society purchased freehold land of the society, in which he held one share. The society advanced the purchase-money of the land, the member mortgaging the land as a security. The member was bound to make certain monthly payments to the society, which amounted annually to 4*l.*, and upon his failure to do so, the society might re-enter and take possession of the land. The land would have been clear of all payments when the member had paid instalments to the amount of 73*l.*, of which he had paid 71*l.* on the 31st of January 1863. The annual value of the property unincumbered was 3*l.*:—Held, the member had an interest of the clear yearly value of 40*s.*, and was entitled to vote as a freeholder (Robinson v. Dunkley, 33 L. J. C. P. 57).

Vol. 3, p. 558, ——————— to sch. B. No. 11, add—F. sent to one Sidney Rice Force a notice of objection as follows:—"To Sidney Rice Force. I hereby give you notice that I object to the name of Force Sidney Rice being retained on the list:"—Held, that the notice of objection was not rendered invalid by reason of the above-mentioned departure from the form, the inaccuracy being cured by section 101 (Force v. Floud, 33 L. J. C. P. 71). Semble, also, that the notice would have been held good independently of that section (Ib.).

In the parish of St. Paul, Bedford, there are two lists of voters for the borough, called "the ten-pound list, or new qualification list," and "the reserved right list." A notice of objection described the objector, who was on the new qualification list, as being "on the list of voters for the parish of St. Paul:"—Held, sufficient (Samuel App., Hitchmough, Resp., 1 K. & G. 522; 13 C. B. N. S. 3; 9 Jur. N. S. 414; 32 L. J. C. P. 55; 11 W. R. 92; 7 L. T. N. S. 360).

Where there is more than one list of voters for a parish or borough, a person objecting to the vote of another must, in his notice of objection, state in which list his (the objector's) name is to be found (Cronother, App., Bradney, Resp., 12 W. R. 176; 9 L. T. N. S. 444—C. P.).

Vol. 3, p. 697, PLEADING, PRACTICE, &c. (AT LAW), to 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 42, s. 17, n. (k), add—An action on contract was removed from the county court into the superior court, at the instance of defendant, and plaintiff obtained a verdict for less than 20*l.*:—Held, that as there was no indorsement on a writ of summons, and therefore no writ of trial could be issued, rule 7, of the Directions to the taxing Masters, Hilary Term, 1853, did not apply, and plaintiff was entitled to have his costs taxed on the higher scale (Perry v. Bennett, 33 L. J. C. P. 45).

Where in an action of contract the plaintiff does not claim more than 20*l.*, and the cause is sent to be tried before the sheriff, under this Act, the defendant, if he succeeds, is only entitled to have his costs taxed on the lower scale (Copley v. Hemingway, 33 L. J. C. P. 152).

Vol. 3, p. 722, ———
to 15 & 16 Vict. c. 76, s. 11, add—The six months during which a writ of summons continues in force, after its renewal, are to be computed inclusive of the day of renewal (Anon., 1 H. & C. 664; 32 L. J. Ex. 88; 11 W. R. 293; 7 L. T. N. S. 718).

Therefore, where a writ of summons was originally issued on the 23rd of January, 1861, and successively renewed, the last renewal being on the 19th of July, 1862, and on Monday, the 19th of January, 1863, the officer, on being applied to, declined to impress the renewal seal on the writ:—Held, that the writ had expired, and the court refused to direct the officer to impress the seal, nunc pro tunc, as of that date (Ib.).

The last day for resealing a writ of summons, so as to save the Statute of Limitations, expired on Saturday, the 28th December, within the Christmas holidays. A party who attended at the office on that day for the purpose found it shut, and the officer having refused to reseal the writ on the following Monday, the court refused to order him to do it afterwards, nunc pro tunc (Evans v. Jones, 2 B. & S. 45).

Vol. 3, p. 723, ———
to sects. 17 & 18, add—The exception of Scotland and Ireland from this section has not the effect of allowing a writ of summons to be issued in the ordinary form, under section 2, against a person resident in Scotland and Ireland, and service of it at a place of business of the defendants in England, to be treated as a substituted service under section 17. "Reasonable efforts" to effect personal service, mean "reasonable" according to the actual facts, and not according to the information possessed at the time by the person making the efforts (Flower v. Allan, 33 L. J. Ex. 83).

Vol. 3, p. 724, ———
to sect. 18, n. (a), add—The defendant, a merchant resident in Norway, and not a British subject, drew in Norway his bill of exchange at four months on E. in this country, and after endorsing it to the order of D., sent it by post to D. in London, who indorsed it to plaintiff in London:—It was held, that there was not a cause of action which arose in this country nor a breach of a contract made within it, and that therefore the plaintiff could not sue defendant in this country on the bill under sections 18 and 19 (Sichel v. Borch, 33 L. J. Ex. 179).

Vol. 3, p. 726, PLEADING, PRACTICE, &c. (AT LAW), to 15 & 16 Vict. c. 76, s. 26, add—This section has not abolished the necessity of appointing a guardian to an infant defendant before the plaintiff can sign judgment by default (Jarman v. Lucas, 33 L. J. C. P. 108).

Vol. 3, p. 729, ———
to sect. 37, n. (b), add—Where under this section the name of one of two defendants is struck out of the record, at the trial, on the terms of the plaintiff paying the costs of such defendant, and the plaintiff obtains the verdict against the other defendant, the defendant whose name has been so struck out is entitled, in the absence of special circumstances, to a moiety of the joint costs of both defendants, although they both appeared and pleaded jointly by the same attorney (Redway v. Webber, 13 C. B. N. S. 254; 32 L. J. C. P. 84).

Vol. 3, p. 749, ———
to sect. 186, add—In an action of ejectment the court has power to order a person at whose instance and for whose benefit the action was brought, though not a claimant named in the writ, to pay costs to a successful defendant (Mobbs v. Vandenbrande, 33 L. J. Q. B. 177; and see Thornton v. Wilkinson, 9 Jur. N. S. 606; 11 W. R. 916; 8 L. T. N. S. 507—Exch.).

Vol. 3, p. 775, ———
to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 125, s. 28, add—Where a bill was filed in equity for the administration of an estate, and in proof of a debt promissory notes insufficiently stamped were tendered in evidence, and on objection taken to the reception of them, the proper stamp duty, with the penalty, under this section, was tendered to the registrar:—Held, that the notes could not be received, nor the deficient amount of duty (Stubbin v. Fisher, 9 Jur. N. S. 38—V. C. S.).

Vol. 3, p. 775, ———
to sect. 31, n. (b), add—It is not competent to a judge at nisi prius to reserve a question as to the admissibility of a document on a stamp objection, unless he decides against its admissibility (Cory v. Davis, 14 C. B. N. S. 370).

(b), add—The court will not grant a writ of injunction when by so doing the defendant would be called upon to do an illegal act (London & North-Western Rail. Co. v. Webb, 12 W. R. 51; 9 L. T. N. S. 291—C. P.).

A plaintiff lent some photograph portraits to a person who became insolvent, and his assignees having offered the photographs for sale by auction, the defendant purchased them; and by photographically printing from negatives, he obtained reduced copies, which he published and sold. The plaintiff brought an action against him, and recovered nominal damages for the infringement of the plaintiff's right:—Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to a writ of injunction to restrain the defendant from taking or selling any more copies of the photographs, and also to recover them or their value in detinue (Mayall v. Higbey, 1 H. & C. 148).

Vol. 3, p. 784, ——————— to sect. 82, add—Where a declaration, claiming a writ of injunction, did not disclose facts showing clearly that there could not be an injunction, the court refused to allow the defendants to demur to so much of the declaration as claimed the writ (Bilke v. The London, Chatham, &c., Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Ex. 206).

VOL. IV.

Vol. 4, p. 22, RAILWAYS, to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 20, s. 13, add—A railway company, with whose Act this Act was incorporated, by their deposited plans and sections proposed to build over a turnpike road an arch, of a span of forty-five feet. The company afterwards proposed to the trustees of the road to vary their plans, and to build a bridge of a span of thirty-five feet; but the proposal was rejected. Subsequently the company's agents commenced the erection of a bridge of the lesser span; and thereupon one of the trustees filed an information for an injunction:—Held, that the word "accordingly," in this section, meant, according to the deposited plans and sections; and that the company was bound to erect the bridge according to the plans which had been deposited (Att.-Gen. v. Tewkesbury & Malvern Rail. Co., 9 Jur. N. S. 618; 8 L. T. N. S. 196—V. C. S. Affirmed on appeal, 9 Jur. N. S. 951; 32 L. J. Ch. 482; 8 L. T. N. S. 682—L. J.).

A bridge, forming part of the line of railway itself, is an engineering work, within sect. 14 (Ib.)

Vol. 4, p. 23, RAILWAYS, to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 20, s. 16, add—This section authorises the permanent diversion of public roads, and not only a temporary diversion for the purpose of constructing a railway (Phillipps v. Lon- don, Brighton, & South Coast Rail. Co., 4 Giff. 46; 9 Jur. N. S. 348).

Vol. 4, p. 29, RAILWAYS, to 8 & 9 Vict. c. 20, s. 46, n. (f), add—Where a railway is carried over a highway by means of a bridge, no liability to keep in repair the immediate approaches on each side of the bridge is cast upon the company by reason of any of the provisions in this Act, even though the company have lowered the level of the old highway in making those approaches (London & North Western Rail. Co. v. the Surveyor of Skerton, 33 L. J. M. C. 158).

Vol. 4, p. 30, ———— to sect. 46, n. (b), add—A railway company, in constructing its line of railway across a public road, lowered a portion of the surface of the road, in order to give the railway bridge the legal height, and to have the proper ascent and descent on the road. The portion so lowered was not used by the company, but, having become worn by the public traffic, it was sought to make the company liable:—Held, that there was no obligation on the company to keep in repair the portion of the road in question, not being an approach to the bridge, within the meaning of this section (Forsberry v. Waterford & Limerick Rail. Co., 13 Ir. Com. Law Rep. 494—C. P.).

Vol. 4, p. 34, ———— to sect. 58, n. (d), add—A railway company having used certain roads by the carriage of stone, bricks, timber, and other material over the same, to be used, and which were actually used in the making of their railway and works. In the opinion of two justices they had thereby done damage to such roads:—Held, that they were liable to make good the damage so done, although the materials were really conveyed in the carts of the contractors or sub-contractors, or of other persons employed by them (The West Riding & Grimsby Rail. Co. v. The Wakefield Local Board of Health, 33 L. J. M. C. 174).

Vol. 4, p. 53, ———— to sect. 145, n. (b), add—A railway Act enacted, that "so much of the Railways Clauses Act, 1845, as relates to the mode of crossing roads and construction of bridges, shall respectively, except so far as the same may be by this Act otherwise provided for, and except such of the provisions thereof as may be inconsistent with the provisions herein contained, be incorporated and form part of this Act," incorporated not only all the provisions of the Act which regulate the crossing of turnpike roads by the railway and the construction of railway bridges, together with the 65th section, but also the sections which relate to the mode of enforcing such penalties (Bristol & Exeter Rail. Co. v. Tucker, 13 C. B. N. S. 207).

Vol. 4, p. 67, ———— to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 31, note, add—See Baxendale v. Great Western Rail. Co., 32 L. J. Q. B. 225.

Vol. 4, p. 70, ———— to sect. 7, n. (e), add—A condition in a special contract that the company will not be answerable for the loss, or detention of, or damage to wrappers, or packages of any description charged by the company as "empties," is unreasonable (Aldridge v. The Great Western Rail. Co., 33 L. J. C. P. 161; Peek v. North Staffordshire Rail. Co., 32 L. J. Q. B. 241; see Hodgman v. West Midland Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Q. B. 233).

Vol. 4, p. 71, RAILWAYS, to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 31, s. 7, n. (e), line 7, McManus v. The Lancashire & Yorkshire Rail. Co., add—Accord Gregory v. The West Midland Rail. Co., 33 L. J. Ex. 155).

Vol. 4, p. 72, ———— to n., after "Peck v. The North Staffordshire Rail. Co.," add—But the House of Lords reversed the decision of the Exchequer Chamber, holding that no general notice given by a railway company is valid in law for the purpose of limiting the common law liability of the company as carriers; but such common law liability may be limited by such conditions as the Court or Judge shall determine to be just and reasonable:—So held by the House of Lords, and,—per the Lord Chancellor and Lord Wensleydale (Lord Cranworth and Lord Chelmsford dissenting) — such conditions must be embodied in a special contract in writing, to be signed by the owner or person delivering the goods:—Held, further (Lord Chelmsford dissenting), that a condition that the company would not be responsible for the loss of or injury to marbles unless declared and insured according to their value, was neither just nor reasonable, as the effect of such a condition would be to exempt the company from responsibility for injury however caused, whether by their own negligence, or even by fraud or dishonesty on the part of their servants. It was held, further (Lord Chelmsford dissenting), that a letter stating such condition did not constitute a special contract in writing, the words "not insured" being insufficient either expressly or by reference to embody the condition itself into the letter (33 L. J. Q. B. 241).

Vol. 4, p. 79, REGISTRATION (DEEDS), to 7 Anne, c. 20, s. 6, add—See Neve v. Pennell, 33 L. J. Ch. 19, ante, sect. 1, p. 76.

Vol. 4, p. 100, ———— (BIRTHS, &c.), to 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 86, s. 7, add—The clerk to the board of guardians of a union created under 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 76, has no right to be superintendent registrar except in the case of the first appointment after this Act coming into operation; and on any subsequent vacancy the power of appointment is in the board of guardians (Reg. v. Acason, 2 B. & S. 795).

Vol. 4, p. 168, SET OFF, to 2 Geo. 2, c. 22, s. 13, n. (a), add—A corporation kept an account at a banking-house. Afterwards, becoming invested with the functions of a local board of health, the corporation opened a second and separate account with the bank. The bank stopped payment, at which time there was due to the corporation, on account of its municipal affairs, about 5000*l*., and there was due from the bank to the corporation about an equal sum in respect of the local board's account at the bank:—Held, that the corporation was entitled to set off one of those sums against the other; for though the accounts were separate, the corporation was a creditor in the first account, and a debtor in the second, and in the same right (Pedder v. Preston (Mayor, &c.), 9 Jur. N. S. 496—C. P.).

During the voyage the shipowner assigned the accruing freight on goods conveyed for the defendant in a ship. Before notice of the assignment the shipowner had become indebted to the defendant:—Held, in an action by the shipowner for and on account of the assignee against the defendant for the freight, that the defendant was entitled to set off the debt due from the shipowner to the defendant; and that the assignment did not prevent him from so doing (Wilson v. Gabriel, 11 W. R. 803: 8 L. T. N. S. 502).

Where a factor sells goods to an agent without stating at the time that he is selling as a factor, and not on his own account, the principal of the agent has a right to set off a debt due to him from the factor against the price of the goods, he being ignorant of the fact that the factor was not selling on his own account, although his agent, by previously acquired knowledge knew it (Dunn v. Norwood, 14 C. B. N. S. 574; 32 L. J. C. P. 201; 11 W. R. 624; 8 L. T. N. S. 247. But this was reversed in Ex. Ch. on appeal, 34 L. J. C. P. 48).

Vol. 4, p. 243, SHIPPING, to 6 Geo. 4, c. 125, ss. 58 & 59, add—The employment of a licensed Goole pilot is generally compulsory upon vessels inward bound to Goole, including vessels belonging to that port; not, however, by the Hull Pilot Act, but by these sections and 17 & 18 Vict. c. 104, s. 353 (The Killarney, 1 Lushington, 427).

The exception, attached to the exemption from compulsory pilotage, applies to a Goole ship in Goole inward bound to that place, by reason of 52 Geo. 3, c. 39, s. 21, by which provision was made for the appointment of pilots by the Hull Trinity House, for ships "into or out of any ports, harbours, or places within the limits of their jurisdiction;" and, consequently, the exemption did not apply (Ib.)

Vol. 4, p. 264, ——— to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 104, s. 57, n. (a), add—The property in a ship passes, as between the vendor and his asignees and the vendee, by a bill of sale, although the transfer be not registered pursuant to this Act (Stapleton v. Haymen, 33 L. J. Ex. 170).

Vol. 4, p. 265, ——— to sect. 66, add—Where a bill of sale of a ship has been executed in the form prescribed by sect. 55, these provisions do not prevent the owners from showing that the transfer, though absolute in its terms, was intended as a security only (Ward v. Beck, 13 C. B. N. S. 668; 9 Jur. N. S. 912; 32 L. J. C. P. 113).

The 25 & 26 Vict. c. 63, s. 3 (post, p. 421) is a declaratory enactment that this is the true interpretation (Ib.).

Vol. 4, p. 286, ——— to sect. 191, n. (d), add—This does not alter the relation of the master to the seamen, and he cannot compete with them to their detriment for a share in a fund. Neither can he compete with the bondholder for his wages against the ship's freight where he binds himself by the bond. Where, however, he has incurred no such personal obligation, he is not barred (The Salacia, 32 L. J. Adm. 41).

Vol. 4, p. 298, ——— to sect. 240, n. (b), add—An attempt by the master of a ship to defraud is sufficient ground to induce the court to act and to order his removal (The Royalist, 9 Jur. N. S. 852; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 105).

The power of the court is not limited to the offences mentioned in sect. 239 (Ib.).

Vol. 4, p. 309, SHIPPING, to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 104, s. 295, (3), add—Held, that a notice published in the Gazette, purporting to be given by the lords commissioners of the admiralty, but signed only "by command of their lordships, W. G. Romaine," was, by production of the Gazette, proved to be duly made by the admiralty (The Olivia, 1 Lushington, 497).

Vol. 4, p. 309, ——— to sect. 296, n. (d), add—These rules, though in the opinion of many nautical men of experience capable of being modified with advantage, must be strictly complied with (General Iron Screw Co. v. Moss, 15 Moore, P. C. C. 122).

Vol. 4, p. 310, ——— to sect. 296, add—Ss. 296, 297, 298, do not apply to a foreign ship navigating the Solent, between the Isle of Wight and Hampshire, and within three miles of the British coast; and if a collision there happens between a British ship and a foreign ship, the conduct of each ship is to be tried by the law maritime (The Saxonia—The Eclipse, 1 Lushington, 410—P. C.).

Vol. 4, p. 310, ——— to sect. 297, add—By a narrow channel is meant a channel bounded on either side by land primâ facie, so that it is impossible, under the circumstances, to navigate at any great width between the two banks (The Florence Nightingale—The Mæander, 9 Jur. N. S. 475; 11 W. R. 542; 8 L. T. N. S. 34—P. C.).

Vol. 4, p. 310, ——— to sect. 297, n. (e), add—A steamer going down a river, having disobeyed, without cause, the direction of keeping to the starboard side of the channel, and the pilot as well as those on board being remiss in keeping a lookout, is liable for damage to a barge (The Malvina, 9 Jur. N. S. 527; 11 W. R. 576—P. C.).

Vol. 4, p. 311, ——— to sect. 298, n. (f), add—In a cause of collision against vessel B. by the owners of cargo laden on board vessel A., the court found both vessels to blame, and vessel A. for a breach of the rule imposed by sect. 296:—Held, that the plaintiffs should recover one-half of their damages (The Milan, 1 Lushington, 388).

Vol. 4, p. 311, ——— to sect. 298, n. (b), add—It does not apply to the owner of cargo suing (The Milan, 1 Lushington, 388).

Vol. 4, p. 325, ——— to sect. 379, add—A foreign-going vessel casually employed in taking a cargo from Liverpool to London is not a "ship employed in the coasting trade of the United Kingdom," and therefore, while so employed, is compellable to take a pilot (The Lloyds, otherwise Sea Queen, 32 L. J. Adm. 197; 9 L. T. N. S. 236).

Vol. 4, p. 337, ——— to sect. 460, n. (b), add—This section and 25 & 26 Vict. c. 63, s. 49, post, p. 429, being read together, enact, that all disputes as to the amount of salvage, where either the sum claimed does not exceed 200*l.* or the value of the property saved does not exceed 1000*l.* shall be referred to justices of the peace, and thereby in those cases exclude the jurisdiction of the court of admiralty (The William and John, 9 Jur. N. S. 284; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 102; 11 W. R. 535; 8 L. T. N. S. 56.)

By "the sum claimed" is meant the sum claimed before the dispute is referred (Ib.).

No action is maintainable by a seaman for his share of salvage awarded by two justices, and paid to the owner of the salvor vessel (Atkinson v. Woodhall, 1 H. & C. 170).

The word "owners" means whoever is interested in the property at the time, and therefore where there is a dispute between the salvors and a mortgagee of a vessel, the justices have jurisdiction (The Louisa, 9 Jur. N. S. 676; 11 W. R. 614—Adm.).

Vol. 4, p. 338, SHIPPING, to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 104, s. 464, add—The meaning of the words "sum in dispute," is not to be limited to the sum awarded by the justices (The Andrew Wilson, 9 Jur. N. S. 474; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 104; 8 L. T. N. S. 177).

Vol. 4, p. 422, ——— to 25 & 26 Vict. c. 63, s. 3, n. (a), add—The court has jurisdiction over all equitable rights and claims of owners and mortgagees of ships (Samuel v. Jones, 7 L. T. N. S. 760—V. C. W.).

Vol. 4, p. 431, ——— to sect. 54, add—Where a British ship and a foreign ship are involved in a collision beyond the limits of British jurisdiction, and the foreign ship institutes a suit against the British ship in the English court of admiralty for damage, the British ship is entitled to limited liability: and so would a foreign ship in like manner if sued by a British ship (The Amalia, 9 Jur. N. S. 1111; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 191; 12 W. R. 24; 8 L. T. N. S. 805—P. C.).

Vol. 4, p. 432, ——— to sect. 63, add—Regulations for preventing collisions at sea, issued in pursuance of the Act, and of an Order in Council dated 9th Jan., 1863, see 1 Lushington, App. i.—ix.

Vol. 4, p. 581, STAMPS, to 13 & 14 Vict. c. 97, schedule, tit. "CONVEYANCE," add—The consideration for the transfer of the whole undertaking of one railway company to another consisted of the purchasing company taking on themselves the liabilities of the vendors, and creating and allotting to the shareholders of the selling company preference stock of the purchasing company equal in amount to the capital of the other, which was to be extinguished. This preference stock was held to be stock within the meaning of the schedule, and therefore liable to pay duty on its market value (The Furness Rail. Co. v. Comrs. of Inland Revenue, 33 L. J. Ex. 173).

Vol. 4, p. 588, ——— to sched. tit. "Settlement," n. (b), add—Foreign stocks and bonds, and India stock (though created since the passing of this Act) are "definite and certain" sums of money within the meaning of this Act (Alsager v. The Comrs. of Inland Revenue, 32 L. J. Ex. 161).

Vol. 4, p. 593, STAMPS, to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 59, s. 10, add—A contingent debt is included in the words "mortgage or other debt" in this section; and therefore a conveyance of a reversionary interest, subject to the payment by the purchaser to a third party, within three months after the death of N., provided N. should die without issue male, is chargeable with an ad valorem duty on that sum (Mortimore v. The Inland Revenue Comrs., 33 L. J. Ex. 263; see ante, vol. 4, 506, n. (a)).

Vol. 4, p. 610, ——— to 19 & 20 Vict. c. 81, s. 3, n. (b), add—Although the Treasury have consented to accept the penalty and stamp articles of clerkship more than six months after execution, under this Act, yet, both for the purpose of protecting the revenue and insuring the respectability of those who are to become attorneys, before the court will allow the service under the articles while unstamped and unenrolled to count, pursuant to 6 & 7 Vict. c. 73, s. 9, the circumstances must be shown to be such as satisfactorily to account for the omission to pay the stamp-duty and enrol the articles in due time (Ex parte Wilson, 33 L. J. Q. B. 89; S. P. Ex parte Belk, 33 L. J. Ex. 73; see Ex parte Edwards, 32 L. J. C. P. 213).

Vol. 4, p. 632, ——— to sect. 12 of 25 & 26 Vict. c. 22, add—This section repeals sect. 29 of 11 Geo. 4 & 1 Will. 4, c. 64, and takes away any right, privilege, permission, or exemption from prohibition that may have previously existed to sell beer by retail at fairs without a licence (Huxham v. Wheeler, 33 L. J. M. C. 153; see 26 & 27 Vict. c. 33, s. 2).

Vol. 4, p. 645, SUCCESSION DUTY, to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 51, s. 2, n. (b), add—This Act applies to persons wherever domiciled, and the rule "mobilia sequuntur personam" cannot, as under the Legacy Duty Acts, be made the ground of an exemption from duty (per Lord Justice Turner, In re Wallop's Trusts, 33 L. J. Ch. 351; Att.-Gen. v. ——— Ex. June, 1864).

Vol. 4, p. 645, ——— to sect. 2, add—A., an officer of Customs, subscribed to the "Annuity and Benevolent Fund" for the capital of 500*l.* This fund, which was established by Act of Parliament, is raised on the principle of life insurance by the quarterly subscriptions of the officers of Customs, a contribution of poundage deducted from their salaries, and the profits derived from the publication of the "Customs Bills of Entry." By the rules and regulations made under the authority of that Act, if an annuity be insured for the benefit of the widow of a subscriber, equal to one-third of the whole insurance, the subscriber is empowered to direct, by his will or instrument in writing, that the capital money insured shall be applied or paid in any manner or proportion he may think proper for the benefit of his widow, children, or relatives, or his nominee, if duly admitted by the directors of the fund. Where there is no widow or nominee, the whole capital money is subject to the directions of the subscriber. If the subscriber shall not have applied it, it becomes the property of his children. If no child, it is to be appropriated to increase the widow's annuity. If no widow or child, the capital money is to be paid to the personal representatives of the subscriber, to be by them applied according to the Statute of Distributions. A., who was never married, by his will gave the capital money to his sister :—Held, that she took a succession, and that A. was the predecessor, and consequently she was chargeable with duty on the capital money (Att.-Gen. v. Abdy, 1 H. & C. 266).

Vol. 4, p. 646, SUCCESSION DUTY, to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 51, s. 2, n. (b), add—Where a testator, who died in 1832, devised real estate to his wife for life, and the reversion to R., who died in 1844. Testator's wife died in 1859, and R.'s son, in whom the reversionary interest of his father was vested, as his heir, became entitled in possession. R. and his son were strangers in blood to testator :—Held, the son was liable on the death of the wife, to a duty of 10*l.* per cent. upon a succession derived from testator, and not to a duty of 1*l.* per cent. as on a devolution from his father (Att.-Gen. v. Rushton, 33 L. J. Ex. 184; and see Floyer v. Bankes, infra, sect. 17).

Vol. 4, p. 647, ——————— to sect. 4, n. (a), add—A. bequeathed his residuary personal estate, on the death of his daughter B., unmarried, to trustees, for such purposes as she should by will appoint, and in default of appointment in trust for his brother C. and his sister D. B. died unmarried, having bequeathed his residuary estate (subject to the payment of debts, funeral and testamentary expenses, legacies and annuities) to her uncle C. and her aunt D. :—Held, that B.'s will operated as an exercise of her power of appointment, and that C. and D. were liable to pay duty on the fund appointed at the rate of 5*l.* per cent. and not 3*l.* per cent., the rate at which they would have been liable if they could have taken directly under A.'s will (Att.-Gen. v. Brackenbury, 1 H. & C. 782; 32 L. J. Ex. 108).

Vol. 4, p. 649, ——————— to sect. 15, line 2, "other derivative title," add—A title by descent is a "derivative title" within this section (Att.-Gen. v. Rushton, 33 L. J. Ex. 184).

Vol. 4, p. 650, ——————— to sect. 17, n. (b) add—The consideration of marriage is not a valuable consideration in money or money's worth within the meaning of this section. The release by the lady of a bare possibility of future dower or freebench is not a sufficient consideration to exempt the jointure from duty. On the marriage of G. B. with G. C. N. real estates were limited by the father and elder brother of G. B. to the use, that G. C. N. might, in case she survived G. B., receive during her life for her jointure, in lieu and satisfaction of dower and thirds, a yearly rentcharge of 800*l.*, to be issuing thereout, without any deduction or abatement whatsoever on account of or in respect of any taxes, charges, impositions, or assessments already taxed, charged, assessed or imposed, or thereafter to be taxed, charged, or imposed, on the hereditaments, or on the said annual rentcharge, or on the said G. C. N. or her assigns, in respect thereof, by authority of parliament, or otherwise howsoever. The marriage took effect, and G. B. died after the passing of the Succession Duty Act, in the lifetime of G. C. N. :—Held, first, that the jointure was a succession within the meaning of the 2nd section of the Succession Duty Act, and (reversing the decision of the Master of the Rolls) that it was not exempted from duty by the operation of this section of the Act; and, secondly, that as between G. C. N. and the estates charged with the jointure, she was entitled to receive it free from succession duty (Floyer v. Bankes, 33 L. J. Ch. 1. In error, reversing the decision of the M. R. 32 L. J. Ch. 610).

Vol. 4. p. 652, SUCCESSION DUTY, to 16 & 17 Vict. c. 51, s. 26, "annual value," add—That is present actual annual value, and not possible or prospective annual value (Att.-Gen. v. Earl of Sefton, 32 L. J. Ex. 230).

Vol. 4, p. 661, SUNDAY, to 29 Car. 2, c. 7, s. 1, n. (a), add—A farmer is not within this section (R. v. Silvester, 33 L. J. M. C. 79).

Vol. 4, p. 698, TITHES, to 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 71, s. 42, n. (e), add—Trimmer v. Walsh, 32 L. J. Q. B. 20; reversed on error, Ib. 364.

Vol. 4, p. 761, TOWNS IMPROVEMENT, to 10 & 11 Vict. c. 34, s. 49, add—Commissioners under this Act are liable to an action, in their corporate capacity, at the suit of a person who has suffered damage from a highway, within the limits of the defendants' special Act, being allowed by them to remain in a dangerous condition (Hartnall v. The Ryde Commissioners, 33 L. J. Q. B. 39).

Vol. 4, p. 761, ——————to sect. 52, add—This imposes on the commissioners elected under the Act the duty of fencing footpaths, if needed for the protection of passengers, and leaves them no discretion, and such commissioners are therefore liable, in their corporate capacity, to an action at the suit of a person injured by the negligent omission to fence a footpath (Ohrby v. Ryde Commissioners, 33 L. J. Q. B. 106).

Vol. 4, p. 791, TRUSTEES, to 10 & 11 Vict. c. 96, n. (a), add—In re Barber's Will, 32 L. J. Ch. 709.

Vol. 4, p. 794, ——— to 12 & 13 Vict. c. 74, add—Three trustees were possessed of a fund, which it was desirable to pay into court. One of the trustees being invalided, the other two petitioned, under this Act, for leave to pay in the fund. The order was made (In re Broadwood, 8 L. T. N. S. 632—V. C. K.).

Vol. 4, p. 798, ——— to 13 & 14 Vict. c. 60, s. 15, add—A mortgagee in fee, by an instrument in the form of a trust for sale dying intestate as to mortgaged estates, and his heir not being known, is sufficiently a trustee to enable the court, on the petition of his executors, to make a vesting order (In re Keeler, 9 Jur. N. S. 95; 32 L. J. Ch. 101—V. C. K.).

Semble, the court has no jurisdiction to make a vesting order, as to leaseholds, where the surviving trustee, who had died intestate, had not proved the will, or acted in the trusts, and no administration had been taken out to his estate (In re Robinson, 9 Jur. N. S. 885; 11 W. R. 1035; 9 L. T. N. S. 12 —R.).

Vol. 4, p. 809, TRUSTEES, to 22 & 23 Vict. c. 35, s. 30, n. (a), add—The court will not give its opinion on an hypothesis; therefore, when a petition was presented to obtain the advice of the court as to the mode in which calls not yet made on account of shares specificially bequeathed by a testator were to be met, the court ordered the petition to stand over till the call had been actually made (In re Box, 11 W. R. 945—V. C. W.).

Vol. 4, p. 931, WILLS, to 1 Vict. c. 26, s. 9, n. (e), add—A will was signed by a testator in the absence of the two attesting witnesses, and the survivor of them negatived an express acknowledgment then, but admitted that the will was on the table, signed, before the testator, and that it was handed over to them to sign. The drawer and the defendant, who were present, swore to an express acknowledgment:—Held, that there was an express acknowledgment; but, besides, that there was enough to constitute a virtual one in law (Todd v. Thompson, 9 L. T. N. S. 177—Ir. Prob.).

Vol. 4, p. 933, ——— to sect. 9, n. (a), add—A. signed her will below the signatures of the attesting witnesses, but before they signed. She afterwards executed a codicil, but signed it after the witnesses who attested it, though on the same occasion. The will held entitled to probate, but the codicil was not (In Goods of Hoskins, 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 158).

Vol. 4, p. 936, ——— to sect. 20, n. (c), add—A testatrix devised real estates, and, by a subsequent deed, attested by two witnesses, she conveyed them on other trusts:—Held, that the deed (assuming it to be void as turpis contractus) was not such a "writing declaring an intention to revoke" the will, as is required by this section, and therefore that the will operated on such estate and interest as she possessed in the property at her death (Forde v. De Pontès—De Pontès v. Kendall, 30 Beav. 572).

Vol. 4, p. 936, ——— to sect. 20, n. (d), add—In 1856, A. duly executed a will, which remained in his custody and possession. In 1861, the draft of a new will was forwarded to him for perusal, but such will was never completed. A few months before his death, in conversation, he referred to the executed will as being still in existence, and at a later period expressed an intention to settle the terms of the new one; he died, however, without carrying out his intention. On his death the draft of the new will was found, but not the executed will:—Held, that as the executed will having been in his possession was not found on his death, the presumption arose that he had destroyed it animo revocandi; and that, as no evidence was forthcoming to rebut that presumption he died intestate (In Goods of Mitcheson, 6 Jur. N. S. 360; 32 L. J. P. M. & A. 202).

Vol. 4, p. 947, ——— to 17 & 18 Vict. c. 113, s. 1, n. (c), add—But it does not apply to leaseholds (Solomon v. Solomon, 33 L. J. Ch. 473).

Vol. 4, p. 947, ——— to sect. 1, n. (e), add—Devises of a real estate which had been mortgaged by the testator, held entitled to have the mortgage paid out of the other real and the personal estate devised for payment of debts, notwithstanding this Act (Newman v. Wilson, 31 Beav. 33).

By will, made in 1847, a testator, after directing payment of his debts out of his personal estate, bequeathed the residue to his daughter, who pre-deceased him without issue. He also devised his real estate to trustees, for the benefit of his daughter and her children, with a gift over. The real estate was subject to a mortgage. In 1861, he made another testamentary disposition, but it made no reference to the former will, and only contained the bequest of a legacy. The devisee claimed to have his real estate exonerated from the mortgage debt:—Held, that the testamentary instrument of 1861 did not bring the will within the operation of this Act, and, therefore, the devisee was entitled to have the estate exonerated out of the personalty (Rolfe v. Perry, 9 Jur. N. S. 853; 32 L. J. Ch. 471; 11 W. R. 674; 8 L. T. N. S. 441—C.).

Vol. 4, p. 967, HABEAS CORPUS, to 25 Vict. c. 20, add—The Isle of Man is not a foreign dominion of the Crown within the meaning of this Act, and the writ of habeas corpus ad subjiciendum may issue out of the English courts to that island (In re Brown, 33 L. J. Q. B. 193). Quære, whether in order to bring a colony or foreign dominion of the Crown within that enactment, it must have a court capable of issuing the writ of habeas corpus itself, or whether any analogous process would be sufficient (Ib.).
